THE NAME OF MOTHER.

[What a world of care, pleasure and anxiety is wrapped up in that one word MOTHER! What a sacred and yet what a lightly spoken name. It embodies, or rather enshrines, all our earthly recollections, and is as a sun to illumine the stirring little universe of our young life. As we turn back our gaze from the cares and responsibilities of manhood and parentage, we see that gentle being watching over all our joys and sorrows like the spirit of omnipresent vigilance and love, which leads us to double diligence, that we may repay upon our children the debt we can in no other way reply to her. The following home-stanzas are too good and too true to be lost, and to the nervous and impatient mother we commend the moral.]

LITTLE THINGS.

BY FRANCES D. GAGE.

O! mother, get my bonnet, do,
I want to go and play;
And hurry, mother, tie my shoe,
Or sis will run away.

O! mother, do untie this string,
It is a hateful knot:
And tell me where I put my sling—
I really have forgot.

Mother, see here, my dress is loose,
I wish you'd hook it up;
Oh dear, I want a drink so bad;
Ma, take me down the cup.

Mother, I want a long, strong string,
To make my kite fly high;
Give me more paper for the tail,
I'll make it reach the sky.

I've cut my finger, mother—oh!
Do tie a rag upon it;
And, mother, here—do sew this string
Again upon my bonnet.

And mother, sew this button on
My pants—see how they look;
And mother, stick these leaves
Into my spelling book.

Oh! mother, mother, comb my hair
And wash my face right clean;
We girls are all a-going to walk
To-night upon the green.

To-night, just after school, you know—
The mistress said we might;
And, mother, I must have some cakes,
And cheese, to fix things right.

Oh! mother, pick these stitches up—
I've dropp'd a half a score—
And see, there's one all ravelled down
A dozen rounds or more.

Mother, where is my jumping-rope?
Mother, where is my hat?
Mother, come hither, I've killed my house.
Mother, John plagues the cat.

Thus hour by hour and day by day,
These little things intrude,
Till many a mother's anxious heart
Is weary and subdued.

And to her ever-troubled ear
The sacred name of mother,
By being ever dwelt upon,
Sounds worse than any other.

But let each mother pause and think
How much she has at stake;
How many thousand tiny drops
It takes to fill a lake.

Remember that her noisy boy
A statesman bold may be;
And, strong in truth and right, may teach
A nation to be free.

With glowing words of eloquence
Maintain Jehovah's plan,
Till vice shall hide its head for shame,
And nations bless the man.

Or, when her head is growing grey,
That daughter, kind and true,
With feeling heart and ready hand
Her "little things" will do.

Let these reflections nerve and cheer
Each weary, fainting one,
With patient hope to do her work;
Till all her work is done.

For not on earth can there be found,
Through all life's varied plan,
A nobler, greater work than hers,
Who rears an honest man.

Varieties.

CRAVATS.—Professor Hamilton's remarks at the Buffalo Medical College on asphyxia, and particularly that from caused by wearing tight cravats may be of interest to the general reader.

Cravats were first worn by the Croats in the sixteenth century, as a part of their military dress.

Public speakers, members of congress, and clergymen, have literally hung themselves by wearing cravats and stocks, high and tight, thereby impeding the return of blood from the head; this can be explained on physiological principles; the brain, in speaking, is excited to increased action, a larger quantity of blood is sent to the surface, and unless it can find a ready return, produces congestion and apoplexy.

Students are not altogether free from the effects of this ligation of the neck. It is surprising how little pressure is necessary to prevent the ready flow of blood from the head; those who bend their heads forward, as in writing or studying, are apt to feel a dizziness and heaviness in the head which loosing their cravats or collars altogether relieves, and the mind returns to its original clearness. In clergymen, who are particularly prone to bundle their necks with large cravats, bronchitis is induced, and the vocal chords become relaxed as the consequence. Men who speak extemporaneously can speak longer and with greater ease than those who read, as their voice is not confined as much to one key, and can be modulated with greater freedom.—Albany Register.

SALT PORK FOR SUMMER USE.—In packing pork for summer use, add to each layer of pork, a sprinkling of fine ground black pepper. I put about two pounds of pepper to a barrel of side pork containing about 400 pounds. It has been known-keeper for nearly forty years, and I can truly say, that I never had pork keep so sweet and fine. We are now using old pork, as good, as if it had not been put over a month. ¸O. F. Marshall.—Cultivator.

HAPPY WOMEN.—The higher order of Russian priests cannot marry at all; one of inferior order can only marry a maiden. If his wife die, he cannot marry again, and can seldom retain his parish, but must retire, and end his days in a cloister. For this reason the priests exercise the greatest care in the selection of a wife, her loss being irreparable, and forever banishing him to the silent loneliness of a cloister cell. With regard to conjugal tenderness and devotion, the pastor's wife is, consequently, the happiest in the country.

DIVINITY.—A minister was recovering from a dangerous illness, when one of his friends addressed him thus: "Sir, though the Almighty seems to be bringing you up from the very gates of death, yet it will be a long time before you will sufficiently retrieve your strength and regain vigour enough of mind to preach as usual." The good man answered: "You are mistaken, my friend; for this six weeks' illness has taught me more divinity, than my past studies and my ten years' ministry put together."

A Vermont farmer says that during the late freshet, the sap in the maple sugar trees riz so high that it all spilt in the clouds, and has rained maple sugar ever since.

COMMISSARIAT, P. E. Island, 10th May, 1852.

TENDERS will be received at this Office, until noon on Wednesday, 19th instant, from persons desirous of performing the undermentioned work for the service of the Royal Engineer's Department at this station, viz.:—

1. Renewing the wooden ground-Platform for Three Guns at George's Battery.
2. Renewing Sashes in the Field Battery Store-house.
3. Renewing Sashes and Frames in the Officer's Quarters.

Parties tendering for the above work may obtain all further requisite information relative thereto, upon application at the Office of Mr. E. H. Gosset, the acting Barrack Master.

The Tenders, (printed forms of which can be obtained at this Office,) must state the price, in Sterling, for which each separate work will be performed. And none will be noticed, unless accompanied with a guarantee from two responsible persons for the due performance of such Contract as may be founded thereon.

Payment will be made by the Commissariat, upon the due performance of the work, in Silver Money at the army rate, in liquidation of the Drafts of the Ordnance Officer, on the work being approved by the Royal Engineer, or Officer appointed by him to inspect the same.

HERE IS YOUR REMEDY!
HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

A MOST MIRACULOUS CURE OF BAD LEGS, AFTER YEARS' SUFFERING.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. William Galpin, of 70, Saint Mary's Street, Weymouth, dated May 15, 1851.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

SIR,—At the age of 18 my wife (who is now 61) caught a violent cold, which settled in her legs, and ever since that time they have been more or less sore, and greatly inflamed. Her ankles were distracting, and for months together she was deprived entirely of rest and sleep. Every remedy that medical men advised was tried, but without effect; her health suffered severely, and the state of her legs was terrible. I had often read your Advertisements, and advised her to try your Pills and Ointment; and, as a last resource, after every other remedy had proved useless, she consented to do so. She continued six weeks ago, and, strange to relate, is now in good health. Her legs are painless, without seam or scar, and her sleep sound and undisturbed. Could you have witnessed the sufferings of my wife during the last 43 years, and contrast them with her present enjoyment of health, you would indeed feel delighted in having been the means of so greatly alleviating the sufferings of a fellow creature.

(Signed) WILLIAM GALPIN.

A PERSON 70 YEARS OF AGE CURED OF A BAD LEG, OF THIRTY YEARS' STANDING.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Wm. Abbs, Builder of Gas Ovens, of Rushcliffe, near Huddersfield, dated May 31, 1851.

To Professor HOLLOWAY.

SIR,—I suffered for a period of thirty years from a bad leg, the result of two or three different accidents at Gas Works; accompanied by scorbutic symptoms. I had recourse to a variety of medical advice, without deriving any benefit, and was even told that the leg must be amputated; yet, in opposition to that opinion, your Pills and Ointment have effected a complete cure in so short a time, that few who had not witnessed it would credit the fact.

(Signed) WILLIAM ABBS.

The truth of this statement can be verified by Mr. W. P. England, Chemist, 13, Market Street, Huddersfield.

A DREADFUL BAD BREAST CURED IN ONE MONTH.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. Frederick Turner, of Penshurst, Kent, dated December 13, 1851.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

DEAR SIR,—My wife had suffered from Bad Breasts for more than six months, and during the whole period had the best medical attendance, but all to no use. Having before healed an awful wound to my own leg by your unrivalled medicine, I determined again to use your Pills and Ointment, and therefore gave them a trial in her case, and fortunate it was, I did so, for in less than a month a perfect cure was effected, and the benefit that various other branches of my family have derived from their use is really astonishing. I now strongly recommend them to all my friends.

(Signed) FREDRICK TURNER.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF A DANGEROUS SWELLING OF THE KNEE.

Copy of a letter from John Porter, an Agriculturist, residing at Newborough, near Hexham, dated May 1, 1851.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

SIR,—I was afflicted with a swelling on each side of the leg, rather above the knee, for nearly two years, which increased to a great size. I had the advice of three eminent Surgeons here, and was an inmate of the Newcastle Infirmary for four weeks. After various modes of treatment had been tried, I was discharged as incurable, having heard so much of your Pills and Ointment, I determined to try them, and in less than a month, I was completely cured, and to a more remarkable I was engaged twelve hours a day in the Hay Harvest, and although I have followed my laborious occupation throughout the winter, I have had no return whatever of my complaint.

(Signed) JOHN FORFAR.

AN INFLAMMATION IN THE SIDE PERFECTLY CURED.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Francis Arnot, of Broahouse, Lothian Road, Edinbro', dated April 29th, 1851.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

SIR,—For more than twenty years my wife has been subject, from time to time to attacks of inflammation in the side, for which she was bled and blistered to a great extent; still the pain could not be removed. About four years ago, she saw in the papers, the wonderful cures effected by your Pills and Ointment, and thought she would give them a trial. To her great astonishment and delight, she got immediate relief from their use, and after persevering for three weeks, the pain in her side was completely cured, and she has enjoyed the best of health for the last four years.

(Signed) FRANCIS ARNOT.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:—
