

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

UNUSUAL BARAINS at DEER DROPS. A. O. H.—Regular meeting this evening. GRAND MOONLIGHT EXCURSION to-morrow night on the return from Moncton.

WELL DONE.—Great George Street, between Richmond and Dorchester Streets, is being macadamized.

TEA at MILTON.—Look out for the tea in the Milton Church Building Fund on Dominion Day.

THE GENTLE "Figs" Serves seem to be the rage just now for gentlemen's suits. Stamp's "Figs," on every 21 yards.

SOLD FOR RENT.—The effects of the Hamilton Lodge of Protestant Protective Association have been sold for rent.

THE ADVANTAGE of the excursion of the season to Moncton by the new Souda's famous land. Round trip only $2.50. Summerside $1.75.

TEA.—If you wish to meet your friends, no matter in what part of the Province they reside, go to the Mammoth Jubilee Tea to be held at Morell on Wednesday 26th. June.

CRICKET.—Stumps pitched tomorrow for a scratch match at 2 p. m. The match with Moncton has gone off, as they telegraph that grounds are unfit for play.

LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONING.—It is expected that the Montreal and Toronto long distance telephone line will be completed in September, the distance being 400 miles.

GREAT DAMAGE.—A tornado's wind swept over the St. Lawrence river portion of Moncton on Saturday night, doing great damage at many points. The damage to crops is great.

HORSES.—The old reliable horse-buyer Oliver Mason, shipped from the Revere Hotel stables yesterday morning seventeen of the finest draft horses and drivers sent here from this year. He took them to Gardner, Me.

Don't FORGET the excursion of Moncton to-morrow. It is now an assured success. Persons desirous of remaining over in Moncton until Monday can do so. Tickets will be made good for return on Monday "for the asking."

BUILDING LOTS.—The building lots of the Palmer estate on Upper Queen Street were offered at auction to-day by A. McNeill, but only one was sold. The lot fronting on Queen Street was purchased by Mr. Charles Hermann for $215. The lots fronting on Fitzroy Street were reserved.

TO BOSTON.—The Olivette left for Boston this afternoon with a general cargo and the following passengers:—Mr. Dan, Mrs. Higgins, Ed. Gillis, Peter Walsh, Peter McLeod, J. M. Matheson, Angus A. Gillis, Malcolm J. Stewart, Norman A. Stewart, Bessie Byrne, Millie McLean, Mrs. Higgins, Miss Frosser, Walter Kelly, Flora Stewart, Jeanette Hunter.

THE WATCHMAN.—The Watchman yesterday entered upon the sixth year of its publication. The next number of the journal will be issued from new quarters in the northern half of the Italian Warehouse building, on Queen street. Additional improvements will be made in the paper, but there will be no change in its tone. The EXAMINER wishes the Watchman continued success.

HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE.—The students of St. Dunstan's College to the number of forty or fifty visited the Hospital for the Insane a few evenings ago and were kindly received and shown through the institution by Mr. Phelan and his assistants. Before leaving the students treated the inmates to an interesting programme of vocal and instrumental music, which was greatly appreciated by all.

THE DROWNED.—Up to the present time, no news has reached us of the recovery of the body of Theodore Carr, who was lost from his fishing boat off Stanhope, on Thursday last. It is thought that the body will probably rise on Saturday or Sunday next, and the neighbors of Mr. David Carr, the young man's father, have arranged to be on the lookout along the coast on these days. The recovery of the body will be a satisfaction to the grateful parents, and it is hoped that all along the North Side, wherever there is a possibility of the body floating ashore, the owners of boats will assist in the search. A great deal of regret is expressed by all who knew the young man, for his untimely death.

WALKED FROM ST. JOHNS.—Various towns in Washington County, Maine, saw a curious expedition in progress last week. A man and woman, both well along in years, were trudging steadily along the country roads, the man pushing a wheelbarrow loaded with what appeared to be bedding. His wife bringing up the rear carrying a lunch wrapped in a red bannana. They occasionally halted by the roadside, brewed and partook of the cup that cheers, but not inebriates; then filled their pipes and had a social smoke. They claimed to have walked from St. John, and were going to Bangor looking for work. They seemed to be contented with their lot, and to feel as though their lines had fallen in pleasant places.—Globe.

FROM BOSTON.—The steamer Olivette arrived from Boston yesterday afternoon with a general cargo and the following passengers:—John Knicker, Jas. Clair, Alice O'Donovan, W. W. Fisher, F. Miller, Miss Stewart, Mrs. McNamee, Constina McKenzie, Ann M. Vay, Mrs. C. Bruce, Ann McDonald, L. A. Curry, Eliza McKenzie, Katie Thompson, Alice Thompson, Mrs. A. A. Barr, Mrs. J. Ruff, Mrs. Walker, Dr. Walker, Mrs. F. McDonald, Mrs. F. O'Brien, Miss E. A. Douglas, Miss E. Nell, J. H. Wyatt, Ellen Foley, Hattie Dixon, Mrs. McLeod, L. B. Sellar, Katie McCarty, Elsie Brown, Clara W. Fraser, Carrie Barrett, Eva McLeod, Constina M. Gillis, Mary Jenkins, Ellen McDonald, Sarah Matheson, Kate Dixon, W. H. Hastings, Mrs. Sargent, Mrs. A. G. Young, Miss C. Bruce and Mrs. D. A. Laine.

GENERAL TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

READSFORD, Pa., June 5.—The settlement of Coon Run, Erie County, containing twenty-five houses, is reported completely wiped out by forest fire. Five lives said to be lost.

OTTAWA, June 5.—The act respecting Judges will be amended by a Government bill, which provides that if Judges should have served fifteen years, or have permanent infirmity, resign their office. Her Majesty may grant an annuity for the balance of their life equal to two thirds of their salary.

PARIS, June 5.—General Duchesne, commander of French Troops in Madagascar, has sent from Tamative a cable dispatch, saying there is much sickness among the men forming the garrison at that town and fresh troops are urgently needed to take the place of those disabled.

LONDON, June 5.—A despatch from Constantinople says a panic prevailed in Jiddah, and Europeans there have taken refuge on board foreign vessels in the harbor, fearing they will be attacked by Belouids.

LONDON, June 5.—The Pall Mall Gazette, in an article on the Armenian situation, expresses the belief that Russia behind the Sultan and that there is little chance for any of the powers to spread their strength to protect such a race as the Armenians. Therefore, the Gazette says, Englishmen ought to listen to a far-sighted statement like Lord Salisbury's and not give heed to Turcophile zealots who are going about blindfolded in chaos. The St. James Gazette says: "This Armenian business is not really as serious as newspaper agents declare it to be."

LONDON, June 5.—The Sultan of Johore died in this city this morning. The Sultan came into notoriety in 1893 through a breach of promise suit brought against him in London under the name of "Mrs. Albert Baker" by a Miss Toole. The Sultan was in his case on the ground that he was a reigning sovereign, and therefore, the English courts had no jurisdiction over him.

LONDON, June 5.—The Standard's correspondent at Constantinople reports on great authority that the Porte's reply to the powers is tantamount to a refusal on the main points of their proposal, namely the nomination of a high commissioner on Armenian affairs. The Porte proposes merely to apply in Armenia the reforms contained in the Aristich code, which have been nominally operative for the past half a century. There is little doubt, the correspondent says, that such acceptance will be refused, extreme measures will be taken by the powers. The Standard today says: "The situation is grave in the extreme. Europe will no longer be fooled by a rascal's promises. The Sultan must accept the recommendations of the powers or they may, Armenia will be severed from the Ottoman empire."

PERSONAL.

Dr. Doyle, of Vernon River, is in the city.

PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY.—The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada meets in London, Ont., on Wednesday, June 12th. Maritime commissioners will travel in a special sleeping car from Moncton, leaving on Monday, the 10th.

A LESSON IN BOILER-MAKING.

Sir.—In your paper of Monday there is a letter from Bruce Stewart & Co., in which he accuses some (as he thinks) single individual who has dared to criticize the boiler imported for Hillsborough cheese factory, over three different assumed names, and particularly call upon "One Who Knows" to tell what marine inspection laws have got to do with these factories. We will inform him and all concerned that the rules laid down in these laws are the standard for all good workmanship and material, and all boiler-makers who claim to be first-class, endeavor to conform to these rules as near as circumstances will permit, and I again say that a boiler with a cast-iron plate in the construction of it would be considered a very inferior job. In fact, I do not think that any inspector, under these rules, would have anything to do with it at all. If there was no intention of denying the statement made by "Observer," why has there been all this quibbling over it. I believe that Bruce Stewart & Co. intended that the very evasive letter signed "Patron" should be accepted by the public as their answer. At the same time, the bolting of brackets being the practice of the very best boiler makers in Canada, I don't say it. No one aspiring to the name of first-class boiler maker would do otherwise when, by riveting them, they form a closer and more perfect joint. The reference made to the P. E. Island Railway is useless for the purpose intended, as, in the comparison between the dome-shaped in question and the cover of a locomotive dome, which cannot properly be termed a dome at all. I deny that here, or in locomotives it is the universal custom to bolt on brackets. It may be here, or even in Ireland. But that does not make it universal. The insinuations contained in the latter part of the letter I would not notice were they not so directly aimed against me personally. I know well that Bruce Stewart never was one mile from Charlottetown in his life to see anything done, that to make no reference to them would be unjust to myself and to my employers. Sir, the making of a bolt is a very small matter, but not being in my line of work, and I do not believe that it is mine or any other man's right to usurp the place of another tradesman, I here say that my nine years as foreman boiler maker for McKinnon & McLean, I have never done anything in boiler making that would have been afraid to let the inspector or the owners see me doing. Sir, I have a recommendation from the former as well as the present inspector, for my good workmanship, a fact which Bruce Stewart & Co. well know when he used the name of being foreman in the advertisement that he put in the paper. I have a recommendation from McKinnon & McLean (a position he never held) to obtain a boiler to build and did obtain it. That recommendation, as for caulking rivet heads cold, I have done many times with the inspector and the owners watching, and I hope to do so many times again, having no intention of deceiving or covering up bad workmanship, but necessary piece of work and a thing which Bruce Stewart knows nothing about. He has now published his ignorance of the business by calling attention to what I do the world over and what everybody knows who has had any experience with steam boilers is absolutely necessary at times, and what, I have no doubt, has been done on this twenty-year behind-the-date boiler.

CHARLES WEBSTER, Boiler maker.

ROCKY POINT FERRY.

Sir,—Quite a number of people from the west end of the city go over to Rocky Point and vicinity, during the summer months with their families, as well as picnic excursionists. For many years there has been a sail-boat on this route, but she has been driven off by the ferry lately, which now runs more frequently than hitherto. Now, it is nearly a mile's walk from the west end of the town to the ferry wharf—very tiresome in hot weather.

I would suggest to the Minister of Public Works, that the West River and Rocky Point ferry steamer should call at Connolly's wharf going and returning from Rocky Point, say at least twice a day both ways, for the convenience of the public. There would be no trouble at all in doing so. She could take up and land passengers at the head of the wharf at any time of tide, and there would not be five minutes' delay, and it would certainly add to the earnings of the steamer.

THE YOUNG MOTHER AND THE BABE.

Young mother, it is necessary that you should use a prepared food for your babe? If you are obliged to do so, remember that the life of your darling depends upon your decision—we mean the character of food you select.

There are prepared and artificial foods that should never be brought into a home; their use means sickness, suffering and death to the young child.

The attention of every young mother is directed to life-giving and flesh-building Lactated Food, which is a perfect substitute for mother's milk. This pure and unadulterated food agrees with the weakest stomach; it is easily assimilated, and is a perfect corrector of digestion. Babies thrive fast, grow fat and plump, hearty and happy when fed on Lactated Food.
