Veteran Salvationist Recalls Boyhood

The following item appeared recently in The War Cry: "Two veteran officers, Brigadier and Mrs. F. Knight (R), Toronto, recently celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary. Mayor L. Saunders and Mrs. Saunders attended one of the gatherings held in their honour at Brock Avenue hall, Toronto.

"The Brigadier recalls that he as a teen-age lad in Charlottetown, played in the 82nd Battalion Band at the time of the Riel rebellion. Later, he played in Lippincott, Toronto, Band - then one of the strongest in the Dominion. With immigrants from the British Isles pouring into the country, including Salvationist-musicians, the combination took on the appearance of the rainbow, with many and varied tunes and braids. They were colorful times indeed! The Brigadier later played trombone in an instrumental party attached to the Staff Songsters, and also in the Staff Band that functioned for a year or two during the First World War.

"The following telegram was received by the Brigadier. 'The Queen sends you warm congratulations and good wishes on your diamond wedding day.' - Private Secretary." (Brigadier Knight lived as a boy on Upper Hillsboro Street, Mrs. S. B. Crockett, Pitrooy Street, Sgt. Major of the local Corps, has chatted with the veteran Salvationist on several occasions when in Toronto on Army work, who recalled with pleasure his youthful pleasures in joint ownership of a sailing yacht in Charlottetown harbour.)

C. D. Howe Sails Early Today

The "C. D. Howe" Government icebreaker left Charlottetown this morning on her last fall tour before undertaking the northern voyage next spring. Captain Paul Fournier has had many trips to the Far North and on each occasion has had a variety of observations to make.

An interesting incident occurred while the "C. D. Howe" was on its return visit to Charlottetown. The motor vessel "Stork" was in serious difficulties off the coast of Newfoundland and all ships in that area were alerted. Captain Fournier was among the ships' masters who received the distress message and he had actually started on the relief escort - only to be informed that the ship was making port - otherwise.

A trip on the "C. D. Howe" is never without incident. After leaving Charlottetown about three weeks ago "The Howe" ran into what was termed by Captain Fournier some of the roughest weather that he has ever experienced. Part of the cargo which was lashed on deck became afloat and it was with difficulty that his supply mission was accomplished.

Accompanying Captain Fournier on this latest mission was Mrs. Fournier who is intensely interested in the welfare of the Eskimo people. Mrs. Fournier says, "it would be a mistake to take the Eskimo people out of their natural environment and make an attempt to make them aware of the North American way of life."

"The moral standing and code of ethics among the Eskimo people is an example which white men might well follow," said Mrs. Fournier. "If the Eskimo people have any bad traits, they could well have been learned by their associations with those who have moved into the North Country," she said. Captain Fournier is very respectful of the intelligence possessed by those northern inhabitants, but he would be cautious making any suggestions regarding a change in their way of life."

There is still room for one or more additional teams according to Mr. Kays and groups interested are asked to call the "Y" or attend the Monday meeting.

year-old Yugoslav refugee. If convicted, he could have received the death penalty.

Annual Meeting Charlottetown Credit Union

President Cletus Murphy in his report of the Board of Directors on Thursday evening, November 18, 1954, stated that over $6000.00 had been saved by members since October 1, 1953, and that the membership had reached 265. He stressed the benefits of insurance on loans and savings, and cited the case of a deceased member whose insurance amounted to almost $700.00, over twice the amount actually paid in annual premiums.

The financial report, given by J. J. MacMillan, showed that the assets had grown to over $25,000. A dividend of 2 1/2% was declared on shares.

The report of the Credit Committee by D. Lester MacInnis indicated that 135 loans amounting to over $16,000 had been made to members for provident purposes. Miss Dorothy Cullen presented the report of the Supervisory Committee.

Most of the members present felt that more advertising of the benefits of Credit Unions was necessary and urged the Directors to take active steps during the coming year to acquaint more people with the principles and advantages of Credit Unions.

Messrs. Ben J. Gallant, J. G. Dennis, and Leo Corcoran of the P.E.I. Credit Union League were called upon to speak to the meeting. Each of these gentlemen complimented the society on the progress made last year and felt that the gain of 39 new members and the increasing of assets from $19,000.00 to $25,000.00 was no mean accomplishment.

The following members were elected to the various committees: Directors: Floyd Buell, Merrill MacAlduff, Harold MacKay. Credit Committee: Wilfred Driscoll. Supervisory Committee: J. Lincoln Dewar, J. A. S. Williams. Membership Committee: Claude MacKay, Ernest Vail, Roy Matheson. Board of Governors of Charlottetown Chapter of Credit Unions: Mrs. Elizabeth Willett, Rev. William Simpson. Insurance Committee: Warren L. Gregory, Norman MacKay.

Three door prizes each of $5.00 worth of groceries drawn by Mr. J. G. Dennis, were won by Miss Dorothy Cullen, Richard Hennessey, and Rev. William Simpson.

Tangle Over Red China, Narcotics

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) - The United States and the Soviet Union tangled in the UN over Red China and narcotics Friday. The clash came after Mrs. Oswald B. Lord told the social committee the "origin of much of the narcotics seized in illicit traffic can be traced to Communist China."

"When one takes into consideration the all-embracing controls in effect in a police state such as Communist China," she added, "one cannot but conclude that there is at least official complicity."

When Mrs. Lord finished speaking Russia's G. F. Saksin took the floor for a point of order and accused Mrs. Lord of making a "landslide and mendacious" attack on the Chinese people. He accused her of "taking advantage of the fact the lawful representative of the Chinese people is not seated in the United Nations."

The Soviet Union has long pressed for the admission of Red China to the United Nations to replace the government of Chiang Kai-shek. Saksin said illicit narcotics trade had flourished in China while "foreign interests, including American imperialists" were in that country. "Since the people seized power," he said, "laws prohibit the manufacture or trade of drugs except for medical purposes."

Nurses Alumni Monthly Meeting

The regular meeting of the Prince Edward Island Hospital Nurses Alumni was held last night at the Cundal Home, with a fairly large attendance present. The president, Mrs. Keith MacKinnon, presided. The meeting was opened by repeating the Lord's prayer in unison.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Miss Florence MacLean, and approved. Satisfying reports were heard from the various committees. A most gratifying report was received from the recent highly successful cake sale.

An amendment was made that the meeting will be held on the third Friday of each month. The annual Nurses Alumni prize of $10 was given to Miss Beatrice Mair who had the highest standing in the R.N. examinations. Following the business a very entertaining program was presented and thoroughly enjoyed.

Hostesses Mrs. Lois MacDonald, Miss B. Tweedy, Miss Etta Coles and Mrs. Keith MacKinnon then served a delicious lunch.

Will Start Pouring Concrete Today

Work on the new Federal building moves into another phase early this morning when workmen start pouring concrete in the south-west base wall forms.
