

When the children are hungry, what do you give them? Food.

When thirsty? Water.

Now use the same good common sense, and what would you give them when they are too thin? The best fat-forming food, of course.

Somehow you think of Scott's Emulsion at once.

For a quarter of a century it has been making thin children, plump; weak children, strong; sick children, healthy.

For Business Men

The Two Guests.

Worry and Fret were two little men They knocked at my door again and again; "Oh Pray let us in, but to tarry a night, And we will be off with the dawning of light." At last moved to pity. I opened the door To shelter these travelers, hungry and poor; But when on the morrow, I bade them Adieu," They said quite unmoved, "We'll tarry with you." And, deaf to entreaty, and callous to threat, These troublesome guests abide with me yet.

Promptness in filling mail orders is a commendable virtue and always has a favorable reaction upon the advertiser who employs it. The prompt filling of all orders is much more likely to bring a second order, than is any annoying delay.—Our Silent Partner.

Every dealer, whether he be a druggist or drys good merchant, will keep in his stock what the people want if he is a shrewd storekeeper. The thing for the manufacturer of any commodity to do is to make his consumers want his goods, by advertising. I believe in all kinds of advertising that will get or keep the people's attention.—H. Where Little Things Count.

Bookkeeping has been reduced to such an exact science in the big metropolitan banks that the clerks are expected to strike a correct balance at the close of each day's work no matter if the transactions have run into the millions of dollars. When the books fail to balance, the whole force of the bank is put to work to discover the error, and no clerk starts for home until it is discovered, whether it amounts to two cents or $200. Generally a quarter of an hour will bring the mistake to light, but sometimes the hunt is kept up until late into the night.

Such a search was being conducted in a New York bank located in the vicinity of Wall street. Forty-five cents were missing. At six o'clock not a trace of the errant sum had been discovered. Dinner was sent in for the whole force from an adjoining restaurant, and after half an hour's rest the search was again taken up. Midnight came, but still no clew, so sandwiches and coffee were served.

"Hello!" said a clerk. "The Bank National people are working to-night too. Guess they're in the same box." Sure enough, the windows of the bank across the street were brilliantly lighted. The incident was soon forgotten when the wearying hunt after that elusive forty five cents was resumed. Shortly after one o'clock in the morning, as they were about to give up for the night, a loud rapping was heard at the front door of the bank.

"Hello! Hello! What's the matter?" called the cashier through the key-hole. "Matter, you chumps. Why we've got your blamed forty-five cents! Come along home to bed!"

Outside stood the crowd of clerks from the neighboring bank. It appeared that, in making a cash transaction, one of the banks had paid the other forty-five cents too much. As a result half a hundred men had worked for nine hours, and the search was only ended then because a bright clerk, noticing the light in the bank opposite, shrewdly guessed the cause, hunted up the cash slip, and discovered the error.—Harper's Round Table.

Absentmindedness.

The things Hixon does during his frequent attacks of absentmindedness are of a character that gives his friends grave fears regarding his lunacy. The other day he came out of his house, walked to the edge of the pavement, threw his leg into the air with a vaulting movement, and fell sprawling to the ground.

A friend who came along in time to witness this singular performance said to him:

"Why, Hixon, what in time do you mean by such a performance?"

Hixon got up, brushing the dirt from his garments, and rubbing his bruises, while he said:

"Well, I thought I was getting on my wheel, and, hang it all, I forgot that I didn't have my wheel with me."—Harper's Bazar.

At a meeting of the London retail grocers the other day, the trading stamps and premium question was discussed, and the feeling was that if the system was abolished entirely it would be beneficial to the trade and their customers, as there is more or less dissatisfaction caused through this system of doing business. No one, it was contended, could give as good a value in goods and give premiums or stamps as well, and no one can expect to get something for nothing. Their was either a loss to the dealer, or the customer paid for the stamps or premiums.

The Danger of

PILES

Too frequently overlooked, Dr. Chase's Ointment a Prompt and Positive Cure.

The suffering caused by the intense itching and burning sensations of piles is only one of the horrors of this disease, for there is always great danger of piles developing into fistula, one of the most disgusting diseases imaginable.

Even the great danger and expense of an operation are preferable to running the risk of contracting this most loathsome of diseases.

But there is no necessity for a surgical operation for piles. Dr. Chase's Ointment is guaranteed to cure any case of piles, no matter of how long standing, or how aggravated the case may be, so long as piles have not become fistula.

It is only by rare chance that internal treatment will cure piles. But it matters not from what cause they arise, Dr. Chase's Ointment will at once stop the itching and burning, and soon effect a perfect cure.

You can use Dr. Chase's Ointment with fullest assurance that what has cured scores of thousands of cases of piles will cure you. For sale by all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Listowel Gentleman who has no Complaint to Make Regarding Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Listowel, Ont., July 10.—Mr. Thomas Tamblin of the firm of Tamblin and Clime, grocers, was lately in receipt of a communication from a gentleman in Toronto who is gathering statistics as to cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Some three years ago Mr. Tamblin was troubled with a weak back and severe pain in the kidneys. He used Dodd's Kidney Pills and his trouble was removed. The Toronto enquirer asked if the cure had been satisfactory. Mr. Tamblin took the letter and wrote on the bottom in a firm hand, "The cure was quite satisfactory."
