

The WEEK at S. D. U.

One would almost be inclined to think that extra-curricular activities at St. Dunstan's would be at a minimum this week.

That is not to insinuate that final preparations for the big test are being ignored. Everyone, and that means everyone, is well aware that "this is it".

Outstanding among the week's events was the participation of St. Dunstan's students in the annual Provincial Festival of Music.

Early in the week, the Men's Choir, under the direction of Rev. Lawrence Landrigan, drew much favourable comment for its performance of Motet's arrangement of Palestrina's Bone Jesu.

Also performing in the Festival was the Glee Club, which gave a creditable account of itself in all appearances.

The Glee Club was also scheduled to perform last evening and the results, we feel, will merely add to their successful week.

Three students, Bethany MacDonald, Marjorie MacDonald, and Guy Germain, performed individually during the week.

The only athletic activity on the campus, except a bit of softball here and there, was created by the basketball team when they posed for their picture and elected next year's captain.

Examinations have not curtailed social events, if one were to judge by last week's functions and anticipated functions.

THE GALS I RESCUE

I joined the Air Force

- ... BECAUSE I'm fit, and of the age the Air Force needs.
... BECAUSE I'm Canadian, and want to stay that way.
... BECAUSE there's something about airplanes and the whole business of flying that fascinates me.
... BECAUSE, as a mechanic, I like motors and they like me.
... BECAUSE I realize that the Air Force has an important responsibility these days, and that the men who keep 'em flying are important fellows with an important job.
... BECAUSE I believe that there must be lots of opportunities in the expanding Air Force for a young fellow who wants to make aviation his life's work.

THERE ARE IMMEDIATE OPENINGS FOR MEN TO TRAIN AS AERO-ENGINE, INSTRUMENT, RADIO-RADAR, ARMAMENT AND AIRFRAME TECHNICIANS.
