

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

OCTOBER 15, 1881.

Provincial Exhibition.

We give special prominence to the address presented to His Honor the Lieutenant Governor at the Provincial Exhibition, because it explains the advantages of, and the reasons for, the changes which have recently been made, as well as the means by which they were brought about; and is, therefore, worthy a careful perusal. Some comments, intended for this issue, are crowded out:—

To His Honor Lieutenant Governor HAVILAND, &c., &c. MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONOR.—The Commissioners appointed by your Honor in Council to conduct the Provincial Exhibition of the current year, have much pleasure in welcoming your Honor to this important industrial festival.

They have devoted their best energies to ensure the success of this Exhibition, and have reason to expect that it will prove equal to any of its predecessors in the number and quality of the exhibits for which they have been able to offer prizes.

They have carried into effect most of the suggestions which the experience of former Boards of Commissioners had recommended for example, it had been customary in former years to receive goods intended for competition up to a late hour in the forenoon of Exhibition day, thus leaving scant time for the performance of the judge's duty, and for the effective display of the competing articles in this hall.

To remedy this long felt and often complained of inconvenience, the Commissioners deem it necessary to adopt their 9th rule, requiring competitors to bring on their goods on the afternoon of the day preceding the opening; this condition, obviously required to secure satisfactory awards of prizes, and in principle universally adopted elsewhere, is now tried in this Province for the first time.

The Commissioners attach much importance to its success, as it is manifestly impossible without it to conduct a Provincial Exhibition, except on a scale so small and insignificant as to disappoint public expectation, and afford a very inadequate representation of the wealth and resources of our Province.

The Commissioners have made arrangements for keeping this Exhibition open two days, thus enabling more visitors to attend, and affording more time and opportunity for that thorough and intelligent inspection which may be expected to result in keener competition in succeeding years.

They have also made arrangements in connection with the live stock department, which enable them to provide comfortable shelter, with food at cost price for the animals sent from all parts of the Island. But this great improvement on the Exhibitions of former years, could not have been accomplished, but for the offer of one of the fields of Government farm, which your Honor's thoughtful liberality so considerably placed at the Commissioner's disposal.

The assistance of your Honor's Government in erecting sheds must also be thankfully acknowledged; and thus the success of this and future Exhibitions has to a certain extent been assured.

The Commissioners believe that all classes of our population, but especially the cultivators of the soil, are becoming every year more and more conscious of the necessity for improvement, and that the product of their industry must come into competition in the markets of the world, with those of other, perhaps more genial climes, where, it may be, industry is more highly developed, capital more freely invested, and elaborate machinery more generally employed, they now require the best breeding stock that can be obtained, the most servicable implements and the most productive and hardy seeds and plants of all kinds.

Exhibitions such as this are seen to be means towards the attainment of these desirable objects, and the Commissioner predict that ere long a very general demand will arise for placing them on a more extensive, more generally useful and more attractive basis, than has hitherto been attempted with the small appropriation of one thousand dollars.

The Commissioners have much pleasure in congratulating your Honor on the success of the Island Exhibitors, at the recent Dominion meeting held at Halifax, thus maintaining and increasing the reputation acquired last year, at Montreal, and St. John New Brunswick. If, indeed, a more general stimulus to renewed exertion were required, this recent signal success should induce all classes, each in their own line of business to prepare for future Dominion contests; and thus our Provincial Exhibition of Agricultural and other local industry, regarded as a training school for future triumphs. The Commissioners now request your Honor to inaugurate.

All which is respectfully submitted by the undersigned, R. P. HAYTHORN, Chairman Board of Commissioners, Charlottetown, Oct. 12, 1881.

Parnell's Arrest.

IRELAND'S chief agitator has lately been showing very clearly that his desire and aim is not so much amelioration as disruption; and he has, in consequence, been arrested. The prudence of this step is to be questioned. While such men as Archbishop Croke stand by the Union and the Government, and are satisfied to give the Land Act recently formed, a fair trial, it does not seem likely that the too free speech of such men as Parnell can amount to much in the way of harm. But by imprisoning them, the passions of their followers are excited and much harm may result.

France, viewed from a sanitary point, is one of the most favored countries in the world, yet nearly 1,000,000 persons die there every year. From this it is statistically proved that the daily number of deaths in the world averages 98,790, while the number of births is over 104,000 in twenty-four hours. The timid, who think the earth is going to fill up with people in a very few years and crowd them off, can take courage, as from the latest showing there is an annual increase in population of less than 3,000,000 at the present time.

Competent authority has estimated that the product of all the silver mines of the world, since the discovery of America may be safely set down as follows: From 1492 to 1803 (311 years), $3,352,050,000, from 1803 to 1848 (45 years), $1,568,380,795, from 1848 to 1878 (30 years), $613,400,000, from 1878 to 1880 (2 years), $422,000,000, total $5,953,830,795. Mexico has produced more than half of this vast sum. Since 1863 the United States has been the leading producer.

Educational Association.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON SESSION.

Mr. Dennis, of Margate, gave a lesson in Geography to Miss McKinnon's pupils. G. Gallant, Esq., of Rustico, addressed the Convention, taking for his subject the "Acadian Schools and the necessity of teaching the French language in them." He maintained that being unacquainted with the French deprived us of the means of becoming acquainted with some of the best literature of the world. If the French language has not the most excellent poetry it certainly excels in belles lettres. That the Acadians might the more effectually study and better master the English language, it was not necessary for them to know their own language thoroughly. To attain this end the present greatest need was the prescribing of better French books for the Acadian schools. This, he was glad to learn, was already receiving the attention of the Chief Superintendent of Education.

The next subject introduced was "How to make Schools Pleasant." On this question Miss Eliza Lawson, of Charlottetown, read a well prepared paper. A cheerful disposition on the part of the teacher was the most powerful means of making school pleasant to the little ones. As useful adjuncts the writer recommended the culture of flowers, the adorning of school walls with pictures, etc.

An interesting public meeting was held in the evening.

FRIDAY MORNING SESSION.

Miss Barr gave a reading lesson to her class, exercising them both in simultaneous and individual reading.

P. R. Bowers, Esq., gave an interesting address on "The fine arts as an aid to Education." He contended that the most picturesque sites should be secured for schoolhouses,—that the buildings themselves, should be models of architectural taste,—that the pupils might be taught to cultivate flower plots, in connection with the schools. The study of paintings, and the teaching of painting and drawing were recommended also. The object of this art teaching was to improve the moral part of our nature, and restrain the vicious. Mr. Bowers concluded with a description of a Kindergarten School in Boston, visited by him some time ago.

"A paper read in a hurry," was the title of a paper read by H. Lawson, Esq. As development in the natural world around us—in the plant and tree—was not a hurried process, but gradual, so in the development of the intellect. The aim should be to train it gradually—direct the powers of the mind as they mature. The teacher was frequently discouraged if he did not see great results immediately springing from his efforts, the watchword of teachers should be "be patient," for in due time you will reap if you faint not.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The first duty of the session was to elect the officers for the ensuing year. The following officers were elected:—President, D. Montgomery, Esq., (re-elected.) Vice-Presidents, Miss Eliza Lawson, Miss Janet McPhail, Mr. Dominic Gallant, and Mr. James Cox. Secy-Treas., John McSwain, Esq. Corresponding Secretary, Miss Isabella Miller. Ex Com., Neil McLeod, Esq., Summerside; L. Miller, Esq., Charlottetown; Miss Miss M. McLeod, Charlottetown; M. Smith, Esq., Charlottetown; A. A. McLellan, Esq., Summerside.

Principal McKay, of Pictou Academy, N. S., addressed the Convention, giving an account of the system of instruction that obtained in the Schools of Nova Scotia.

Hon. D. Ferguson in a short address alluded to the benefits to be derived from associations of this kind. He congratulated the teachers on the success of their Association, and hoped the agriculturists of the country would take a leaf from the association book, and unite for the purpose of mutual improvement.

The last paper read before the Association was by T. A. LePage, Esq., entitled "Home Work." For young children little or no home work should be given. As the child advances in life such subjects should be assigned for home tasks as the pupil can comprehend. The practice of merely memorizing what is not understood was one to be deplored, and the results of which must be disastrous.

Vote of thanks were given to the Railway Superintendent for granting reduced rates of travel to delegates, and to the Board of School Trustees for Charlottetown for the use of the building in which the meetings of the Convention were held.

In the evening a social meeting was held, at which addresses were given by Principal McKay, of Pictou, N. S., H. Lawson, Esq., Mr. Lavers, of the St. John Telegraph, Rev. J. M. McLeod, Neil McLeod, Esq., Summerside, and Hon. A. A. McLeod.

Readings were given by Miss Neill, Miss Nellie Lawson, Miss Barr, and T. A. LePage, Esq. The readings were interspersed with excellent music.

Canadian News.

The telephone wires from Toronto to Hamilton are being erected.

Kingston capitalists are organizing a joint stock company for the purpose of constructing a graving dock, to cost seventy thousand dollars, at the Limestone city.

It is reported that an effort is being made at Ottawa to organize a company with a large capital to secure the "Canadian Illustrated News," and conduct it on a larger and better scale.

British Columbia's immense resources, in forest, mine, and sea-pasture, are attracting attention in an increasing degree. Every week some item of information relating to the development of these resources appears to prove that the narrow views of Mr. Blake about that interesting portion of the Dominion only proceeded from inaptitude on his part to weigh with accuracy the various opinions of British Columbia which were adroit at an earlier period in the history of the Dominion. The "sea of mountains," as an early writer, indulging in a flight of imagination, called the country on the western slope of the Rockies, is proving to be rich, wonderfully rich, in all that civilization wants just now.

The first printer in the German city of Frankfurt was Christian Egenolff, born in 1502 and died in 1555 and a tablet has just been erected in his memory in the wall of the house where he worked and where he died.

YESTERDAYS RACE.

An Exciting Contest.

THE DAVIES-ROBINS CREW WINS—OVER TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS CHANGE HANDS.

The match race between the Lavers-Hinch crew, of Halifax, and the Davies-Robins crew, of Charlottetown, for $100 a side, was rowed on the Hillsborough Course yesterday evening at half past four o'clock. A strong wind prevailed until three o'clock; at then the weather gradually calmed, and at four o'clock the referee—Mr. Kad—decided that the race should start immediately. The report that it was to come off spread rapidly, and before the men appeared the Railway Wharf was thronged with spectators. Here betting was lively but in no case were odds given. Those who were in the business estimated that over two thousand dollars changed hands. Halifax men were chiefly the losers.

At half-past four the Lavers-Hinch crew appeared. They were much admired for their able form and graceful stroke. The Davies-Robins crew shortly followed, and were warmly received by all. They appeared to some in better condition than on Wednesday, and were the subject of complimentary remarks from the Nova Scotia sporting men, who one and all agree that the Davies-Robins crew is a good one, and with a little training need not be afraid to compete with the best crews in the Dominion.

The men rowed into line, and received instructions from the referee regarding the conditions of the race. The Lavers-Hinch took the inside position. As the bows stood even, a revolver shot sounded and both dashed off in splendid style, and the Davies-Robins taking a little advantage—perhaps a quarter length. In this position they stood until the quarter mile. Here the course of each boat began to change. The Lavers-Hinch—on the flats—made a "V" line for their buoy, while the Davies-Robins crew—in the current—pulled a good distance out of their course towards Kelly's Cove. A mile was reached, however, and they—pulling thirty-eight strokes to the minute—got three quarters of a length to their credit. But when they shaped their course to round the buoy it was evident they had lost three or four boat lengths by the bad course previously taken. Now the Lavers-Hinch crew seemed similarly unfortunate. Although they pulled a splendid course, a little out of the current, and steered straight for the buoy, the strong tide which runs into Beer's Creek carried them three or four lengths out of their course towards the Asylum Point. This placed both crews in positions as even as they started. They turned the buoys at the same moment and entered the home stretch bow-and-bow. The excitement on railway wharf at this juncture was intense. It was now known that the crews were making a desperate struggle for first position, but which should succeed in getting it was impossible to tell. From the mast heads of vessels and every prominent position available on the wharf it was shouted lustily: "Charlottetown ahead!" Few believed the exclamations, but they proved to be correct as the boats came into view. After turning the buoy the Davies-Robins men bent closely to the oar, and spurred occasionally. At length they forged to the front, and when off Kensington they could be seen invariably pulling across the bow of the Lavers-Hinch boat, and charitably (!) giving them the benefit of the "wash." From this it was evident the Davies-Robins crew led by at least two lengths. Nearer they came, both rowing between thirty-six and thirty-eight strokes to the minute. It was now plain that the Charlottetown men had the race well in hand, but they had better make no mistakes as the Halifax men were in hot pursuit, rowing thirty-six strokes to the minute in splendid style. The enthusiasm which prevailed as the Davies-Robins crew rowed in victorious was teeming and when they passed the winning post in twenty minutes and seven seconds, two and a half lengths ahead of their opponents, they were cheered to the echo. Both crews rowed immediately to the boat house at Quirk's Wharf, where the winners received the congratulations of their friends. The Lavers-Hinch crew were well pleased with the contest as were the people from Halifax. They say that the race was a "good square" one, and they express the opinion that the Charlottetown crew—Messrs. F. T. & W. L. Dean, Daniel Davies, and Thomas Robins—are rising oarsmen.

The Lavers-Hinch crew and those who accompanied them left for home this morning. Previous to the departure they were presented with a purse of $108, which was made up among the sporting men last evening.
