Civil Service Pay Delay Softened By Government

OTTAWA (CP) — As civil servants grumbled about delays in getting paid, the federal government came up with announcements to improve the lot of some federal employees Thursday.

Prime Minister Pearson, addressing a luncheon of the 115,000-member Public Service Alliance of Canada, said he hopes proposed collective bargaining legislation—to deal initially with pay matiers—will eventually be expanded to "attack problems relating to morale and productivity and the public image of the public service."

He drew cheers from some 500 persons when he promised to try to speed up passage of an interim supply bill in the Commons, needed to meet civil service payrolls.

Trevor Gough, alliance national vice-president, said while thanking Mr. Pearson that the convention had no salary recommendations before it to harass the prime minister "but do you think you could give us a little to be going on with?"

Earlier the convention approved an emergency resolution to send a telegram to the five party leaders in the Commons urging them to speed up passage of the supply bill.

Failure to pass the bill meant thousands who expected cheques Thursday were out of luck.

Conservative Leader Diefenbaker said in reply to the telegram that his party had made clear in the Commons Thursday that it was willing to vote enough money to meet salaries if the supply bill was divided into two parts. But the government had refused this. "I suggest therefore, that you direct your criticism from now on to the government."

In another development, the government announced that a pay differential of seven per dent of normal pay rates will be awarded government secretaries, stenographers and typists who use both official languages in their work.

Retroactive to Oct. 1, 1966, the differential could affect about 16,000 employees, but only those who show bilingual proficiency in a series of tests will benefit.

Both the 30,000 or so alliance members who fall under the Group D pay category, and some 20,000 postal employees, were heartened by the arrival here Thursday of Mr. Justice Andre Montpetit of Quebec Superior Court, named Wednesday night to mediate the Group D pay dispute.

The alliance is seeking an eight-per-cent interim pay increase, while postal unions want 20 per cent now and a further 19 next year. Increases will be retroactive to Oct. 1, 1966, and cover a two-year agreement.

Postal union spokesmen have said they will not strike this week and indicated they will give the mediator a chance to dig into the problem.

Quebec Man Comments On Labrador Loss

QUEBEC (CP)—Prof. Henri Dorion, a geographer from Laval University, said here night the Privy Council used the word coast as meaning basin when it gave its 1927 decision regarding the border between Labrador and Quebec.

Prof. Dorion said, in an interview that, instead of following the littoral—the region along the Labrador shore—the border followed an inland route. This took in important waterways and their tributaries.

A dictionary definition of the word basin describes it as meaning a tract of country drained by river and tributaries.

The Quebec professor said Privy Council records show that it took the idea of coastal depth to mean basin instead of coastline, "the sense we usually give the word."

Prof. Dorion had said Saturday that Quebec lost Labrador to Newfoundland because of "woolly, imprecise and contradictory vocabulary."

Quebec lost the territory because a British tribunal "confused the words coast and basin," he told a meeting of specialists dealing with technical and scientific terminology.

Quebec's Union Nationale government has stated on several occasions that it does not accept the Quebec-Labrador boundary established in 1927.

Opening lead—ace of hearts.

This hand occurred in the match between Argentina and the United States in 1958. At the first table, with a U.S. pair holding the North-South cards, the bidding went as shown.

North, having limited his hand at one point by showing willingness to stop at two hearts, was then able to cuebid the ace of clubs and king o diamonds in an effort to cooperate with South's slam tries.

West led the ace of hearts and shifted to a diamond at trick two. Declarer took the diamond in dummy with the king finessed the ten of hearts, cashed the ace of spades, ruffed a spade, cashed the ace of clubs, ruffed a club, ruffed the jack of spades, and ruffed another club. He then drew East's last trump to make the slam for a score of 1,430 points.

At the second table, the Argentine North-South pair also arrived at six hearts, but they went down one. The bidding went:

North East South West
Pass Pass 1 heart Pass
3 hearts Pass 4 NT Pass
5 diamonds Pass 6 hearts.

West led the five of diamonds. South took it in dummy with the king and led a heart, finessing the ten. West won with the ace, returned a diamond which East ruffed, and South was down one.

Hands such as this one often make the difference between winning and losing an important match. There was a tremendous amount of luck involved in the deal, and the U.S. team had all the best of the luck.

The Argentines lost 1,530 points on this one hand, but the loss was distinctly out of proportion to whatever lack of skill their West displayed at the first table by leading the ace of hearts instead of a diamond.

Clearly, the punishment did not fit the crime.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X E
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
