Curried Broiler-Fryer Is Budget-Wise Entree

WHY IS IT that fine broiler-fryers are budget-wise? Because of the progressiveness of science.

"A few years ago the producer of broilers expected to take 13 weeks to grow a 3-lb. bird. Now he can market his flock at 3.5 lbs. in only 9 weeks plus 2 or 3 days. Instead of requiring 4.5 lbs. of feed per pound of broiler produced, less than 2.5 lbs. is needed."

QUOTED FROM YEARBOOK

This quotation comes from the centennial edition of the Yearbook of Agriculture 1962.

With broiler-fryers inspected for quality, pre-cleaned and easily cooked, the Home Economics Department of the Federal Government, extension workers and home economists throughout the country are working out interesting, mouth watering ways to use them.

Here is the latest from our own kitchen.
