

If there is a history of weak lungs in your family, take Scott's Emulsion.

It nourishes and invigorates.

It enables you to resist the disease. Even if your lungs are already affected, and if besides the cough you have fever and emaciation, there is still a strong probability of a cure.

The oil in the Emulsion feeds; the hypophosphites give power to the nerves; and the glycerine soothes and heals.

For Business Men

Stick to your legitimate business. Do not go into outside operations. Few men have brains enough for more than one business. To dabble in stocks, to put a few thousand dollars into a mine, and a few more into a manufactory, and a few more into an invention, is enough to ruin any man. Be content with fair returns. Do not become greedy. Do not think that men are happy in proportion as they are rich and therefore do not aim too high. Be content with moderate wealth. Make friends. A time will come when all the money in the world will not be worth as much to you as one good staunch friend.—H. W. Beecher.

As the sea is never filled with water, though all the streams of the world run into it, so the greediness of a usurer is never satisfied, though he gain never so unreasonably. The sea is profitable, the usurer is hurtful and dangerous. By the sea we may pass and come safely to haven, but no man passeth the usurer without loss and shipwreck.—Bishop Jewel.

—“How would you define luck?” was asked of the man who has made more money than he knows what to do with. “It is the product of a reasonable amount of ability backed by tenacity.”—Detroit Free Press.

Suggestions.

Use strong headlines. Make your advertising short. Be truthful; above all, be truthful. Good advertising will sell goods. Don't have a dirty store—brighten it. Say what you have to say—then stop. Don't advertise fire sales—they are old.

Don't advertise your neighbor—it costs money. Say what you mean and mean what you say.

Be sure you are right—then you will be right.

Have good salespeople to wait on your customers.

Fill orders promptly—mail-order houses take notice.

Place your advertising in the hands of a competent man.

Don't advertise that you give something for nothing—that's a lie.

Always aim for the superlative degree—the comparative degree is good enough for the other fellow.

One impudent or incompetent salesperson can do more harm in a day than advertising can do good in a month.—The Advertiser.

The Hardest Thing.

The hardest thing in advertising is to write a plain, common-sense every-day talk. It seems easy to write this kind of an ad but when one attempts to do it he soon learns how difficult it is.—Shoe Trade Journal.

Improving and Adapting.

The advertiser who can examine an advertising plan pursued by another advertiser and adapt or improve the vital idea so it will conform to the requirements of his particular line of business is not far from the kingdom. To originate an entirely new and never used or never thought of style, plan or method of advertising is an impossibility to the majority of advertisers or advertising agents. The best that can Never put off for tomorrow What you can do today.

If you think you are not getting value or the money you pay out every week for groceries, try us to-day.

Of your money unless you get value received for it. For that reason we are always glad to have you look around our store and learn how much better you can do here than anywhere else.

John McKenna, Queen Street, be done is to take a hint here and there, and from these hints or points evolve a plan or method of procedure. The history of business reveals the fact that the men who achieve the largest measure of success are the ones who have the faculty or intuition to improve or adapt the ideas of the other fellow.—Allan Belknap.

The Sunshine of Business.

There is some cause for the skepticism of the semi-occasional advertiser as to the good result of advertising. He has spent money for the publication of business announcements, and has had at the most merely a spurt of appreciable returns therefrom, after which his trade again stagnated. For this reason he is prone to jump at the conclusion that advertising does not make business grow. Naturally in his case it does not. If the sun should shine only about six times a year Nature's great scheme of development would be checked. It is that marvelous and never ending regularity of the great orb of day which produces the comforts and luxuries of mankind. In like manner persistent advertising stimulates and renders profitable the tradesman's business.—Philadelphia Retailer.

Make a Memorandum.

See to the little things and the big things will take care of themselves. The only way it is really possible to attend to the little things properly, that is, if one really desires to attend to them, is, not to trust to the memory in doing the work, no matter how good it may be. A pad should be carried in the pocket; on this mark down whatever you may think of as soon as it occurs to you. One by one attend to the things recorded, and whenever something on the list has been attended to run a pencil through the memorandum.—Shoe Retailer.

RAILROAD....

KIDNEY

A Disease Peculiar to Railroad Men, which is readily Cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Did it ever occur to you that most railroad men die of kidney disease?

Such is the fact, however, and the disease is known among railroaders as "railroad kidney."

The first and most marked symptom is a weak, lame and aching back. You may think at first that you are only tired; but as this trouble increases day by day, kidney disease, with all its terrors, is fast claiming you as a victim.

Mr. Geo. Cummings, for over 20 years engineer on the Grand Trunk running between Toronto and Allandale, says: "The constant duty with my work gave me excessive pains in my back, racking my kidneys. I tried several remedies until I was recommended by my fireman, Mr. Dave Conley, to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Two boxes have completely cured me and I feel to-day a better man than ever. I recommend them to all my friends."

Weary of Experimenting

With salves, suppositories and ointments and dreading a surgical operation, scores and hundreds have turned to Dr. A. W. Chase's ointment and found it an absolute cure for piles.
