PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE

Company upon escaping the tax of $100 as it had been exempted for 20 years. But the brewery tax capped the climax. The Government taxed the living and the dead, and were now going beyond the confines of the tomb to tax the spirits!

Mr. A. J. Macdonald thought the insurance companies would regulate their premiums to meet the taxes. He failed to see why electricity should be taxed while steam was exempt. This tax on electricity might be the means of stopping this extensive enterprise. He thought that it was improper to tax steamers subsidized by the government to take from them with one hand what has been given them with the other. This tax was also unfair, as the Steam Navigation Company was not asked to pay any more than the small company in Prince or King's County. The tax on express companies would in all probability mean closing them up here. He thought the tax on the brewery was unfortunate as it would mean its transfer to another province while the product would come here as usual.

The clause relating to the taxing of insurance companies then passed, and that relating to electric companies was taken up.

Mr. Prowse thought $100 was too much of a tax as he understood none of the companies were making money. He thought it unfair that the two companies should be taxed the same amount.

Mr. Campbell suggested that Mr. Prowse move an amendment if he considered the tax unfair.

Mr. Arthur Peters pointed out the difficulty of discriminating in such matters. With regard to the Navigation Company he knew they were not paying a dividend.

Mr. A. J. Macdonald showed that they had made a discrimination in the matter of income tax.

The clause passed, and the clause bearing upon the taxing of steamers came up for consideration.

Mr. Shaw endorsed what had been said by Messrs Campbell and Macdonald regarding the unfairness of this tax, and moved an amendment providing that the companies be taxed at the rate of $100 on each steamer owned by them.

Mr. D. A. McKinnon also thought it was unfair to tax small and large companies alike. He also disapproved of taxing steamers subsidized by the local Government, and moved an amendment providing that such steamers be exempt.

Hon. Mr. McLean could not see why there should be a distinction between steamers subsidized by the local government and those subsidized by the Dominion.

Hon. Mr. Farquharson failed to see why subsidized steamers should not pay a part of that subsidy back in taxes.

Hon. Mr. Rogers expressed himself as approving to Mr. Shaw's amendment.

When progress was reported this clause was still under consideration.

A message was then read from the Lieutenant Governor foreshadowing the introduction of another bill. This bill is to provide for imposing an additional tax of $5 upon commercial travellers, excepting the representatives of liquor houses who shall pay a tax of $200. It is also to provide for the imposition of a tax of $200 on liquor sellers in the city, one third of which is to go to the city treasury.

House adjourned.

Benefit of Peerage. Every one may not know what the term "benefit of peerage" implies. A peer can demand a private audience of the sovereign to represent his views on matters of public welfare. For treason or felony he can demand to be tried by his peers. He cannot be outlawed in any civil action, nor can he be arrested unless for an indictable offense, and he is exempt from serving on juries. He may sit with his hat on in courts of justice, and should he be liable to the last penalty of the law he can demand a silken cord instead of a hempen rope.

Practical Remedy. Caller (with manuscript)—Then you can't use the poem? May I ask what ails it? Editor—Well, it lacks what might be called the true poetic fire. Caller—Couldn't that be—ah—imparted to it some way? Editor—Well, you might try sticking it in the stove.

Country girls in Spain seldom wear hats or bonnets of any kind. It was in Spain, by the way, that the custom of a bride wearing orange blossoms in her hair originated.
