THE DAILY EXAMINER

DECEMBER 29, 1892.

Our Farmers' Difficulties.

A CORRESPONDENT of THE EXAMINER states, with much force, a number of the causes of the difficulties by which our farmers are now beset. The assertion, of which our correspondent complains, that farmers easily make a good livelihood and grow wealthy, is false and foolish. Under the most favorable circumstances, the life of a farmer is laborious; and he must, if he would succeed, be constantly economical. Let any one who fondly imagines that this is not the fact "try it himself"! Now that machinery is so generally used, and that the competition of Western farmers is so keen, our farmers have need for the exercise of high intelligence and all their talents for good management. They need specific knowledge, and they need united effort. The dairy movement will, directly and indirectly, tend to the supply of both these needs. We regret that Premier Peters has, apparently, forgotten his promise to supply a travelling dairy. Perhaps he imagines that the work of the road-making machine in the last autumn will make up for his neglect in this respect. If so, he is mistaken. The instruction afforded by Professor Harcourt in Prince of Wales College is all very well in its way. But it is evidently inadequate to the needs of our farmers. Much more to the purpose is the policy of the Dominion Government, according to which a dairy station has been established and successfully operated at New Perth, our farmers have been supplied with seeds of improved quality, and have laid before them, from time to time, the results of the most recent tests made at the Experimental Farms. The practical efforts of the Dominion Government to improve our methods of agriculture are, we feel sure, appreciated by the farmers of this Province as of every other Province in Canada. But let the Government do what it will, the success of our farmers will depend upon our farmers themselves. We have great pleasure, in noting as the precursor of a better day, the spirit of enquiry and the desire for improvement which is now abroad among them. The excellent letter which we published yesterday shows that some of them, at least, are fully alive to the conditions of "the situation" in this Province. THE EXAMINER is about to publish a series of articles on "Dairying a specialty in P. E. Island," written by one of our most intelligent farmers, who has made a careful study of the subject. These articles will, we have no doubt, be widely read and discussed by his brother farmers throughout the Province.

While the causes of the present difficulties are succinctly set forth by our correspondent "Argus," he has overlooked the fact that the prices received by our farmers in the past fall were—if not all satisfactory—generally as high or higher than those received by farmers in the United States. Pork ruled higher here than in Chicago, oats ruled higher, and hay sold at a good figure. If horses and potatoes have been lower than they ought to have been, the fact was due to conditions over which Canada and the Government of Canada had no control. The use in the big cities of electricity instead of horses and the McKinley tariff are causes contributing to a depression of prices, which could not, in any way, have been avoided by Canadians.

Personal.

An English paper recently announced that Lord Rosebery was paying his first visit to Ireland. It seems extraordinary to think of this statesman and leading Home Ruler having actually never seen the country within a few miles of him, about which he has had to constantly speak for years. Yet he has visited Australia 14,000 miles away.

Mr. Edward Farrer, late editor of the Globe, is writing a series of articles on the condition of Canada for the New York Sun. Mr. Wiman, who has taken on himself the trouble and expense of circulating them, says their "evident motive is to lessen the liberality of treatment in matters of trade relations with Canada" by the new United States administration. The gang are still showing her enemies where to stab their country.

A son of Mr. Goschen, lately Chancellor of the Exchequer, must be rather a cool young man. The statesman was unable to attend an important meeting and sent young Goschen to apologize. With charming self-confidence the young man informed the committee: "My father can't come to-night, so he sent me instead. I think I will do quite as well. Don't you?" He is said to have done very well indeed.

The poet Shelley, as a boy, was possessed of a marvellous imagination. So wonderful, indeed, was it that it gave his parents many an anxious hour. He would recount imaginary scenes and conversations as though they were actual, and it really seemed as though he were unable to distinguish between the little fictions of his imagination and actual fact. This characteristic was strong with Shelley throughout his not very long life, and frequently gave rise to unfortunate complications between himself and those who did not understand his nature and habit.

Wait and See.

John Kendrick Bangs, in Harper's Young People.

"It's a great thing, Jimmie boy, when you don't know what to do and can't find anyone to tell you, to sit down and do nothing, because if you did something you'd be likely to find out afterwards that it was the wrong thing. When I was young, in the days when I was what I used to be, I once read a poem that has lingered with me ever since. It was called "Wait and See," and this is the way it went:

'When you are puzz'ed what to do,
And no one's nigh to help you out,
You'll find it for the best that you
Should wait until Time gives the clew,
And then your business go about:
Of this there is no doubt.

'Just see the cow! She never knows
What's going to happen next, so she
Contented 'mongst the daisies goes
In clover from her head to toes,
From care and trouble ever free;
She simply waits, you see.

'The horse, unlike the cow, in fear
Jumps to and fro at maddest rate,
Tears down the street, doth snort and rear,
And knocks the wagon out of gear—
And just because he does not wait
His woes accumulate.

'D. Crockett, famous in the past,
The same sage thought hath briefly wed
To words that must forever last
Wherever haply they be cast:
"Be sure you're right, then go ahead,"
That's what D. Crockett said.'"

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

The Morell Cheese Factory.

SIR,—The shareholders of the Morell Dairying Company are responding nobly to the first call of 25 per cent. of their shares. We have no doubt but that the full amount of the first call will be paid in at the time specified. This being the case, people may rest assured that a cheese factory will be in operation here next spring. The unanimity of the people on this matter is marvellous. Faith in the business as a great means of improving our stock and maintaining the fertility of the soil is the power that moves us on. We are now in correspondence with the Department at Ottawa with reference to the operation of the factory next season, and with several manufacturers re cost of apparatus, &c. The final meeting of shareholders will be held in Mount Mary School, Morell, on Tuesday, 17th January, at 6 o'clock p. m., when all correspondence will be submitted, all final arrangements made, site chosen, by-laws adopted, &c. All shareholders who have paid their first call and signed the stock book will be entitled to vote. We hope for a very large attendance.

H. D. MCEWEN,
Secy-Treas.
Lot 40, Dec. 27, 1892.

Murray Harbor North Notes.

Christmas went off quietly here.

Very little is talked about now but "cheese factory." All are on tip-toe for the enterprise, and seem anxious to get off the ground their fathers trod, and upon the broad road which leads to scientific dairying and profitable stock keeping.

We have plenty of temperance agitation and talk around. The Cause is making things uncomfortable for the Trade! Such a smash-up was never dreamed of before. He to whom all praise and honor is due lives in Sturgeon, and need not be named. We must say that he deserves credit for his earnest, strong-hearted work; and he will not be forgotten by the friends of sobriety and good order.

Our pulpit has been filled for the last two Sundays by Rev. A. B. McLeod, formerly of Mount Stewart. Mr. McLeod made a great impression by his fine delivery. Old friends were glad to see him, he having visited us before about seven or eight years ago. X.

Fairfield Notes.

Rev. A. J. McIntyre, the public-spirited pastor of St. Columbia, intends having a public hall erected near his Church, and is making a free gift of all the lumber required for its construction from off the farm attached to the Church. The parishoners are now engaged cutting and hauling the required lumber, and all will be in readiness to begin building operations in early spring. This hall, when completed will supply a long felt want in this community.

Mr. John Conwhy moved into his new residence last week. It is one of the neatest farm cottages in this part of the country, and reflects much credit on the designer and builder—Mr. Thomas McMahon.

Mr. William J. Campbell, lately returned from Wisconsin, U. S., has purchased a suitable mill site from Mr. Clement McIsaac, with the intention of erecting grist and carding mills thereon. Mr. Campbell had great experience in the milling business out West, and will, I hope, be successful in his new enterprise here.

The weather for the last few days has been extremely cold. I fear the Gulf stream, which some writers predicted during the mild weather last winter was moving nearer to us, still remains in its natural latitude.

"Coupled with all my old army troubles, I lost my appetite, had a distressing and burning sensation in my stomach, extreme nervousness, so bad that the least excitement would cause large drops of sweat to stand on my body for an hour at a time. Anything at a sudden, would cause me to start and jump. Could not rest nights. Lost flesh rapidly and became much emaciated. In addition to all this, a severe Rheumatic trouble from which I have suffered severely ever since my discharge, causing my limbs and joints to swell badly set in. I was obliged to give up work, and became much discouraged. Getting no better, I was induced to try SKODA'S DISCOVERY. It had a wonderful effect upon me. I began to feel better after using it only a short time. I have now taken four bottles. My Rheumatism has all disappeared. Appetite has returned. Have gained much in flesh and strength. Nervousness all gone. Am able to sleep well nights. And am again working at my trade as Blacksmith. I feel that I am entirely cured from all these troubles

The Telephone Company
—OF—
P. E. ISLAND.

PARTIES using the Telephones would find talking much more satisfactory if they would observe the following rules:—
1st. Speak with the mouth about four inches from the transmitter.
2nd. Speak in a moderate tone of voice, not too loud, and distinctly.
3rd. Place the telephone so as to cover the ear, just as if you wished to shut out all other sounds. Do not press too hard on the ear.
It is possible to talk and be heard when standing back two or three feet from the transmitter, if you shout loud enough, but it is not a pleasant mode of conversation, is entirely unnecessary, and is a useless waste of wind and lungs, besides being very annoying to all within range of your voice.
