The bidding:
South West North East
1 ♣ Pass 3 NT Pass
4 ♣ Pass 5 ♣ Pass

Opening lead—ten of diamonds.

North bypassed the one diamond response which he could have made over the club bid for the greater advantage of representing in one bid his all round high card strength as well as his flat distribution.

The three notrump response represented a point count between 16 and 18, notrump distribution, and high card strength in the three unbid suits.

South was thus immediately put on notice there was a slam. His 16 high cards points, plus the six card suit and singleton heart, all indicated twelve tricks were very likely. He temporized by bidding four clubs, and when North raised to five, went on to what figured to be an easy six contract.

That was exactly the way it looked when dummy came down, but when South won the ace of diamonds and led a club to his ace, on which East did not follow, the complexion changed. He had a tough row to hoe.

There were two apparently sure trump losers. The problem was to find a way, if one existed, to eliminate a club loser, conceding down one, while it was a time-saving device, was no solution. Oddly enough, South found a way out of his difficulties. He played for West to have the only distribution that would permit the hand to be made. By the time play was over West had lost one of his trump tricks.

After getting the bad news in trump, declarer took three rounds of spades and ruffed a diamond. He had gotten by the first hurdle—West had three spades.

The ace and another heart to the jack were played and another diamond was trumped. Hurdle number two was cleared—West had three diamonds.

All that remained now was for West to follow to the next lead, a heart. When he did, the contract was in the bag. The declarer had K-9-8. The ten of clubs was led and passed around to West. He took only his trump to trick.

Russia And Japan Join Canada And U. S. In Fur Seals Treaty

OTTAWA (CP) — Russia and Japan have joined Canada and the United States in a treaty for the sharing and conservation of the fur seals of the North Pacific. It was announced Friday. Canada and the U.S. have had such an agreement since 1942, and the other two countries have agreed to join them after 14 months of negotiations recently concluded at Washington. The pact will be signed there today.

The new treaty will cover the small herds of the Commander and Robben Islands in the Bering Sea as well as the big herd of the Pribilof Islands that have been under the Canada-U.S. treaty.

No other details of the agreement were available here pending the signing.

SEAL CATCH SHARED

Under the existing treaty, Canada and the U.S. have been sharing in the controlled catch of the Pribilof Islands on the basis of four-fifths to the U.S. and one-fifth to Canada. It has been worth about $1,000,000 a year to the Canadian government.

The treaty provided that for the preservation of the once-dwindling herd, both countries would refrain from killing at sea. The Pribilof herd is estimated at 2,000,000 animals. There are

Farmhand Fights Bull To Standstill

BRAMPTON Ont. (CP) — An 85-year-old farmhand grabbed a pikepole and fought an enraged bull to a standstill Friday night before it could get to his employer who lay dazed on the ground from the animal's first charge.

Thomas Balaam said the lead-chain broke as owner Albert Reid 51 walked the bull out of the barn. The animal bowled the farmer over and was thundering in on a second charge when Balaam seized the fork and stepped in front of it.

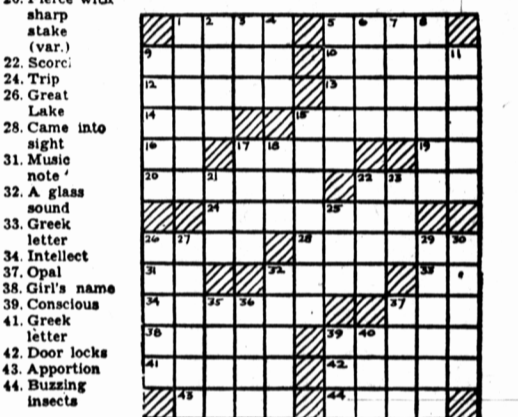

The old man was knocked down twice. He got up each time, fork in hand. "One of my thumbs got him in the eye and he wilted like a burst balloon," Balaam said.

Reid was treated in hospital for a broken collarbone and a badly torn shoulder.
