The police and banks were notified of the affair next morning. On Saturday last a young man named Douglass Smith called at the Merchants bank of P. E. Smith said that the money was given him to change by another young man whom the police have not yet succeeded in arresting. Smith was released on bail. This morning he appeared in court, and was ordered to renew his bail bonds, in $200 each, to appear as a witness against the other young man when arrested.

One drunk was fined $2 or 8 days.

CARD.

To the Electors of Charlottetown, Common and Royalty.

GENTLEMEN,—Mr. Blake having resigned his seat in the House of Assembly, I beg to offer myself as a candidate to fill the vacancy thus created.

Believing, as I do, that the business of the country should be the first consideration, and not to be made subservient to party politics, I hold myself free to support that party whose management of the finances I consider most in accordance with the interests of the people.

My policy is to cut down all unnecessary expenditure, and to expend freely where public requirements demand it. To that end I will, if elected strive to effect an amalgamation of the two branches of the Legislature, largely reducing the number of members, at present quite out of proportion to the duties performed.

The working of the Land Office, I think, requires a searching Parliamentary enquiry, with a view to its abrogation at the earliest period compatible with public interests.

I will advocate the immediate permanent improvement (by macadamizing) of the main roads leading to the city, thus affording farmers easy access with their produce, and benefitting town and country alike.

Should you do me the honor, for the third time, of electing me as your representative, you may rely on my best efforts being used to promote your interests

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. T. JENKINS.
