LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

The Clerk of the Presbytery.

SIR,—Permit me to make a few remarks on a letter signed "Presbyterian," which appeared in your columns of the 19th inst., in which the writer finds fault with our esteemed Clerk of the Presbytery for not publishing the minutes of the last meeting of that assembly. "Presbyterian" clearly shows himself to be ignorant of the rules of the church to which he professes to belong; and to justify what I have said, I would inform him that it is not the duty of the Clerk of Presbytery to publish the minutes. I do not wish to quarrel with "Presbyterian" but merely to correct his statements, in order that others who have read his letter may not be led astray by it.
Yours, &c.,
JUSTITIA.

Work on the Streets.

SIR,—Fair play in reference to "Citizens" letters as to the work in front of City Surveyors property. I have not taken much notice of it, but I do not think the citizens are getting the worth of their money laid out on the streets. I noticed a man employed by the city supposed to be working on East-3rd Street. About every half hour or so a load of clay would be hauled by the city team, and then it would be necessary for the man to see that it would be tipped in the hole or rut and then quietly sit down till the next load would come. I notice again on Truck Street they appear to be using seaweed to macadamize that street. This might do, as many of our streets are too wide, and a few rows of potatoes planted on each side would look well when in blossom. But I think it will be necessary for the Councilors to put on a heavy tax to sustain it, and half the money properly laid out would give more satisfaction to the citizens. For the present I will withdraw my pen.
Yours, etc.,
A TAXPAYER WHO TAKES NOTICE.

Ugly Churches.

SIR,—On the above and kindred subjects, "Steeple Cleydon" is well answered by a correspondent in yesterday's Herald; but there is a word more to be said.
In 1820 our public buildings were: Old St. Paul's, since pulled down; old St. Dunstan's, since used as a hall; old St. James', since used as the Pownal district school, and now out of use altogether; the old, old, or first Wesleyan Chapel, 40x26; the old Court House, and the present Jail—four churches and two other buildings. Since then St. Paul's, the old Wesleyan Chapel, three times enlarged and since pulled down, the old Baptist Church, the St. Dunstan's Church, Zion Church, Prince Street Presbyterian Church; brick Wesleyan Church, brick Baptist Church, the Christian Church on Prince town Road, the Bible Christian Church, Second Wesleyan Church, and St. James' Church—that is, thirteen churches built in fifty years, which I think is a very handsome showing for a small city—nine of which are still in use. But this is not all. Two other buildings—St. Patrick's Hall and Y. M. C. A. Hall—are devoted to moral, scientific and religious purposes; and not one Unitarian or Universalist church or building among them; and the same old jail, once enlarged, that we had fifty years ago. This, as I said above, is a very handsome showing, and speaks volumes for the people of this city.
Yours,
OLD MAN.
May 22.

P. S.—Since the above was written I see in yesterday's daily, Steeple Cleydon has undertaken to teach us the true pronunciation of the English language. Before him an Irishman, a Scotchman, a Welshman, and two Yankees has attempted it; if he succeeds we must be infinitely obliged. I will be satisfied if he will teach me to pronounce CORN; is it cawn, karn, kirm, or as in Scotland, coorn?
O. M.

The Bible.

SIR,—Without dwelling too long on the value and authority of the Holy Scriptures, I will call attention to one point further, which is of highly practical importance to those who would hold the Word of God in reasonable and proper estimation. In order to influence the conscience we must consider the exactness as well as brevity with which all the utterances of the Bible are made. A few examples will illustrate my meaning. "He that believeth on Him is not condemned"; but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed on the name of the only-begotten Son of God."—John 3:18. Again, "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life; and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him." Again (John 6:53): "Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily I say unto you, except ye eat the flesh of the Son of Man, and drink His blood, ye have no life in you." Again Mark 16, 15—16, "And He said unto them, go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." This in a different form: Mark 28, 18—20, "And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying: 'All power is given unto me in Heaven and in earth. Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you.' We see that those who preach and teach in the name and by the authority of the Lord Jesus, are confined to very definite and special instructions, from which they are

NOT ALLOWED BY ANY MEANS TO DEPART OR VARY,

for it is said, "Preach the preaching that I bid you, whether man will hear or whether they will forbear." The person who would be saved must believe something very particular, exactly what is by divine authority preached. He who is condemned, is condemned for not, or because he does not believe the things declared to him from Heaven. Life is nourished only by the flesh and blood of the Son of Man. And this same characteristic runs through the whole Bible, whether it be in Moses or the Prophets, or the Psalms, in the Gospels or Epistles of the New Testament. In historical narratives or precept, in Son or Gospel, Moses could speak only what was told him in the Mount. He could build only "according to the pattern showed him." The Prophet could utter only the word of the Lord. Noah built the Ark of the material and according to the dimensions revealed to him. The Apostles who founded the "One Holy Catholic and Apostolic Church," were strictly charged to teach the observance only of "all things whatsoever I command you." It is of the highest importance that both preacher and hearer (take note of this fact. Not only the present but the future depends upon it. A vast train of evils have followed the neglect, or deviation from it. It seems as if men were really fulfilling the words of Solomon, Eccl. 8, 11, "Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily; therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil." It would be considered a crying and vicious evil if the utterances of the civil court, or enactments of the Legislature, were in loose or uncertain terms; or if a wise law remained a dead letter; or if citizens were allowed to violate and despise it with impunity. In fact these evils are more or less extant in these days. Nor is the Church, or are her members—clergymen or laymen—free from them. But we cannot too soon recall the fact, and act in a manner meet and becoming repentance. Let all Christian people be careful to bear in mind that "the word of the Lord standeth sure," for it is "forever fixed in heaven." "Thy word is very pure."
G. W. CORNITT.
Charlottetown, May 23, 1884.

Everything seems at a stand still here at present.

Farmers have been unable, owing to the unfavorable state of the weather, to do much on their farms. Trade is very dull, although considerable shipping is going on. Already four schooners have cleared from this harbor, laden with oats and other produce; one of which has returned laden with coal. The harbor is blocked with ice, which causes the general depression.
King alcohol has ceased to be here. He has been dethroned. We hope never again to have him reign in our midst as of yore, leaving his mark upon our citizens—the mark of the Beast. The members of the Division of the Sons of Temperance in this village have the thanks and well wishes of this community for their noble and successful work of suppressing that nefarious traffic, which has been the bane of this place from time immemorial.

Mr. James Johnston is making every preparation for the lobster fishing this season and will be at work as soon as the ice moves away.

We expected to have seen in your last issue a letter from our friend "Justice," in answer to the wood-cock of Melville Hills, who styles himself "Auld Brig." The public are anxious to hear from "Justice" again, and we trust that he is this while but sharpening his lance for another onslaught.

The Rev. T. W. Johnson has opened in this village a Reading Room well supplied with reading matter of various kinds, and we learn that it is his intention to make access to this room free, during summer months, to all who may desire to improve or amuse themselves by reading during their leisure hours. We know that the people of this village will appreciate the Rev. gentleman's kindness in thus affording them this opportunity of passing their spare moments pleasantly. Mr. Johnson has resided in our midst for quite a number of years and has always taken a most active part in whatever tended to the welfare and progress of this locality.

While other teachers are enjoying their holidays, our teacher, Mr. A. Campbell, who seems never to weary in well-doing, still continues to teach for the convenience of one of his classes. He appears determined to raise this school to a much higher standing than it has hitherto taken. The people of this vicinity have just reason to feel proud of their clergyman, Rev. Mr. Johnson, and their teachers, Mr. A. Campbell, and Miss Webster. No more indefatigable workers in their several locations, are to be met with on this Island.

The Spanish papers are full of the proposal to cut a canal from the Bay of Biscay to the Mediterranean Sea. The plan proposed is to deepen the River Gironde for some distance and reach the open sea at Narbonne, in the Department of Aude. The proposed work will be about 250 miles long, and will save a distance of nearly 2,000 miles between Suez and London. Speaking of the great engineering proposals, one paper says that the Channel tunnel will turn an island into a peninsula, while the new canal will turn a peninsula into an island.

It is announced that Commander Cheyne's scheme for reaching the North Pole by means of balloons having fallen through, rather, not having received any practical encouragement whatever—the Commander "has taken to the lecture field professionally." He is going to Montreal to deliver a series of six lectures on astronomy.
