LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

How the Good Work Goes On.

SIR,—While the Royal Commission, for months past, has been considering the vexed question of prohibition, and deliberating on the ways and means best calculated to regulate the liquor traffic, the good work at Montague has been going silently on. After weary years the traffic has at length been got under control, and thirsty souls must seek elsewhere for their dram. A conscientious performance of duty on the part of the License Inspector, the untiring zeal of the resident clergymen, the persistent efforts of the temperance workers, backed by a healthy and vigorous public sentiment, have at length resulted in the complete annihilation of the rum traffic at Montague. The nine or ten places formerly engaged in retailing the ardent have been compelled to shut down owing to lack of business. The great moral influence exerted by the churches through their numerous members and adherents has begun to bear fruit, and has contributed in no small measure to this grand result. The occupation of the temperance agitator and the W. C. T. U. is gone, and every one is happy. Success to the cause; let the good work go on. SCOTT ACT.
Montague, Feb. 14, 1893.

Our Winter Roads.

SIR,—Now that the discussion concerning the making of the public roads during summer is done, I would like to draw the attention of the public to the state of our roads during winter. I do not think that there is any person, who travels on our winter roads but will agree with me that the method of keeping them open is very unsatisfactory. The roads are for the most part put through fields and from them branch off bye-roads in all directions. A person travelling in any part of the country with which he is not well acquainted, is often at a loss how to find his way except by constant enquiries, and after night it is well-nigh impossible to travel on such roads. Again, after a thaw the field roads are unfit for hauling on for the rest of the winter and the overseers invariably neglect to open the highways till late in the spring, so that the travelling public is greatly inconvenienced.
Now, as our Legislature is to meet about the first of next month, and as it is the opinion of the travelling public in general that our present system of winter road-making is even worse than that of summer, I would make the following suggestions to our law makers: 1st. That in winter season overseers be compelled to keep the public highways broken. 2nd. That they be compelled to keep a double track on them in order to allow sleighs to pass easily on all parts of the road. If this system were pursued it would completely overcome the difficulties and inconveniences experienced in winter travelling. The system has been in operation in the Province of Quebec for some years past where it has given entire satisfaction.
Hoping, Mr. Editor, to hear from some of your correspondents, I remain, etc.,
TRAVELLER.

Emerald Notes

The quiet little village of Emerald was on Monday, 13th inst., greeted by the arrival of a bridal party from Charlottetown. The bridegroom was Mr. James McCarron engineer on the steamer Elfin, and the bride was Miss Aylward of Southport. They were entertained at the Dominion House during the day by Mr. John Hughes, the genial proprietor. Dr. M. Wall and Geo. R. McMahon, Esq., station agent, were also guests. In the evening the party proceeded by rail to Cape Traverse, where they remained till next evening, when they returned to the city.
On the evening of the same day, the members of the Kinkora Branch of the League of the Cross gave an excellent entertainment in the Emerald Hall. The vocal music was furnished by the choir of Kinkora, led by Mr. D. J. Cameron, while Miss Claude Craig presided at the organ. Many plays were successfully carried out, and Mr. J. J. Johnston, Attorney-at-Law, of Charlottetown, gave a well rendered address on the workings of the League of the Cross. He is a very forcible speaker, commands the attention of his hearers to perfection with the greatest ease, and gives every promise of having a very successful career at the bar.
Mercantile transactions here are conducted by Mr. Albert Craig and Mr. P. F. Hughes, who have large and well-stocked stores of dry goods and groceries, always sell at the lowest prices and are kind and obliging to customers.
Our school is progressing favorably under the guidance of the worthy principal, Mr. Johnston, and his able assistant, Miss Macdonald. Mr. Johnston is preparing several students for the entrance examination to the Prince of Wales College, to be held on the 1st of July next.
Our efficient postmaster and telephone agent, Mr. F. P. Murpy, is ever at his post to do all in his power to oblige the public, both by mail and by electricity.
JUSTINUS.

A GOOD DEFINITION OF GRITISM.—J. A. Chesley, the new member for St. John, N. B., tells a good story about the late member for that city, Judge Skinner. It will be remembered that Mr. Skinner left the conservative party some years ago and was elected as an independant liberal, and for several sessions voted with the opposition. Two sessions ago he became disgusted with the grit policy, or want of policy, and supported his old conservative friends. When he returned to St. John after the session of 1891 some of his liberal friends asked him, why he had left the party. "Well," he said, "it is this way: I could get along well enough with you fellows down here, but I could not get along at all with the Ontario grits. They are just like a lot of geese in a pasture. They eat up everything in front of them; they scratch up everything behind them and nothing comes again where they once have been."—Montreal Gazette.

The Seven Wonders of the World!

A GREATER ONE IN OUR OWN LAND.

Thousands Have Found It, and are Full of Admiration.

The seven wonders of the world, which are the Egyptian Pyramids, the Mausoleum erected by Artemisia, the temple of Diana at Ephesus, the walls and hanging gardens of Babylon, the Colossus at Rhodes, the statue of Jupiter Olympius, and the Pharos or watchtower of Alexandria never created the wonder, surprise and admiration which Paine's Celery Compound has occasioned.
Many of the old time wonders are crumbling away, owing to age and decay; Paine's Celery Compound will ever stand while suffering exists in the world. The old time wonders never benefitted diseased men and women; Paine's Celery Compound is ever with us to heal and renew life.
Reader, this remedy is a truly wonderful blessing; it will bless your life if you are a sufferer from disease; it can make you whole and sound. Have you tried its mighty curative powers? If not, decide at once; do not delay its use if you value your life.

Public Meeting at Victoria.

According to notice, a large representative meeting was held at Victoria on Thursday evening last to further consider the advisability of petitioning the Government to subsidize a steamer of suitable dimensions to run from Victoria Harbor to Pugwash, N. S. John S. McQuarrie was called to the chair, and the undersigned was chosen Secretary. Agreeable to promise at the former meeting, a report of the yearly exports and imports of Crapaud was submitted, and a statement showing the amount of freight that in all probability would go by this route if a steamer could be procured.
This was followed by a resolution declaring that "it is expedient to petition the Government to subsidize and procure a steamer to ply on this route."
After some two or three persons had spoken to the resolution, our local representatives, Hon. William Campbell and Mr. Warburton, who kindly favored us with their presence, came forward and ably advocated the resolution, setting forth very forcibly the desirability and great benefit that would accrue from putting a suitable boat on this route, and that trade would grow and develop until all would be benefitted thereby.
It was then moved and seconded and unanimously carried, that the resolution be adopted; and a committee was immediately appointed to draft and submit a petition to that effect.
The business part of the meeting being disposed of, Mr. Campbell thought it would not be out of place to have a little talk on politics; and rising, he gave an excellent speech touching on various phases of the outlook and pleasantly heaving an occasional shell into the Government camp. He was followed by Mr. Warburton in a pithy speech ably defending his party.
A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to these two gentlemen for their kindness in attending, and the good service thus rendered was suitably acknowledged.

St. Joseph's Literary Society.

A large, orderly and interested audience enjoyed a musical and literary treat in the Hall at Kelly's Cross, Lot 29, on February 1st, when Mr. J. H. Reddin, of Charlottetown, delivered his edifying and entertaining lecture on "St. Ignatius Loyola," the founder of the Jesuit Order. The lecture contained a great deal of food for thought, was well written and as well read. It would but detract from its merits to attempt to recall any of its glowing passages again on paper; suffice it to say that the clever lecturer's audience, by their attention, showed that they fully appreciated its worth. This is the second of the course of lectures procured for the enjoyment and intellectual benefit of the members of the St. Joseph's Literary Society by Father McElmeel, Spiritual Director of the society and our esteemed pastor.
In connection with the lecture, music also took a leading part in enhancing the pleasure of the evening. A solo, "Killarney," by Miss M. A. Trainor, was so well rendered and received that she was obliged to respond to a persistent encore. The reading by Mr. John Smith, vice-president of the society, was just the thing to raise a laugh, and was so read as to "bring down the house" with rapturous applause. Miss Sarah A. McQuaid sang in fine voice "The Musician and His Harp," and also, with violin accompaniment by her brother, Master Dominick, "People will Talk," in response to an encore. The choruses of the school children were leading features of the programme.
A vote of thanks to Mr. Reddin was moved by Mr. John Smith, seconded by Mr. Devereaux, and supported by Mr. J. J. Bradley, Rev Father McElmeel and Rev J. A. McDonald, who favored the audience with his presence. "Father James" spoke in eulogistic terms of the status of the St. Joseph's Literary Society, and promised to attend future ensertainments at Kelly's Cross.
The audience departed, well satisfied, with the singing of God Save the Queen.
