

DITCHING FOR STORM SEWER ON TCH NEAR TOWERS

SECTION OF TCH FILL NORTH OF ST. DUNSTAN'S COLLEGE

Landscape Changes As T.C.H. Is Constructed North Of City

Work on the section of the Trans Canada Highway north of the City is progressing satisfactorily according to Hon. J. George MacKay, Minister of Highways for the Province.

The brow of the hill at St. Dunstan's College has been lowered by four feet and the hollow north of the College has been filled in to a depth of 20 feet. This part of the work has been done in conformity with the sight distance regulation in TCH construction which requires that there shall be an unrestricted view for a minimum of 600 feet. Also there shall be no grade of over six per cent on any portion of the highway.

TILE DRAINAGE

At present a six and a half foot ditch is being excavated on either side of the road for a distance of 1,800 feet southward from the completed section of the highway.

A twelve inch sewer pipe will be laid in the ditch and will receive the drainage through twelve catch basins. As stated in a previous article, the concrete surface of the road will be 22 feet wide with a ten foot asphalt shoulder on either side.

Underground drainage will also be used in a 3,500 area of the Highway immediately north of the City limits.

BUILDINGS MOVED

The top soil and sod have been removed and the city water main at St. Dunstan's has been diverted. Two buildings have been removed and three more remain to be removed. In all instances these buildings have had to be shifted only a short distance from their previous site.

Tenders for the paving of the road will be opened Friday the 12th and it is hoped that paving will follow the subgrading as soon as possible.

The Maritime Electric Company has built a complete new line in the area and the Island Telephone Company have made a temporary move for construction purposes after which it is understood they will construct a new line.

An effort is being made to de-oute all traffic by way of the North River Road during the progress of the work.

Efficient Officer A Former Islander

A native Islander, Officer Leo J. Brogan, of the Lowell, Mass. Police Department, played a prominent part in the apprehension of three would-be safe-crackers who entered a private dwelling in the American community on July 5th. The Islander was instrumental in detecting the presence of one of the conspirators, who was hiding in a clothes closet to escape capture. The Lowell Sun states that "seeing a man's shoes protruding behind a quantity of women's dresses in the closet, Officer Brogan ordered Turner (one of the culprits to "come out or I'll shoot." He obeyed and meekly surrendered."

Officer Turner, who visits the Island twice yearly, spent his boyhood days on the farm of his uncle, Leo J. Brogan, Fort Augustus. At present his father, William A. Brogan, is visiting the farm, where he will remain until September, when Officer Brogan will visit.

They will then return to the U. S.A.

After exhilarating sport, a delicious lunch was served by teachers and parents. Ice Cream was supplied by the Women's Institute.

Canada Receives Renewed Assurances From Britain

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada has received renewed assurances that Britain will press for the exclusion of food products from the proposed European free trade area.

Britain's minister of state, David Ormsby-Gore, said in Geneva Monday that foodstuffs will be excluded from any British membership in the new trading club.

Federal officials in Ottawa said earlier Canada will put up a strong fight against the inclusion of farm products in the trading arrangement to protect its foodstuffs market in the United Kingdom. These authorities fear that such inclusion might endanger this multi-million dollar market by the eventual whittling away of Canada's tariff advantages gained through Commonwealth preferences.

On his return to Canada Saturday from Britain, Prime Minister Diefenbaker said he received assurances in London that Britain will press for exclusion of farm products. However, he said that some continental countries want foodstuffs included.

OUTLINES POSITION

The British position was outlined in Geneva by Mr. Ormsby-Gore before the United Nations Economic and Social Council.

"Because of our special links with the Commonwealth, it has proved impossible for us to join a system of free trade which includes foodstuffs," Mr. Ormsby-Gore said.

"Over 50 per cent of our agricultural imports come from the Commonwealth," he said. "We must maintain the main structure of our preferences in favor of imports from Commonwealth countries. Any action which involves removing or reducing our tariffs on foodstuffs is ruled out of this reason."

Implications of the free trade area, as it might affect Commonwealth countries, now are being studied by Canadian trade experts attending a Commonwealth meeting in London.

Britain and other European countries are planning to join the free trade area to promote greater production and trade among member countries through gradual reduction or elimination of tariffs and other barriers. There would be a common fixed rate of tariffs to countries outside the area which would be higher than those inside the area to give greater production or domestic producers. This could have the effect of watering down Commonwealth trade preferences.

Attended TB Association Convention In Vancouver

Mr. Grath C. Crockett B.S.P.H., M.S.P.H. Health Educator with the Prince Edward Island Department of Health, returned recently from Vancouver, B.C. where he attended the national meeting of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association.

Mr. Crockett stated that the conference was a decided success with representatives from every of the Dominion in attendance, as well as several participants from the United States and other countries.

Although great advances have been made against disease from tuberculosis the battle is far from over. Mr. Crockett said this was the main theme of the conference, it was emphasized that only through a continued campaign, hard work and education is there any hope of finally stamping out the disease.

Over 9,000 new cases of tuberculosis were found in Canada last year, and this figure coupled with repeat cases still make tuberculosis a great factor to be reckoned with he continued. However, deaths from the disease were down a considerable extent over the past five years, due chiefly to the use of new drugs.

Health Education played a prominent part in the discussions of the general assembly and Mr. Crockett delivered a paper on the "Tuberculin testing program on Prince Edward Island." He said that great interest was shown in the organization of the program here and in the use of the Heat Teast, an improved type of tuberculin test currently being used on the Island.

The cordiality of the people on the West Coast was warmly commented on by Mr. Crockett.
