

Barely Six Days—

than you take up sports, go to college, go into business or become globe-trotters, and instead of lifting their eyebrows at them, all intelligent people give them the glad hand. For it is a fine thing for a woman to have initiative enough to find something interesting and enjoyable to do that will make the latter part of her life perhaps the better part of it, instead of sitting down in the corner at home in dull despair waiting for death to come and get her.

The greatest modern improvement is that we have abolished age and have thrown into the junk pile the hampering superstitions about what an old person should wear and what an old person should do and how old people should conduct themselves.

So next time your critical friend tells you that women of 53 are not riding bicycles, you tell her that they are doing it and whatever they like, and that if she doesn't know it she is just behind the times.

And here is a final tip: Don't let what people say about you worry you so long as your conscience is clear. You will never be happy until you acquire the trick of letting your friends' and your neighbors' criticisms go in one ear and come out of the other without leaving even a memory or a resentment behind.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Two months ago I was engaged to be married to a lovely girl, but just as I thought I was slated for a salary increase, I lost my job. I went to the girl and told her what had happened and though she wanted to marry anyway I left her and told her I would not return until I had found work. As yet I have been unable to get a job and I haven't gone out anywhere for a month because I can't afford it. I am losing faith in everything and everybody, and feel that my life is a wreck, anyhow. I am 22 years old.

ANSWER: Buck up, son, and snap out of it. Do you think you are the first fellow who ever lost a job? Why, there have been millions of them. The ones who had any grit in their craws didn't sit down and give up. They hustled out and got something to do. Do you think you are the first man who ever had to meet any hardship, who ever had his dreams smashed and his plans go awry? Why, son, that has happened to every man in the world, and only the winners went under when they met with disaster. The worth-while ones fought through to success.

The trouble is you have taken your whole misfortune in the wrong way. You've let it get you down and rob you of your self-confidence, and that is one reason you haven't been able to find a job. Another place you have gone wrong is in giving up your girl and not going to see her because your pride won't let you hang around when you can't take her out for good times. You are right not to marry when you have nothing to live on, but that is no reason for not going to see her and letting her comfort you and cheer you up.

DEAR MISS DIX: How is a girl to know what is love? Two years ago I was madly in love with a man, but I was jealous of him, restless and demanding all of his time. We broke up. Now a man wants to marry me. He is a grand person, safe and dependable and very good to me. I am fond of him, but in a calm, peaceful sort of way, not demanding his time, not even jealous. Am I in love, or must there be all of those symptoms I had for my former friend?

ANSWER: Most people only experience the hysteria of love once after that we can love just as truly but more calmly. The fireworks are over but the fire burns with a steady flame and we see men and women for what they are. I should say that you spent your emotionalism on the first man but, you are giving your real heart to the second.

DOROTHY DIX cannot reply personally to readers, but will answer problems of general interest through her column.

Drop Payroll, Gun in Ribs

Carrying the $5,000 payroll of a Toronto construction company, Roland Alston had a German Luger pistol stuck into his ribs, 100 feet from the company office. He dropped the money, saw two men scoop it up and escape in a car.

UNITED NATIONS: 'TOWN MEETING OF THE WORLD'

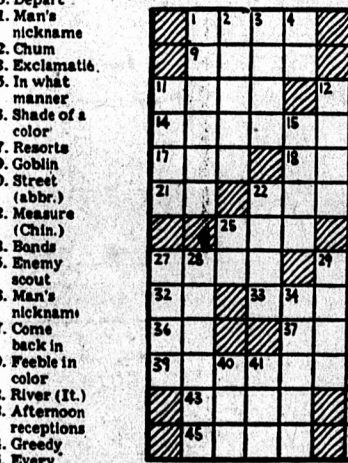

United Nations Day finds the fifth session of the General Assembly, which opened at Flushing Meadows on Sept. 19, facing decisions of the greatest moment to the world. The most critical problem confronting the 51 member nations, representing more than nine-tenths of the habitable world, is that of achieving peace and maintaining it by preventing future aggression. This, the U.N.'s fifth year, might possibly have been its last. But the U.N.'s quick firm action in condemning aggression in Korea and authorizing a military force to combat it, ballooned its prestige. When future history is written, 1950 may be set down as the turning point in the desperate struggle of the world's peoples to end wars and truly turn the sword into a plowshare.

IN 50 YEARS Aluminum has grown to be a large part of Canadian living

THIS PICTURE of the first aluminum plant in the British Empire was taken in 1900. That was only 14 years after Charles Martin Hall had discovered how to make aluminum cheaply by using electricity. The plant was erected in semi-wilderness at Shawinigan Falls because the river was being harnessed to provide electricity. Aluminum was the first to use this power. Today Shawinigan Falls has many other industries and is a hustling, thriving city. Alcan, too, has been growing during these fifty years. Today the company has 12 plants providing jobs for 11,000 Canadians and supplying aluminum to more than 1000 independent Canadian manufacturers from coast to coast. On its 50th Birthday, Alcan looks back over half a century of progress—and forward to continued growth with Canada.

ALUMINUM COMPANY OF CANADA, LTD. Producers and Processors of Aluminum for Canadian Industry and World Markets. Plants in Shawinigan Falls, Arvida, Isle Maligne, Shipshaw, Fort Alfred, Wakefield, Kingston, Toronto, Etobicoke.
