

and power, instead of affording by his conduct a fulfilment of the condemnatory predictions of his opponents, not only does he stand higher than ever he did before in the confidence and esteem of the people of Nova Scotia, but he enjoys a greater share of public respect and regard, throughout the British American Provinces, than any other public man now living therein. When men turned prophets, the events, concerning which they predicted, ultimately proved in nine cases out of ten their absolute want, not only of all prevalence, but of sufficient judgment to calculate the probable issues or results of any plan or course of proceedings, political or otherwise. The present prosperity and happy condition of the people of Nova Scotia, had fully shown the utter worthlessness and fallacy of the reasonings and predictions of the obstructives in that Province, concerning the results of Responsible Government; and no man could be prepared to shew, that the same happy experience would not be consequent upon the changes about to be effected in the Government of this Colony, in accordance with the principles of the Responsible System.

Mr. Longworth maintained, that although a change in public opinion and in the posture of public affairs, might necessitate a change of public policy, and oblige public men to pursue a course which they had formerly been opposed to; yet no public man could, with credit to himself, all at once abandon his former principles of action, and advocate a policy, to the adoption of which he had, all along, offered the most determined opposition, until, convinced by "the signs of the times," as the honorable member, from Bedeque phrased it, that the prosecution of his own views of personal advancement would be materially retarded by a long observance of consistency; and he would plainly tell that hon. member, that in the course which he had recently pursued, there was evidently so complete an abandonment of principle, that he (Mr. Longworth), for one, held him to be altogether unworthy of public trust or confidence.

Mr. Clark observed, that all that had been advanced by the hon. member for Charlottetown against the hon. member for Bedeque, was that he had changed his opinions; and he (Mr. Clark) was quite at a loss to see, how that could be construed into guilt. A conscientious change of opinion, although a mistaken one, could certainly never be a crime; and, surely, to abandon error and adopt the truth, would always be creditable to a man, even although it might be apparent that such a change would bring along with it some immediate personal advantage. The hon. member who seemed to value himself so much upon his consistency and upon his never having changed his political sentiments, would perhaps, excuse his reminding him of the old adage, which says, "Wise men change often, but fools never," particularly as he could assure that hon. member that he did not include him under the latter appellation.

The question being put on the honorable Sol. General's motion of amendment: Ayes—Messrs. Longworth, Yeo, Douse, Montgomery, Haviland, and Honorables Sol. General, Thornton—7. Nays—Messrs. Beaton, Clark, Pope, Mooney, McNeill, Warburton, Whelan, Coles, Lord Flynn, Fraser, Laird, Jardine, Davies—14. The question being put, that the Report be agreed to, the House again divided as above: Ayes—11. Nays—7. So the Bill was adopted as reported.

BLAKE'S Metallic Fire Proof Paint, Or, Artificial Slate.

THIS admirable article has been tested for some years, and proved very valuable, becoming a perfect slate, as hard as marble in a few months, completely protecting whatever is coated with it from the action of weather and fire—a better fire-proof than tin or zinc. Several Insurance Companies certify they will insure buildings covered with it at a cheaper rate, than if covered with those metals. It is of two colors, the black is best for roofing—the chocolate the best thing ever discovered for sides of either brick or wood, forming a perfect stone coating of a handsome stone or chocolate color, can be easily changed by a little white lead to suit the taste. There is nothing equal to it for steamboat and car decks, and all kinds of iron, as it forms a coating nearly as hard as the iron itself, and never cleaves off.

BEWARE OF WORTHLESS COUNTERFEITS.

As the popularity of my paint has induced scores of unprincipled individuals to grind up, and offer as fire-proof paint, all kinds of worthless stuff, much of it nothing but rotten stone that has no cohesive attraction, is held on by the oil with which it is applied; consequently, as soon as the action of the atmosphere destroys the oil, it will wash or rub off like Chalk or Whiting, nothing can yet be known of its lasting qualities, as it is but little over a year since they got them up, whereas mine has been tested about seven, and where first applied is now like a stone.

The original and genuine article can be obtained of PATRICK STEPHENS, Orwell, my authorised Agent for the Island.

W. W. LORD.

Charlottetown, April 14, 1850.

To the free and independent Electors of the First District of Prince County.

GENTLEMEN—

HAVING been chosen by the Majority of the House of Assembly to fill the office of Colonial Secretary, under the new system of Government, and his Excellency the Lieut. Governor, in accordance with the wishes of that Majority, having appointed me thereto, my seat in the Assembly has become vacant, and I am required to go back to you, in order that you may ratify by re-electing me, the selection which His Excellency and the Majority of the Assembly have made.

You are no doubt aware, by the published proceedings of the Assembly, that I recorded my vote against giving retiring allowances to the Attorney General and Colonial Secretary. This vote was given by me with much reluctance, but in strict conformity with a pledge I had made to you. I regretted having given this pledge, inasmuch as it compelled me to appear in opposition to that party with whom I have uniformly acted—for, were I not restrained by my pledge, I should have cheerfully voted with the Majority; because I cannot deem that the concession made by the Assembly, and demanded by the Lieut. Governor, in compliance with his imperative instructions, ought to be put in comparison with the immense advantages which will accrue to this Colony from the introduction of Responsible Government. It is not necessary that I should particularise these advantages on this occasion, as I have no doubt they are well understood by most of you, and as I will have a better opportunity of entering into a full explanation of them, should that be required, at the time of the election. Suffice it to say that, independently of the great privilege which the people now possess, under the truly British system of Government conceded to this Island, of controlling the administration of their own affairs—Imperial revenues to the amount of nearly two thousand pounds, hitherto beyond the controul of the Legislature, have been surrendered to the Colony.

In conclusion, I trust that my past conduct is a sufficient guarantee that I have not abused the confidence with which you have honoured me; and cheered by the consciousness of having faithfully discharged my duty, I am now emboldened to solicit your suffrages at the ensuing Election.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen, Your obedient servant, JAMES WARBURTON. Charlottetown, April 28, 1851.
