

Three More Players Signed By Local Club

George McLagan, Howard Beaudrey and James Mooney from a professional hockey training team at Three Rivers, P. Q., are the latest acquisitions to the Islanders Hockey Club. It was announced by officials of the Club at an executive meeting held last evening.

The information was received by telegram yesterday from Manager-Coach Murph Chamberlain who has been watching the team working out at Three Rivers during the past several days. Chamberlain did not elaborate as to the individual ratings or positions of the three new players who now swell the import ranks of the Club to approximately twelve players.

Officials of the P. E. I. Hockey Club also announced that the organization has now been officially incorporated and that everyone possessing holding seats for the season are members of the corporation.

During last night's executive meeting the question of unsold holding seats in the Forum plant was brought up and it was suggested that officials urge fans throughout the Province to get in their application for seats while they still last and to inform those in rural areas that they may procure their seats by writing to the Travel Bureau where the plan is open daily.

Ezinicki Missing At Leafs Camp

ST. CATHERINES, Ont., Sept. 18 (CP)—Rightwinger Bill Ezinicki failed to show up for the opening of the Toronto Maple Leafs hockey training season here today.

General Manager Conn Smythe said it "looks like Ezinicki has bodychecked himself back to the fourth or fifth line." Smythe added he doesn't think the team will miss Ezinicki if he doesn't show up.

Observers suggested the rightwinger doesn't want to play hockey this winter or that he would like to get himself traded. During the summer Ezinicki acted as a golf pro at a club in New York state.

Abbies Planning Senior, Intermediate Football Teams

Officials of the Charlottetown Abeswegit football team announced last night that they expect to have both a senior and intermediate team this year as the result of the large turnout of players that has prevailed at practice sessions during the past week.

After being out of the football picture for a number of seasons the Abbie Club have been making a determined effort this year to form a team and get back into the competition again and the reaction has been a spontaneous one among local rugby players. They have been turning out in numbers of twenty-five and thirty at a single practice session and it is the feeling of the team management that both senior and intermediate teams should be formed in order to give all players who are anxious to play with the Club a chance to do so.

The joint coaching staff of Lt.-Col. W. J. MacDonald, Gordon Bennett and Jim McCallum are very enthusiastic about the turnouts and the daily conditioning and practice sessions have progressed so well during the past week that they will hold their first scrimmage sessions this afternoon.

Officials also stated last night that negotiations with Mt. Allison University are already underway to arrange an exhibition series with the Mainland University and that similar arrangements are being made with the local colleges as well. It is hoped that the first encounter of the season might be played next week.

Phillies To Honor Applications For Series Tickets

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18 (AP)—Philadelphia Phillies announced today they will honor applications for World Series tickets postmarked after midnight EDT Wednesday, Sept. 20.

President Bob Carpenter said the Phillies will sell tickets to single games and that the ducats won't be handled in a three-or-four-game block as other clubs have done in the past.

"This way," Carpenter said, "we'll be giving about 92,000 fans an opportunity to see the World Series instead of 23,000." There are 32,500 seats at Shibe Park and no standing room will be sold.

(The Phillies have not yet clinched the pennant, but hold a 7 1-2 game lead over Boston Braves with only 12 games to play.)

Carpenter said applications must be accompanied by certified checks or money orders with the name and address of the applicant written in the upper left hand corner of the ticket request. Applications should be sent to the Philadelphia National League Club, Box 6925, Philadelphia 32, Pa.

Box seats will be sold for $8.75 each, reserved seats for $5.50. Bleacher seat tickets of $1 each will be sold at the ball park.

Carpenter said that under the Phillies' precedent-breaking plan, tickets will be sold for the sixth and seventh games as well as the first and second and that money will be refunded provided the sixth and seventh games are not played.

If the Phillies win the National League pennant and there is no playoff necessary in the American League, the series will open at Shibe Park Oct. 4.

Cardinals Have Suspicion This Not Their Year

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP)—St. Louis Cardinals have a suspicion that this just wasn't their year.

"Lost 30 games by one run," coach Terry Moore said. "Thirty games," he repeated, and Eros Slaughter, the Cardinal outfielder who is anybody's idea of a baseball player, nodded glumly in agreement.

"We were a little skeptical of that figure, so we checked on it. It's only 26 games, but that's like saying you don't lose $100, but only $90.75."

"We just couldn't hit with men on bases," Slaughter put in. "I've been in a slump, Stan Musial, although he's hit steadily on the whole, hasn't been hitting with men on. He and I should have batted in 140 run apiece."

"The team not only hasn't been getting base hits," Moore added. "We haven't even been able to get a fly ball to score a run that might tie or win a game."

"Our pitching has been good. Our fielding hasn't been so good. But it's the lack of hitting that has cost us."

Both Slaughter and Moore figure that the same Cardinal team, with an average number of breaks, and with the players hitting as they can hit, would have won the National League pennant.

"I don't know, though," Slaughter said thoughtfully. "I just don't think we were supposed to win this year. You know how seldom an umpire gets hit by a batted ball. Well, in one of our games it happened twice, and cost us the game. When those things happen, you figure it must not be in the cards for you to win."

It was obvious that neither Slaughter nor Moore figures the team's abrupt tailspin which eliminated it from the race was due to the inroads of age. A common idea is that the Cardinals suddenly have been taken old, and that on a still evening you could hear their joints creaking for blocks.

Expect Good Boxing At S'ide Tomorrow Night

Prince County boxing fans are looking forward to the better than usual boxing card to be held in the Old Curling Rink in Summerside on Wednesday evening. The fact that those perennial rivals, Bud Lund and Tiger Steele, will be punching it out for the Island lightweight championship, is enough to draw a great many of the faithful followers of the squared circle to Summerside Wednesday evening.

Lund is putting his title on the block and Steele will be giving all he has to take it away from the present champ. And all that Steele has will be plenty to please the boxing fans, if not enough to topple Lund from his throne.

Bud Ramsay of Alberton and Bobby Gallant of Charlottetown are slated for the semi-final and action is assured when Alberton's pride and joy climbs into the ring with the Gallant boy whose ability is well known.

Louis Lafferty, who has pleased Prince County boxing fans more than once in Summerside rings, will be stacked against Curly Heron, who is new in these parts but who has a rep as a boy who fights harder the harder he is stung.

There will be three other fights on the card, but the names of the fighters have not yet been released. With the first three fights assured, however, fight fans can't go very wrong in attending this Legion-sponsored slug fest.

Phillies Hard Hit By Injuries Last Few Weeks

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18 (AP)—Philadelphia Phillies, needing only eight victories to clinch the National League pennant, are heading down the stretch with only two able-bodied starting pitchers, Robin Roberts and Russ Meyer.

Manager Eddie Sawyer said that with his crippled pitching staff, selection of starters is a "day-to-day problem," but he indicated that for the rest of this week, at least, it'll be Roberts and Meyer Roberts and Meyer.

The pennant-bound Phillies, who went through the first five months of the season without a major injury, have lost five key players since the start of September. But the Phils have a 7 1/2 game cushion and even the loss of five players shouldn't keep them from their first National League championship in 35 years.

Four more games at home are scheduled, single games tomorrow and Wednesday with Chicago and singletons Saturday and Sunday with Brooklyn Dodgers. Roberts and Meyer are likely to work in both series—with fireman Jim Konstanty ready for relief duty at all times.

The first player lost to the club this month was 21-year-old Curt Simmons, inducted into the army. Then, in rapid succession, rookies Bubba Church and Bob Miller were put out by injuries.

Meyer was hurt Sunday, spraining ankle when he tried to make a play at first base. Sawyer said he should be ready to go again Wednesday.

Miller hasn't thrown since he was removed from Saturday's game suffering a muscle strain. Sawyer said he hopes Bob will be able to pitch before the season ends, but added "it's all up in the air."

Church is in hospital, recovering from an injury to his face. He was hurt by a line drive off the bat of Ted Kuszewski of Cincinnati. Whether or not Church will pitch again this season is not known.

The Phils' manager said he will seek to replace Simmons for the World Series—"If we win"—with one of the rookie pitchers up from Toronto of the International League. The American League opponent must approve the choice.

The same goes for an outfield position where Sawyer already has asked to have Jackie Mayo substitute for the ailing Bill Nicholson. Again, it's up to the opposition. Nicholson is through for the season as a result of a diabetic condition.

Peakes Wins King's County Baseball Crown

Peakes Station won the final game of the King's County baseball playoffs against Bouris in a nine-inning performance at Peakes' dining room on Sunday by a score of 10-7. Played before a crowd of over 300 fans, the Peakes' squad chalked up their third straight victory for the title.

Using the excellent battery of Handrahan and Devine, Peakes played tight infield ball while they moved ahead to win the game. At the conclusion of the game the King's County Intermediate physical fitness trophy was presented to the team captain, George Smith, by John A. MacDonald. Peakes will now meet Mimingash to play off for the Island title.
