

Colds ON THE Chest

are dangerous; they weaken the constitution, inflame the lungs, and often lead to Pneumonia. Cough syrups are useless. The system must be given strength and force to throw off the disease.

Scott's Emulsion will do this. It strengthens the lungs and builds up the entire system. It conquers the inflammation, cures the cough, and prevents serious trouble.

CO-OPERATION IN THE EXPORT OF PRODUCE.

It will astonish many people to learn that in 1899 the value of the principal food products imported by Great Britain amounted to 620 million dollars and that of this Canada contributed only seven per cent.

The problem that has to be solved by the farmers of this country is how to capture this market, in other words, how to produce, how to pack, how to ship, and how to sell. Professor Robertson estimates that this country can readily supply Great Britain with one-third of the principal food stuffs she consumes, and we do not believe that he has overshot the mark, for if we have much to accomplish and much to learn, we have only just begun to set ourselves in earnest to the task.

We have improved in fruit culture and scientific cultivation of the soil; we have made satisfactory progress in the manufacture of our cheese and butter, and we are working hard to perfect our system of cold storage. But stupid, dishonest packing it still rampant amongst us, and hitherto we have not seen any really intelligent attempt to market Canadian farm products in Great Britain.

It is not surprising that the farmer has preferred to sell his produce for what he can get a middle man to, rather than himself ship to the British market, for he has been completely at the mercy of the receiver in the Old Country. How could the shipper know who was to be trusted and who was not? If the English broker claimed that the goods were damaged, or not in accordance with the contract, how could the shipper in Canada fight against him? And there was no means of checking the charges that were made in accounts of sale. The English broker has been in the habit of adding to his commission extra charges which on this side of the water are unknown, such as cooerage, cataloguing, selecting, grading and etceteras, so that the shipper never really knew what amount would be deducted from the proceeds of his shipments.

It is gratifying to learn that at last these difficulties have been grappled with in a business manner, without attempting to depart, as others have done, from the established channels of trade. We have before us the literature of the European Exporters' Association of Toronto, Limited, an incorporated company with an authorized capital of $1,000,000, organized for the protection of Canadian shippers. The Premier of Ontario is the president and Mr. James Scott vice-president, and the list of shareholders includes men like Sir Charles Tupper, Sir Wm Howland Hon Geo E Foster, Messrs Reuben Millichamp, S F McKinnon, and R Bickerdike, late president of the Montreal Board of Trade, besides a number of well known men in England, of whom, perhaps, M. Henniker Heaton, of penny postage fame, is best known in Canada. The association has offices in Toronto, Montreal and London, England, and an extensive system of agents at Canada and British port.

The association undertakes, on behalf of Canadian exporters, to arrange freight contracts, to attend to the stowage and prompt transportation of shipments and to investigate any claims that may be made by receivers, and report. Only one receiver is selected at each port for each kind of produce. The best man is chosen, and the best possible terms are made with him.

Canadian exporters can thus, by co-operation through the association, be guaranteed protection and honest treatment from the consignee in Europe and the larger the volume that flows through this channel, the stronger and more effective will be the guarantee. Each receiver nominated by the association has always present before him the knowledge that, if dealings with him are not satisfactory, the trade will be given to another firm, and there are plenty who are anxious to get it.

The principle of co-operation has been successfully adopted by Canadian farmers in the management of cheese factories and creameries. We should like to see the same principle applied to the packing and shipping of apples. We can see no reason why the different horticultural societies should not undertake this work as is done by the fruit associations in Florida and California, where each association employs its own expert packers and has its own brand. For all such associations, as well as individual shippers of all kinds of produce, the European Exporters' Association will prove an invaluable agency. It supplies the link that was wanted in the perfection of our export system, and promises to play a very important part in the development of Canadian export trade.

IS IT IMPOSSIBLE?

The boards of trade and other sections of the community which are specially interested in the project of preferential trade are not likely to accept the dictum of Sir Wilfrid Laurier that it is impossible. Every mail brings further evidence that the movement in its favor in the mother country is growing in force. Indeed the progress made is so marked that it has already attracted the attention of the philosopher. In a paper read before the economics section of the British association, Mr. L. L. Price pointed out that "the aid rendered by the colonies to the mother country in the war was likely to increase the momentum behind the conception of an Imperial Zollverein. Such a customs union, while it might conceivably result in an increase of internal free trade within the limits of the Empire, must in all likelihood involve some different treatment of foreign goods, and so far, infringe the principle of free trade strictly interpreted. But a non possumus attitude towards a customs union was no longer possible."

According to this observer, it is not preferential trade, but Sir Wilfrid Laurier's attitude towards it, which is impossible. Time will prove whether the philosopher or the politician is right. But one thing is clear. Preferential trade is impossible so long as Sir Wilfrid Laurier is Premier of Canada. His conviction that it is impossible goes a long way towards making it so. Holding it an impossibility, he naturally makes no effort to obtain it—Montreal Gazette.
