C. B. Colliery To Close In 10 Mos.

GLACE BAY, N.S. (CP)—Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation said Monday its No. 25 colliery at nearby Gardiner mines will close in 18 months.

Until then, said H. C. M. Gordon, manager of Dosco coal operations, the mine will go on single shift and its 300 men will be transferred to other company operations. No 25 usually works two eight-hour shifts.

Mr. Gordon said water has been "pouring" into the mine for three years and since its source can't be determined "the company will not take chances on the safety of the men."

Cons. Wins In Wellington South

GUELPH, Ont. (CP)—Progressive Conservative Alfred D. Hales captured the Liberal stronghold of Wellington South in a deferred Dominion election vote Monday, increasing his party's strength in the 265-member House of Commons to 110 seats.

Mr. Hales, scoring the first win for his party in this seat since 1936, took a two-to-one edge over Liberal David Tolton from the start of the vote-counting. Thomas Withers, CCF, ran third.

Shortly after 8 p.m., Mr. Tolton conceded the election to Mr. Hales.

The election here was deferred from the Canada-wide voting date of June 10 due to the death June 3 of Henry Hosking, the Liberal candidate who had held the seat since 1949.

The result gave the Progressive Conservatives a margin of four seats in the House of Commons over the Liberals who have 106 seats, including one Liberal-Labor member who supports the Liberals. The CCF holds 25 seats, Social Credit 19, Independents 2, Independent-Liberal 1, Independent-Progressive Conservative 1.

There is a vacancy in Lanark, where a bye-election will be held Sept. 9, due to the death June 16 of William Blair.

In the 1953 election, Mr. Hales polled 8,722 votes, 553 less than Mr. Hosking. Mr. Withers ran third then with 2,431.

The last Conservative victory in 1930, was scored by the late Hon. Hugh Guthrie who held the seat for 35 consecutive years, from 1900 to 1935. He was elected four times as a Liberal. Once as a wartime Unionist and four times as a Conservative.

This was Wellington South's 23rd general election vote. It returned Liberals 16 times. Monday's result gave the Conservatives seven victories.

Tuberculosis Survey Now Approaching 20,000 Mark

Dr. M. Lorne Bonnell, Minister of Health, announced last night that the number of people receiving the Heat Tuberculin Test in the current Island-wide Tuberculosis Survey is approaching the 20,000 mark. The survey has been in operation since September of 1956.

The programme, which is a joint project of the Provincial Department of Health and the Prince Edward Island Tuberculosis League is under the supervision of E. M. Found, M.D., C.M. Director of the Division of Tuberculosis Control and Superintendent of the Provincial Sanatorium, only adults and school children are tested. About 30 per cent of the people show positive reactions, and are x-rayed. There is no charge.

Since the spring, the Survey has been in operation in the eastern end of the Island. Clinics were held at the following centres: Belle River, Murray River, Murray Harbour, Alliston, Montague, Cardigan, Bridgetown, Georgetown, Rollo Bay West and Elmira. Dr. Bonnell continued by saying that the Survey is considered a success, with from 70-91 per cent of the population from each district turning out for the clinics.

Dr. Bonnell again urged the people of the Island to attend and support these clinics. Although great strides have been made in the treatment of tuberculosis, there is much work yet to be done. "For the sake of each person, his family, and his community, each individual should make it a point to attend these clinics. Only by this means can we hope to locate every case of tuberculosis in the Province and finally eradicate the disease," he said.

Old Age Period Starts At 45 Yrs

MERANO, Italy (AP)—Old age is a disease, a leading scientist says, and the time to start treating it is before you even suspect you are getting old.

The critical period starts at about 45 years, Dr. Enrico Greppi of Italy, president of the International Association of Gerontology, told the group's congress Monday. Gerontology is the general study of old age problems.

Greppi, himself 65, said old age can be considered "a disease consisting of deficiencies and illnesses—a chronic and fatally progressive disease."

Like any other disease, Greppi said, it can best be treated from its start with certain detectable symptoms allowing for diagnosis and preventive medicine and treatment to slow the process.

These symptoms, Greppi said, are not baldness or graying hair, but such signs as a tendency to grow fat, or become nervous.

"Over-nutrition is one of the elements hastening old age in some people," Greppi emphasized.

"Old age is a fate we must accept," Greppi said. "We gerontologists must not be asked to bring along a theory on how to achieve new youth. It would be undignified and morally wrong."

Mr. MacPhee was a graduate in Arts from St. Dunstan's and Laval. He was admitted to the Bar of Prince Edward Island in 1922, and appointed King's Counsel in 1931.

He was a past president of the Charlottetown Board of Trade; a member of the governing body of St. Dunstan's University; a member of the governing body of the Charlottetown Hospital. At the time of his death he was the senior partner in the firm of MacPhee and Trainor.

As a member of the City School Board he served faithfully for 30 years. He was a member of the 4th Degree Knights of Columbus, Bishop MacEachern Assembled, M.L.A. of Bloomfield.

Krushchev Blames West For Lack Of Development

By HAROLD K. MILKS
PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev, "rooted" for world disarmament in a speech to the Czechs Monday. At the same time he pledged "we shall take care that your frontier with West Germany remains well-protected."

"The American soldiers (based in West Germany) are practically able to look right into your windows," the Soviet Communist party boss declared in an address at industrial Pilsen (Pilsen). "But don't worry about that. We shall take care that this border remains firm and protected."

The area between Pilsen and the West German Frontier is the former German Sudetenland. Czechoslovakia expelled several million Sudeten Germans after the Second World War and has since been trying hard to repopulate the area with Czechs.

Khrushchev blamed the western powers, particularly the United States, for lack of solid developments in the London disarmament talks. Those talks, in the five-nation United Nations disarmament subcommittee, have been under way almost four months.

He said Czechoslovakia's Communist leaders, with whom he and Premier Nikolai Bulganin have been conferring off-and-on for a week, fully endorsed the Moscow purge of a dissident group headed by Georgi Malenkov, V. M. Molotov and Lazar Kaganovich.

Nuclear Power For New Ship

LONDON (CP)—Two big British companies Monday announced they have formed a firm which plans to build a 50,000-ton nuclear-powered merchant vessel.

The new firm, named Hawker Siddely John Brown Nuclear Construction Limited, will be operated in equal partnership by the Hawker Siddely engineering group and John Brown, the Scottish ship building company which built the Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary.

Sir Roy Dobson, director of the Hawker Siddely group and chairman of the new company, said the atomic-powered vessel, an oil-tanker, is "in the project stage."

He told a press conference that the project is being carried out without financial assistance from the government, although several government departments have expressed interest.

Sir Roy said the new company is an augmentation of Hawker Siddely's diversification plans in the United Kingdom and Canada.

These have included acquisition of the Brush group, purchase of an interest in the Algoma Ship Company of Canada, Limited, acquisition of Canadian Applied Research, Limited, and formation (in conjunction with the English Steel Company of Canada, Limited.) of Canadian Steel Wheel, Limited.

Sir Roy declined to say when the prototype will be completed or what the approximate cost will be. The new company, which has a capital of £500,000 has behind it the resources of its parent companies and also those of about 60 other firms with scientific, engineering and manufacturing experience. Dobson added:

"We believe that this new company, backed by such experience and resources, will strengthen the British challenge for leadership in the nuclear power field."

Asks For Patience At Disarmament Conference

By WATSON SIMS
LONDON (AP)—Harold E. Stassen pleaded with the United Nations disarmament subcommittee Monday to show patience and persistence in trying to reach a partial disarmament treaty.

Stassen, apparently moved by Russian attacks on the subcommittee's lack of progress, and some Western reports that an early recess may be called, insisted that a first step treaty was in sight.

The leader of the U.S. delegation said the five countries on the subcommittee were ready to spend years building and designing a new bomber. He urged the same sort of patience be shown in trying to find a treaty which would make such bombers unnecessary.

Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin replied that Russia was willing to continue the talks but he urged Stassen to speed his presentation of U.S. proposals for a partial treaty. Zorin quoted what he said was an old Russian proverb that patience and toil will work their way through the hardest rock.

Russia could continue to be patient, Zorin said, except for the fact that more weapons were being built while the talks continue. Zorin said much common ground has been reached in the four months of talks. But he complained that every time the West has yielded a point it has hedged in that concession with unacceptable conditions.

He said Khrushchev's Communist leaders, with whom he and Premier Nikolai Bulganin have been conferring off-and-on for a week, fully endorsed the Moscow purge of a dissident group headed by Georgi Malenkov, V. M. Molotov and Lazar Kaganovich.

The British account portrayed Russia and the four Western delegates as exchanging angry accusations that the other was responsible for holding up progress in the negotiations. The American briefing officer gave a more subdued picture.

The Americans said Zorin again called upon Stassen to complete presentation of U.S. proposals for aerial inspection and missiles—items not yet touched in the U.S. disarmament treaty proposal.

Stassen, who had been expected to begin outlining these items Monday, was reported to have replied consultations among the Western nations had not been fully completed. Stassen said he hoped to begin his presentation later in the week and indicated he may require two or three weeks to wind it up. The subcommittee will resume negotiations Wednesday.
