

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS

FRIDAY 18th.—Carnival—Carnival.

DRAMATIC.—Two of the most enjoyable farces—a double bill—are a "Cup of Tea" and "Who's Who's?" to be given in St. Peter's Hall on the 22nd inst.

LADIES AID.—A special meeting of the Hospital Ladies Aid will be held tomorrow, Tuesday morning, at 11.30 in the Y. M. C. A. Parlor.

THE PYRAMIDS.—We congratulate our esteemed and venerable friend, Dr. Leeming upon his address delivered before the Teachers' Association on Saturday evening.

WORTH READING.—Our readers will find the story of The Oregon Desert, of which the first chapters appear today, will be worth reading. We advise them not to miss the beginning of the interesting tale.

FRIDAY'S CONCERT.—The plans for the concert in the Opera House on Friday evening, will be in the usual places on Tuesday morning. All persons having already purchased tickets will do well to exchange them for their seats as early as possible, as judging by the number now sold, the people will crowd the Opera House on the 18th.

POLICE COURT.—At the Police Court this morning, a "drunk and disorderly" was fined $8 or 40 days. The prisoner in this case who is a city laborer was the hero of nearly all the drunken rows on election day last week and the Stipendiary gave him a well deserved lecture. A man charged with an assault, confessed and was let off with a fine of five cents and costs the complainant declining to prosecute.

AYRSHIRE CATTLE.—At a meeting of the Dominion Ayrshire Breeders' Association, held in Toronto on the 10th inst., a resolution was passed that the registration of Ayrshire cattle of the maritime provinces be transferred to the dominion herd book and that maritime cattle be allowed free registration for 12 months. The following are among the vice presidents elected: Wm. Miller, Prince Edward Island, H. Perley, New Brunswick.

LITERARY NOTES.—Of the many regiments engaged in the recent fighting on the Indian Frontier, none have more willingly borne the "heat and burden of the day," than those of the Gurkhas. The editor of the Pall Mall Magazine is glad to announce that the March number will contain an historical article on these brave and hardy little soldiers. "The Record of the Gurkhas," written by Frederick P. Gibbon and illustrated by Charles M. Sheldon, the well-known war correspondent.

ABEGWEIT RETURNED.—The Abegweit Hockey Team arrived home on Saturday. Mr. B. C. Prowse and the team on the day before leaving Halifax were taken for a drive about the city by the Wanderers, during the course of which a snowball was fired at one of the sleighs. It struck Mr. Prowse on the right eye and so serious was the injury that a specialist had to be consulted. We are glad to be able to report that although painful the eye is getting better. The same snowball after hitting Mr. Prowse, struck Carbonell who was sitting in the same sleigh. Two other members of the team came home wounded Sullivan whose lip was badly cut in one of the games and Flood who was slightly injured. The Halifax papers comparing to play of the Island boys in the two matches seem to think that had they been more familiar with the rink at the first match they would have played a better game with the Wanderers. Their improvement on the second evening when they defeated the Chebuctos was most noticeable.

THE UNFINISHED SONG.

With dimpled arms so round and white
She rolls the snowy dough,
Dreaming and smiling as she works,
Her soft cheeks all aglow.

She sings a tender, old love song,
While in the clear, sweet eyes
There dwells the look that angels know,
Who sing of Paradise.

Then, softly from my hiding place
I steal, and fold her tight,
I still the tender, plaintive song
By love's own ancient right.

Then slower and slower move the hands,
Until I hold them fast
Within my own like prisoned birds,
Content to rest at last.

What if we both forget the dough
In new-found happiness?
What matters anything on earth,
Since she has answered "yes."
—Florence A. Jones, in What-to-Eat.
