Labor Meeting Seen Step By Canada Into LA Orbit

By KEN CLARK
OTTAWA (CP) — The current conference of the International Labor Organization is being viewed in some quarters as another big step in Canada's long march to greater involvement in Latin America. With 25 countries from North and South America at the regional ILO conference, it is the first time Canada has played host to a full-scale inter-American meeting. The decision is bound by many factors. Not the least of the more recent ones is the current domestic debate on whether Canada should move now to start cutting some of the ties that bind the Canadian economy to that of the U.S. Any Canadian decision on the OAS certainly would have a considerable influence on the 13 Commonwealth members of the Caribbean.

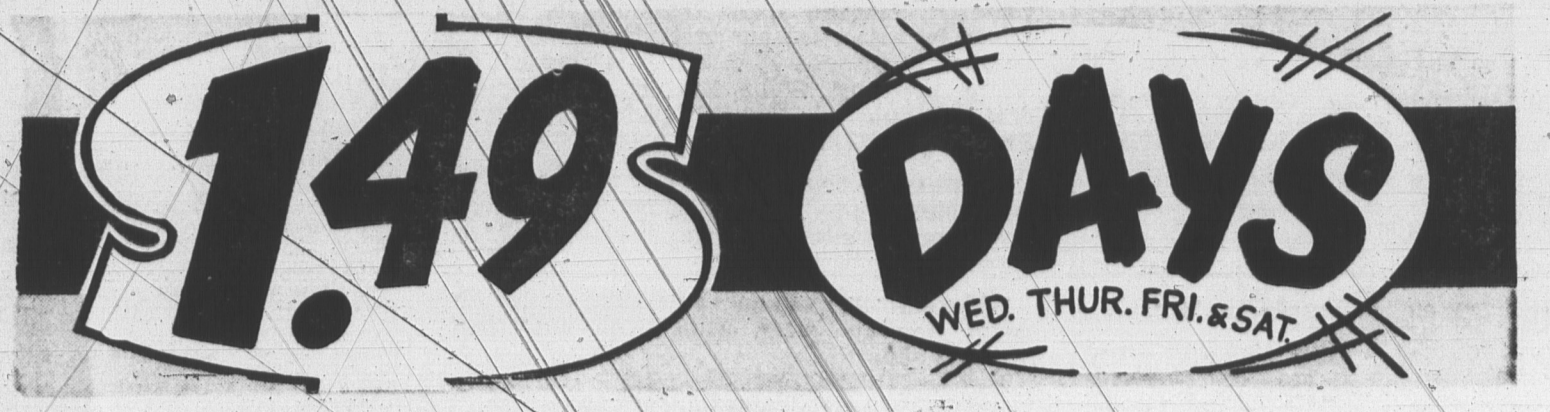

SUPPLIED CREDIT
In 1964, Canada began a program of easy-credit loans to 100 Commonwealth Latin American countries through the Inter-American Development Bank. Last July, Canada began a conference table campaign to increase its political and economic role in the Commonwealth Caribbean countries. Canada's developing involvement, some external affairs people suggest, adds an air of inevitability to Canada's eventual membership in the U.S.-dominated Organization of American States or any similar hemispheric groupings that may appear.
