DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
Is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

(By Thornton W. Burgess)

TWO UNLIKE LEADERS

Wisdom, courage, strength have they
Others choose to lead the way.
—Old Mother Nature.

No leader can be a good leader who has not all three-wisdom, courage and strength. Honker the Goose who leads his flock from the Far North to the Sunny South and back every year is such a leader. That is why he is trusted fully and completely by those who follow him. They may not always agree with him, but they follow where he leads.

He had led them over great forests, rivers, lakes, farms, villages and cities. Now he was leading them over the sea because this was the shortest and best way to that part of the Sunny South where they would winter. On one side they could see land, sometimes close and sometimes distant. On the other side was water, water, water nothing but water, until it seemed to meet the sky in the far, far distance. If some of the young Geese, making the long journey for the first time, wondered why Honker was leading them over this boundless water that a thirsty Goose couldn't even drink (it was salt you know) they said nothing, but followed where he led.

As they flew they saw in the water below them another leader with a number of followers. At first the younger ones in the flock thought them big fish. Because they were black they called them Blackfish just as do a great many people who should know better. They were small Whales, not baby Whales, but fully grown. Compared with Finback and Baleen the Blue Whale and some other members of the Whale family, they were very small.

Names are queer. Don't you think so? A lot of birds flying together are called a flock. A lot of fish swimming together are called a school. A lot of Cows grazing together are called a herd. Silly, isn't it? While a lot of Cows together are a herd, a lot of Sheep together are a flock, just like a lot of birds. And several Whales together are a school, just as if they were fish.

Now these small Whales had a leader. Yes sir, that school of so-called Blackfish had a leader just as that flock of Geese had. He wasn't called leader. He was called Pilot. That was his name. You know a pilot is one who guides ships in and out of harbors and through dangerous waters along shores. A ship is trusted to him because he knows all the dangerous places and how to avoid them; just where the ship can and cannot go. He is trusted by the captain and all on the ship just as Honker the Goose is trusted by his flock.

It is the same way with a school of these small Whales foolishly called Blackfish. There is a leader who goes ahead to pilot the others. To pilot is to guide. So because of this habit these Whales are rightfully named Pilot Whales though called Blackfish.

So there this late fall day were two leaders as unlike as two folks could be. One was in the air with a swiftly flying flock following him.

Contract Bridge

By Josephine Culbertson

EXPERT DISAGREEMENT

Two experts almost came to blows over the defense in the following deal:

South dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
North-South 60 on score.

North: ♠ 10 8 7 3 ♥ 6 3 ♦ 9 5 4 ♣ Q J 9 5
West: ♠ A 5 4 2 ♥ K 7 4 ♦ K Q 6 3 ♣ K 3
East: ♠ Q 9 6 ♥ 9 5 2 ♦ J 8 2 ♣ A 8 7 4
South: ♠ K J ♥ A Q J 10 8 ♦ A 10 7 ♣ 10 6 2

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Double	Pass	2 ♣
2 ♥	Pass	Pass	Pass

Although West could not afford to compete further, even though the opponents had a part-score, he had reason to hope that two hearts could be beaten, and so his greatest concern, in selecting the opening lead, was not to jeopardize a trick. He could not count on his partner's forced club bid to show any strength, and so West decided on the safe lead of a low trump.

Declarer took the first trick with the heart queen and, on doubt with a hopeless feeling, led the club ten. West went right in with the king and, when East played the enccuraging eight-spot, led the club three. East captured the jack—but then he went very far astray! Instead of realizing that there would have been no point in West's putting up the club king if he had held two small clubs, East feared that a club return would simply give South a discard, As East later put it, he thought that West would have opened the club king from king-small. So East made the highly questionable shift to his lowest spade! South played the jack, and West won with the ace. West could not tell that he could safely return a diamand, so he led back his fourth-highest spade. Declarer won with the king, cashed the heart ace and led a third round of hearts—and now there could be no more defense! The club still in South's hand gave him entry to dummy, and he won (in all) a spade trick, four hearts, one diamond and two clubs.

East reasoning that West should have opened the club king from a holding of king-small was absurd! East himself knew that he had the club ace, but West could have no such knowledge. Thus, the club return by East was a "must" However, even a diamond return would have defeated the contract.
