

Land Farmers To Join Ontario To Our Ontario

Exhibition of Art Scheduled For Tonight At St. Dunstan's

An exhibition of oils and tempera by Bernardo Jaime Juan Vidal will be held tonight at St. Dunstan's University for invited guests, and will be open to the general public for the weeks beginning Monday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Firemen On Duty At All Functions In Montague

MONTAGUE - D. H. Coffin, Montague fire chief advised the town council that the men of the department now have uniforms purchased from Charlottetown from their own funds.

At least two firemen were in uniform at this function, and the practice will be continued at other functions of a similar nature within the town.

VISITS THE WALL, EAST BERLIN (Reuters) - Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan Wednesday visited the Communist-ruled Berlin Wall, the East German news agency ADN reported.

Mikoyan is here for the 70th birthday of East German Premier Otto Grotewohl.

THE 29th anniversary of the death of the late Mr. Vidal's exhibition, 15 are oils, 14 tempera. They deal with a variety of subjects in a variety of styles featuring the use of colour for expressive values.

TARZAN - The Miracle Man!

You will be excited as never before by the mightiest of all Tarzan adventures and the greatest of all Tarzan challenges!

TODAY - SAT. - SHOWS 3:30 - 7 - 9

5 BIG SHOWS SAT. 5 - 7 - 9

THREE TIMES MORE THRILLING THAN ANY TARZAN ADVENTURE YOU'VE EVER SEEN!

ACTUALLY FILMED IN COLOR IN EXOTIC THAILAND!

CHALLENGE OVER THE ROPES! CHALLENGE THE NET OF DEATH!

CHALLENGE THE METEOR!

CHALLENGE THE METEOR!

CHALLENGE THE METEOR!

CHALLENGE THE METEOR!

CHALLENGE THE METEOR!

CHALLENGE THE METEOR!

CHALLENGE THE METEOR!

CHALLENGE THE METEOR!

CHALLENGE THE METEOR!

CHALLENGE THE METEOR!

CHALLENGE THE METEOR!

CHALLENGE THE METEOR!

Half-Brothers of P.E.I. Herd Sire Accorded High Honors

Mr. Justice R. R. Bell has received word from the Short-horn World that two young half-brothers of his herd, Deep Cove Napoleon 9th, have been accorded high honors, and sold for big prices at the Canadian International Show and Sale at Brandon, Manitoba, a few days ago.

Entered by industrialist Cyrus Eaton, Deep Cove Napoleon 9th won his class and was later named reserve grand champion of the show. He sold for $3,300.

The other bull, Deep Cove Napoleon 31st, teamed up with his half-brother to win the trophy for the two best bulls in the show and he sold for $2,600.

The Eaton entries came from his Deep Cove farms at Upper Bradford, N.S., and are of the same Kinnaird Napoleon line as Judge Bell's herd sire.

Beautifully Village Urged At Cardigan

CARDIGAN - In spite of poor travelling conditions Tuesday evening a meeting of the various Centennial committees was held in the school with a good attendance. This meeting was called to discuss the various activities to be held in the coming months.

A suggestion was made that the natural beauty of the Cardigan estuary be enhanced by the cutting of weeds, sowing grass seed and possibly planting of trees.

A suggestion was also made to assist in the beautification of the village by cleaning up debris around private properties and planting flowers and shrubs.

It was stressed that these communities were ready to accept suggestions from any citizen, and urged that a larger number of residents attend future meetings to be held in the near future.

2 Accidents Are Reported

SOURS - Two accidents were reported in the Souris area during the past two days, both causing extensive damage to four vehicles and a minor injury to one person.

At 8 a.m. yesterday a 1962 vehicle driven by Metron Bruce of East Baltic and proceeding east on Route 16 was struck by a 1964 car driven by Robert Albert Bruce also of East Baltic and entering route 16 from a sidelane.

Both cars were badly damaged and a passenger in the Metron Bruce car, Roy Bruce was treated at Souris Hospital for a cut over his right eye. He is later released.

At 8:45 a.m. Wednesday a 1962 half-ton truck proceeding east on the St. Peter's Road and driven by George Alban Galant of Souris went into a collision with a 1956 half-ton truck driven by Robert Alphonso White of Rollo Bay.

The two trucks collided while they were passing in a cutting and were extensively damaged. There was no one injured.

APPEAL FOR JEWS

MONTREAL, (CP)—The Canadian Jewish Congress said Wednesday a delegation received in the Soviet Embassy Tuesday by the first and second counsellors and appealed to Soviet authorities to allow Jews to practice their religion and foster their culture and language.

The delegation was referred to an article in Soviet Union Today on Russian Rabbi Natan Olevsky's 90th birthday and was told it significantly points out that Olevsky's son and grandson are both atheists.

APPEAL FOR JEWS

MONTREAL, (CP)—The Canadian Jewish Congress said Wednesday a delegation received in the Soviet Embassy Tuesday by the first and second counsellors and appealed to Soviet authorities to allow Jews to practice their religion and foster their culture and language.

The delegation was referred to an article in Soviet Union Today on Russian Rabbi Natan Olevsky's 90th birthday and was told it significantly points out that Olevsky's son and grandson are both atheists.

APPEAL FOR JEWS

MONTREAL, (CP)—The Canadian Jewish Congress said Wednesday a delegation received in the Soviet Embassy Tuesday by the first and second counsellors and appealed to Soviet authorities to allow Jews to practice their religion and foster their culture and language.

The delegation was referred to an article in Soviet Union Today on Russian Rabbi Natan Olevsky's 90th birthday and was told it significantly points out that Olevsky's son and grandson are both atheists.

APPEAL FOR JEWS

MONTREAL, (CP)—The Canadian Jewish Congress said Wednesday a delegation received in the Soviet Embassy Tuesday by the first and second counsellors and appealed to Soviet authorities to allow Jews to practice their religion and foster their culture and language.

The delegation was referred to an article in Soviet Union Today on Russian Rabbi Natan Olevsky's 90th birthday and was told it significantly points out that Olevsky's son and grandson are both atheists.

APPEAL FOR JEWS

MONTREAL, (CP)—The Canadian Jewish Congress said Wednesday a delegation received in the Soviet Embassy Tuesday by the first and second counsellors and appealed to Soviet authorities to allow Jews to practice their religion and foster their culture and language.

REA HOGAN, a grade 10 student at Queen Charlotte High School, last night won the Evening Patriot Trophy, awarded to the school's top public speaker. The competition which involved some 130 students was centered around a centennial theme, the topic of the speeches being "A Bicentennial for the Fathers of Confederation."

Here Barton Lewis, executive editor of The Guardian-Evening Patriot, is seen presenting the trophy to Miss Hogan.

QCHS Home And School Hears Students Speak

Five grade 10 students last night were "speaking off" for the honor of being selected the top public speaker at Queen Charlotte High School during the year 1964, at the monthly meeting of the Queen Charlotte Home and School Association.

The competition, which more than 130 students took part in for the trophies donated by The Evening Patriot.

Rea Hogan, a grade 10 student in Glen Lewis's class, was presented with two trophies by Barton Lewis, executive editor of The Guardian and Evening Patriot, one for herself and one to be inscribed with her name and to remain in competition in future years in the school.

Other finalists in the contest were Joanne Wright, K. A. R. MacRae, Paul and John Martin. The topic of the night's speeches was "A Bicentennial for the Fathers of Confederation."

Judges for the competition were Mrs. Melville Stevenson, Rev. Dr. Francis Bolger, professor of history at St. John's and Miller MacEachern, director of the department of education.

The five finalists, along with several other students, were invited to enter the Queens County public speaking contest sponsored by the Centennial Committee.

Prizes were also awarded for original poems written about P.E.I. by students in grades 7, 8, 9 and 10. In grade seven the winner was Gary Ward; in grade eight, Daniel Tassel; in grade nine, Jeanette Rawick and in grade 10, Heather Linn. Honorable mention went to Gary Carroll in grade 10.

ADJUDICATOR Is Named For Dancing

ADJUDICATOR for the P.E.I. Dance Festival on April 18 is inclusive, is Carrie Biggars, a native of Edinburgh, Scotland, now residing in Montreal.

Miss Biggars, in private life, Mrs. A. S. Wadlie, has a lifetime of experience in the dancing field. She was once chosen to be among a group of dancers who performed for King George V at Balmoral.

For over 30 years Miss Biggars has conducted classes in Montreal featuring all types of dancing. She is a member of The Canadian Association of Teachers of Dancing and in 1938 she organized the Montreal Highland Dancing Association. Many of her former pupils are prominent in the teaching and entertainment fields.

Festival committee members wish to remind all interested parties that money will be received no later than Saturday, March 14.

INNOCENT

(Continued from page 1) of the amendment was to allow more people wishing to invest in the province to do so.

HOW MUCH MONEY? The amount of public and private money is in this account? asked Opposition Leader Alex Matheson.

Mr. Ferguson pointed to page 15 of Mr. Farmer's Budget Speech which listed $5 million under "deposit receipt loans" and $5.5 million under "treasury notes."

Mr. Ferguson said the treasury notes were issued "on short term" and "nothing about" the money had been invested in "slightly short of $5 million" and that the government had put in $2 million, but under the Treasury Act, not the Deposit Receipt Act.

"What is the difference?" Mr. Matheson asked.

The treasurer answered that the money was essentially "two private bills, tabled by Frank Myers (PPC-1st Queens).

GOOD FOR THE PEOPLE

At this point the minister of health, Hon. Hubert MacNeill, rose to his feet in strong support of the amendment.

"This act is good for the people of the province. People who are not able to invest money in the government, and they want to invest more. It shows the confidence the people have in their government."

MacNeill pointed out the advantages that such investment holds for the investors.

"They can get money which is being invested in the province at a higher interest rate than they get at the bank," he said.

The amendment, he concluded, is "good for the people and good for the government."

Mr. Matheson pointed out that the money in the government bonds were being sold only to "have in their government."

MacNeill said that the money was being invested in "slightly short of $5 million" and that the government had put in $2 million, but under the Treasury Act, not the Deposit Receipt Act.

"What is the difference?" Mr. Matheson asked.

The treasurer answered that the money was essentially "two private bills, tabled by Frank Myers (PPC-1st Queens).

GOOD FOR THE PEOPLE

At this point the minister of health, Hon. Hubert MacNeill, rose to his feet in strong support of the amendment.

"This act is good for the people of the province. People who are not able to invest money in the government, and they want to invest more. It shows the confidence the people have in their government."

MacNeill pointed out the advantages that such investment holds for the investors.

"They can get money which is being invested in the province at a higher interest rate than they get at the bank," he said.

The amendment, he concluded, is "good for the people and good for the government."

Mr. Matheson pointed out that the money in the government bonds were being sold only to "have in their government."

MacNeill said that the money was being invested in "slightly short of $5 million" and that the government had put in $2 million, but under the Treasury Act, not the Deposit Receipt Act.

"What is the difference?" Mr. Matheson asked.

The treasurer answered that the money was essentially "two private bills, tabled by Frank Myers (PPC-1st Queens).

GOOD FOR THE PEOPLE

At this point the minister of health, Hon. Hubert MacNeill, rose to his feet in strong support of the amendment.

"This act is good for the people of the province. People who are not able to invest money in the government, and they want to invest more. It shows the confidence the people have in their government."

MacNeill pointed out the advantages that such investment holds for the investors.

"They can get money which is being invested in the province at a higher interest rate than they get at the bank," he said.

The amendment, he concluded, is "good for the people and good for the government."

Mr. Matheson pointed out that the money in the government bonds were being sold only to "have in their government."

MacNeill said that the money was being invested in "slightly short of $5 million" and that the government had put in $2 million, but under the Treasury Act, not the Deposit Receipt Act.

"What is the difference?" Mr. Matheson asked.

The treasurer answered that the money was essentially "two private bills, tabled by Frank Myers (PPC-1st Queens).

GOOD FOR THE PEOPLE

At this point the minister of health, Hon. Hubert MacNeill, rose to his feet in strong support of the amendment.

"This act is good for the people of the province. People who are not able to invest money in the government, and they want to invest more. It shows the confidence the people have in their government."

MacNeill pointed out the advantages that such investment holds for the investors.

"They can get money which is being invested in the province at a higher interest rate than they get at the bank," he said.

The amendment, he concluded, is "good for the people and good for the government."

Mr. Matheson pointed out that the money in the government bonds were being sold only to "have in their government."

MacNeill said that the money was being invested in "slightly short of $5 million" and that the government had put in $2 million, but under the Treasury Act, not the Deposit Receipt Act.

"What is the difference?" Mr. Matheson asked.

The treasurer answered that the money was essentially "two private bills, tabled by Frank Myers (PPC-1st Queens).

GOOD FOR THE PEOPLE

At this point the minister of health, Hon. Hubert MacNeill, rose to his feet in strong support of the amendment.

"This act is good for the people of the province. People who are not able to invest money in the government, and they want to invest more. It shows the confidence the people have in their government."

MacNeill pointed out the advantages that such investment holds for the investors.

"They can get money which is being invested in the province at a higher interest rate than they get at the bank," he said.

The amendment, he concluded, is "good for the people and good for the government."

Mr. Matheson pointed out that the money in the government bonds were being sold only to "have in their government."

MacNeill said that the money was being invested in "slightly short of $5 million" and that the government had put in $2 million, but under the Treasury Act, not the Deposit Receipt Act.

"What is the difference?" Mr. Matheson asked.

The treasurer answered that the money was essentially "two private bills, tabled by Frank Myers (PPC-1st Queens).

GOOD FOR THE PEOPLE

At this point the minister of health, Hon. Hubert MacNeill, rose to his feet in strong support of the amendment.

"This act is good for the people of the province. People who are not able to invest money in the government, and they want to invest more. It shows the confidence the people have in their government."

MacNeill pointed out the advantages that such investment holds for the investors.

"They can get money which is being invested in the province at a higher interest rate than they get at the bank," he said.

The amendment, he concluded, is "good for the people and good for the government."

Mr. Matheson pointed out that the money in the government bonds were being sold only to "have in their government."

MacNeill said that the money was being invested in "slightly short of $5 million" and that the government had put in $2 million, but under the Treasury Act, not the Deposit Receipt Act.

"What is the difference?" Mr. Matheson asked.

The treasurer answered that the money was essentially "two private bills, tabled by Frank Myers (PPC-1st Queens).

GOOD FOR THE PEOPLE

At this point the minister of health, Hon. Hubert MacNeill, rose to his feet in strong support of the amendment.

"This act is good for the people of the province. People who are not able to invest money in the government, and they want to invest more. It shows the confidence the people have in their government."

MacNeill pointed out the advantages that such investment holds for the investors.

"They can get money which is being invested in the province at a higher interest rate than they get at the bank," he said.

The amendment, he concluded, is "good for the people and good for the government."

Mr. Matheson pointed out that the money in the government bonds were being sold only to "have in their government."

MacNeill said that the money was being invested in "slightly short of $5 million" and that the government had put in $2 million, but under the Treasury Act, not the Deposit Receipt Act.

"What is the difference?" Mr. Matheson asked.

The treasurer answered that the money was essentially "two private bills, tabled by Frank Myers (PPC-1st Queens).

GOOD FOR THE PEOPLE

At this point the minister of health, Hon. Hubert MacNeill, rose to his feet in strong support of the amendment.

"This act is good for the people of the province. People who are not able to invest money in the government, and they want to invest more. It shows the confidence the people have in their government."

MacNeill pointed out the advantages that such investment holds for the investors.

"They can get money which is being invested in the province at a higher interest rate than they get at the bank," he said.

The amendment, he concluded, is "good for the people and good for the government."

Mr. Matheson pointed out that the money in the government bonds were being sold only to "have in their government."

MacNeill said that the money was being invested in "slightly short of $5 million" and that the government had put in $2 million, but under the Treasury Act, not the Deposit Receipt Act.

"What is the difference?" Mr. Matheson asked.

The treasurer answered that the money was essentially "two private bills, tabled by Frank Myers (PPC-1st Queens).

GOOD FOR THE PEOPLE

At this point the minister of health, Hon. Hubert MacNeill, rose to his feet in strong support of the amendment.

"This act is good for the people of the province. People who are not able to invest money in the government, and they want to invest more. It shows the confidence the people have in their government."

MacNeill pointed out the advantages that such investment holds for the investors.

"They can get money which is being invested in the province at a higher interest rate than they get at the bank," he said.

The amendment, he concluded, is "good for the people and good for the government."

Mr. Matheson pointed out that the money in the government bonds were being sold only to "have in their government."

MacNeill said that the money was being invested in "slightly short of $5 million" and that the government had put in $2 million, but under the Treasury Act, not the Deposit Receipt Act.

"What is the difference?" Mr. Matheson asked.

The treasurer answered that the money was essentially "two private bills, tabled by Frank Myers (PPC-1st Queens).

GOOD FOR THE PEOPLE

At this point the minister of health, Hon. Hubert MacNeill, rose to his feet in strong support of the amendment.

"This act is good for the people of the province. People who are not able to invest money in the government, and they want to invest more. It shows the confidence the people have in their government."

MacNeill pointed out the advantages that such investment holds for the investors.

"They can get money which is being invested in the province at a higher interest rate than they get at the bank," he said.

The amendment, he concluded, is "good for the people and good for the government."

Mr. Matheson pointed out that the money in the government bonds were being sold only to "have in their government."

MacNeill said that the money was being invested in "slightly short of $5 million" and that the government had put in $2 million, but under the Treasury Act, not the Deposit Receipt Act.

"What is the difference?" Mr. Matheson asked.

The treasurer answered that the money was essentially "two private bills, tabled by Frank Myers (PPC-1st Queens).

GOOD FOR THE PEOPLE

At this point the minister of health, Hon. Hubert MacNeill, rose to his feet in strong support of the amendment.

"This act is good for the people of the province. People who are not able to invest money in the government, and they want to invest more. It shows the confidence the people have in their government."

MacNeill pointed out the advantages that such investment holds for the investors.

"They can get money which is being invested in the province at a higher interest rate than they get at the bank," he said.

The amendment, he concluded, is "good for the people and good for the government."

Mr. Matheson pointed out that the money in the government bonds were being sold only to "have in their government."

MacNeill said that the money was being invested in "slightly short of $5 million" and that the government had put in $2 million, but under the Treasury Act, not the Deposit Receipt Act.

"What is the difference?" Mr. Matheson asked.

The treasurer answered that the money was essentially "two private bills, tabled by Frank Myers (PPC-1st Queens).

GOOD FOR THE PEOPLE

At this point the minister of health, Hon. Hubert MacNeill, rose to his feet in strong support of the amendment.

"This act is good for the people of the province. People who are not able to invest money in the government, and they want to invest more. It shows the confidence the people have in their government."

MacNeill pointed out the advantages that such investment holds for the investors.

"They can get money which is being invested in the province at a higher interest rate than they get at the bank," he said.

The amendment, he concluded, is "good for the people and good for the government."

Mr. Matheson pointed out that the money in the government bonds were being sold only to "have in their government."

MacNeill said that the money was being invested in "slightly short of $5 million" and that the government had put in $2 million, but under the Treasury Act, not the Deposit Receipt Act.

"What is the difference?" Mr. Matheson asked.

The treasurer answered that the money was essentially "two private bills, tabled by Frank Myers (PPC-1st Queens).

GOOD FOR THE PEOPLE

At this point the minister of health, Hon. Hubert MacNeill, rose to his feet in strong support of the amendment.

"This act is good for the people of the province. People who are not able to invest money in the government, and they want to invest more. It shows the confidence the people have in their government."

MacNeill pointed out the advantages that such investment holds for the investors.

"They can get money which is being invested in the province at a higher interest rate than they get at the bank," he said.

The amendment, he concluded, is "good for the people and good for the government."