The Senatorial Game.

"HARPER'S WEEKLY" is certainly one of the most intelligent of the organs of public opinion in the United States.

"As a stroke in the political game which the Senate has been playing with the President, his message proposing a certain scheme of retaliation is admirably effective.

As to modes of "retaliation," Harper's Weekly thinks the President's more effective than that of the Senate, because it will, if adopted, strike a blow at Canada which she cannot return in kind.

The Ottawa Journal says: "Coal can be sent from our own mines in Nova Scotia as far west as Belleville in competition with the combine coal from Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Sons of Temperance.

THE Rev. J. M. McLeod addressed the Sons of Temperance last evening on his recent visit to British Columbia. After receiving a cordial welcome home from the presiding officer, Mr. John Bowers, the rev. gentleman expressed his pleasure in again meeting with Victoria Division and also his very great satisfaction at the determined stand taken by the Police Department in the recent execution of the law in Charlottetown.

A Sad Tale of the Sea.

Capt. Ryan, of the schooner A. D. Story, which arrived at Gloucester from Iceland last week, reports great destruction among the French fishing fleet in the month of April on the south coast of Iceland.

City Council Meeting.

THE regular monthly meeting of the City Council was held last evening. Mayor Haviland, Recorder Fitzgerald and every member of the Board was in his place.

After the routine business had been attended to, Mayor Haviland submitted the reports, letters, etc., to hand:

The report of Dr. Johnson, Health Officer, in re the new ice rink, is as follows: To His Worship the Mayor and the Members of the City Council of the City of Charlottetown:

GENTLEMEN,—I have to acknowledge the receipt of a notice from the City Clerk, dated Aug. 10, informing me of a resolution of your board, ordering a letter from A. A. Ryan addressed to your Board to be referred to me as Health Officer.

In reporting thereupon, I have to express my opinion that the erection of such an ice skating rink so near to his premises, as Mr. Ryan points out in his letter, would, for such reasons as he specifies, very injuriously affect his property in regard to comfort, safety and salubrity as a private residence.

To flood with water so large an area of ground as it is proposed to occupy for the purpose of the rink would be likely to cause an insupportable dampness of his cellar and the surroundings, and this especially in the spring season or when it is especially needful to avoid all such causes of disease.

As the only effectual protection of the citizens in general from causes of complaint of the kind now under consideration, I would recommend your Board to adopt such measures as will prohibit the construction of ice skating rinks within the city limits, except in some isolated locality, under special license and proper sanitary regulations.

All of which is respectfully submitted. RICHARD JOHNSON, M. D., Health Officer. Charlottetown, Aug. 26, 1888.

The letter of Arthur Newbery, agent of the Meteorological Department here, asked permission to erect a storm signal mast against one of the warehouses on either the Queen's or Pownall wharves, providing the consent of the lessees thereof could be obtained.

In Memoriam.

As will be observed by reference to our obituary notices, there passed away on Friday last, after a few days' illness, one of the oldest and most esteemed residents of Georgetown.

The late Mrs. Byrns was a native of the County Kilkenny, Ireland, and emigrated to Halifax in the year 1837, where she resided for a short time, removing afterwards with her husband to Georgetown, which at that time only contained some seven or eight houses, where she lived until her death.

She was the mother of eight children, four sons and four daughters; five of whom, one son and four daughters, survive her,—left, together with numerous friends and acquaintances, to mourn the loss of an affectionate mother, a devoted wife and an agreeable and sympathetic neighbor.

The deceased was well and favorably known to the early pioneers of King's County, and her demise has excited feelings of regret among the old residents and those of their descendants to whom her many Christian virtues endeared her.

On Sunday last a large concourse of people, representing every class and creed, such as rarely assemble on occasions of this kind, followed her remains to the Catholic Church, where the funeral obsequies were conducted by the Rev. Wm. Phelan, P. P., thence to the Catholic Cemetery; thus indicating the high esteem in which she was held in the community in which she resided for half a century.

Cleveland's Letter.

ACCOUNTING THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION. WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—President Cleveland's letter of acceptance of the Democratic nomination was given to the press to-night. It is a very lengthy document, devoted mainly to a careful and thorough explanation and defence of the Democratic plan of tariff reform as distinguished from the Republican plan.

The President argues for a reduction of revenue by placing raw materials on the free list, reducing the duties somewhat on necessities and to a less extent on whiskey and tobacco. He expresses the belief that such a revision of the tariff will not endanger the protection system, but will increase manufacturing by opening up new markets and furnishing free raw materials, and will greatly relieve the burdens of the laboring classes. Incidentally the President demands trusts. He expresses the belief that a reduction of tariff duties will furnish a remedy. All other subjects for legislation alluded to in the letter are covered in the following paragraph:—

It is of the highest importance that those who administer our government should jealously protect and maintain interests of American citizens at home and abroad, and should strive to achieve for our country her proper place among the nations of the earth; but there is no people whose home interests are so great and whose numerous objects of domestic concern deserve so much watchfulness and care.

Among these are the regulation of a sound financial system united to our needs, thus securing an efficient agency of natural wealth and general prosperity; the construction and equipment of means of defence to insure our national safety and maintain honor, beneath which such national safety reposes; the production of our national domain, still stretching beyond the needs of a century's expansion and its preservation for the settler and pioneer of our marvelous growth; sensible and sincere recognition of the value of American labor, leading to scrupulous and a just appreciation of the interest in our workmen; the limitation and checking of such monopolistic tendencies and schemes as interfere with the advantage and benefit which the people may rightly claim; a generous regard and care for our own surviving soldiers and sailors and for widows and orphans of such as have died, to the end that an appreciation of their services and sacrifices is quickened, application of their pension fund to improper cases may be prevented, protection against the service of immigration which injuriously competes with our laboring men in the field of toil and adds to our population an element ignorant of our institutions and laws, impossible of assimilation with our people and dangerous to our peace and welfare; a strict and steadfast adherence to the principles of civil service reform and a thorough execution of the laws passed for their enforcement; thus permitting our people an advantage in business methods in the operation of their governments; a guaranty to our colored citizens of all their rights of citizenship, and their just recognition and encouragement in all things pertaining to that relation; a firm, patient and humane Indian policy, so that in peaceful relations with the government the civilization of the Indian may be promoted with resulting quiet and safety to settlers on our frontier; and the curtailment of public expenses by the introduction of convenient methods in every department of the government.
