CHILD KILLED SATURDAY IN HIGHWAY ACCIDENT NEAR DUNSTAFFNAGE

Katherine Bernadette, three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank MacKinnon, 35 Upper Hillsboro Street was killed Saturday afternoon when her father's car went out of control and rolled over on an icy hill near Dunstaffnage.

The father was driving the car in which Mrs. MacKinnon, Katherine and their two other children, Kevin, aged 6, and Marlene, 4, were passengers. Katherine was on her mother's knee when the car began to skid and in the process of rolling over the child was thrown from her mother's arms and pinned between the partly open door and the body of the vehicle. She died almost immediately. The other occupants of the car were uninjured.

Mr. MacKinnon, who is on the composing room staff of The Guardian was taking his family to Selkirk, P.E.I., the home of his parents, when the accident occurred. R.C.M.P. who investigated the fatality, report that Mr. MacKinnon was driving slowly at the time but that the car became uncontrollable on the slippery highway.

Coroner C. A. Coady who was called to the scene of the accident pronounced the child dead on his arrival. After learning the details of the accident he decided that an inquest would not be necessary.

16 Lose Lives In Coal Mine Explosion, Fire

By CHARLES LEWIS
FARMINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—An explosion and fire killed one man and trapped 15 others in a coal mine here Saturday.

The blazing mine remained a virtual powder keg Sunday and efforts were begun to seal its five openings, ending any slim hope that any of the 15 entombed might be rescued.

Mendes-France Arrives For 3-Day Visit In Canada; Feels At Home

Week-end Of Contrasts For Queen Mother Elizabeth At Ottawa

By DAVE MCINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP)—It was a week-end of contrast for Queen Mother Elizabeth.

There was a solemn ceremony at the National War Memorial and a gay state dinner and reception Saturday; divine service at Christ Church cathedral and a happy telephone chat with London on grand-son Prince Charles' sixth birthday Sunday.

The state dinner and reception at Government House was probably the most glittering social event in the capital since the Queen Mother and the late King George VI were here in May, 1939.

The Queen Mother wore a crinoline dress of white lace worked with silver thread and iridescent beads, diamond and ruby tiara, necklace, bracelets and earrings, garter blue sash and star and rosettes bearing a resemblance to the queen and her husband.

HOPES TO RETURN

To at least one of the guests, she said she hopes her current five-day visit to Ottawa will not be her last visit to Canada.

Saturday noon, in the only speech of her visit, she expressed a hope that her daughter, Queen Elizabeth, will see more of Canadians.

Her statement appeared to mean she would like the Queen to pay further visits to Canada. As Princess Elizabeth, the present Queen toured Canada in 1951.

Speaking of the happy children she saw on her 1939 tour and of children since 'born into the bright fortune' of this country, the Queen Mother said:

"I hope that the Queen will have many opportunities to witness their happiness also."

CHURCH SERVICE

Sunday was raw and blustery as the Queen Mother went to divine service at Christ Church cathedral.

The cathedral was filled and hundreds gathered on the sidewalk and lawns outside to catch a glimpse of Her Majesty. She wore an ensemble of mushroom pink with matching hat of fine osprey.

Before leaving for church, the Queen Mother spoke by telephone to the Queen in London. It was presumed that the subject of children was the subject of conversation. Although Republican leaders continued their attempts to work out a substitute for a resolution which would rebuke McCarthy on two points, one of them said the results were not encouraging.

The Senate starts its second week of debate today with Senator Arthur Watkins (Rep-Utah), chairman of a six-man inquiry committee, planning to take the floor to answer McCarthy's charges that the group served as the "unwitting handmaid" of the Communists in recommending that he be censured.

Two U. S. Planes Down In Atlantic

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—A two-engined U. S. Navy patrol plane with a crew of five aboard crashed Sunday night into the Atlantic ocean about 46 miles southeast of Cherry Point, N.C.

Three hours later, a Marine corps Skyhawk jet, instructed to search for the missing patrol craft, was reported missing in the same area and presumed down. There were two men aboard the jet.

New Typhoon Moves Towards Philippines

MANILA (AP)—A typhoon with winds up to 150 miles an hour moved on a 400-mile front today toward the Philippines, not yet covered from last week's typhoon which left tens of thousands homeless and caused damage in the millions of dollars.

The Manila weather bureau said the new typhoon—called Sally—may pass near this city 1,000,000 if it keeps its present course.

RED CHINESE TORPEDO BOATS SCORE TRIUMPH

By SPENCER MOOSA
TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Four Communist Chinese torpedo boats Sunday sank the Nationalist destroyer escort Taiping in a gun battle 215 miles north of Formosa.

It was the first big naval triumph scored by the Communists. The Nationalists said more such clashes can be expected with speedy torpedo boats they described as Russian-built. The clash took place 30 miles off the coast of Red China's Cheiang province in the early morning darkness.

The 1,800-ton Taiping—formerly the U. S. S. Decker—went down with guns blazing 12 miles north of the Nationalist-held Tachen islands, nearly six hours after it was torpedoed.

All but 28 of her crew of some 180 were rescued, most of them by another destroyer escort, the Taiho. Nationalist ships and planes continued the search for survivors. One of the rescued died and many others were reported wounded in the battle.

Shen Chang-Huan, acting Nationalist foreign minister, said this first loss of a Nationalist warship served as "a warning to those who still persist in believing that the Chinese Communists want peace and have no intention of invading Taiwan (Formosa)."

Peiping's account of the action said the Taiping was "on a nuisance raid."

The Nationalists said she was conveying a motorized junk from the Tachens to Yushan island, 30 miles northeast, when the phosphorescent wake of a torpedo was sighted. That one missed but three others headed toward the Taiping and one scored the fatal blow. The Taiping was transferred to the Nationalists in 1948.

No Compromise In McCarthy Case

By Jack Bell
WASHINGTON, (AP)—Efforts to find a compromise censure resolution against Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep-Wis) appeared to be on the verge of collapse Sunday in the face of McCarthy's refusal to retract his attacks on colleagues.

Although Republican leaders continued their attempts to work out a substitute for a resolution which would rebuke McCarthy on two points, one of them said the results were not encouraging.

The Senate starts its second week of debate today with Senator Arthur Watkins (Rep-Utah), chairman of a six-man inquiry committee, planning to take the floor to answer McCarthy's charges that the group served as the "unwitting handmaid" of the Communists in recommending that he be censured.

Gale Whips Into Saint John Without Warning

SAINT JOHN, N. B. (CP)—A gale with winds averaging 30 to 35 miles an hour and gusts to 60 hit southern New Brunswick Sunday. It tore bricks from one building in downtown Saint John and collapsed the wall of a waterfront structure.

The wind coincided with high tide. Water lapped over some Saint John wharves and broke through dikes in the nearby Red Head area, flooding low-lying land.

Whipping into the city without warning from the Bay of Fundy, the gale shook Saint John almost as much as hurricane Edna did in September.

At Mace's bay, two 30-foot lobster boats were dashed to kindling and hundreds of lobster traps were lost in the surf. Two smaller craft were damaged when set adrift.

The Fundy tide at Saint John, reaching its peak in mid-afternoon, was pushed higher by the strong wind. Most of the Red Head area flooded before the tide receded.

Firewood Beats Blondes Here

BELGRADE, (AP)—It's firewood, not luscious blondes, that catches a man's attention in Yugoslavia these chilly days.

All fuel is selling at a premium. To illustrate the situation, the Belgrade newspaper Hedgehog recently printed a cartoon showing four business men standing before a theatre poster of a shapely blonde star.

Instead of looking at her, the four gazed intently at the owner of a cartload of firewood.

Good firewood costs about $65 a cord.

WELLINGTON, N. Z. (Reuters) New Zealand's Labor opposition party's majority from 20 to six in Saturday's general election.

Prime Minister Sidney Holland, whose party held 50 seats in the last 80-seat House of Representatives, battled against a strong swing to the left to win 43 constituencies to labor's 37.

The country's third political group, the Social Credit party, failed to gain a seat. But it polled about 10 per cent of the vote—much more than had been expected.

There is no upper house in the New Zealand parliament.

Walter Nash, the Labor party leader, blamed Social Credit candidates for his party's defeat. "It is certain the split vote saved the National government," he declared.

Holland commented: "To be frank, I expected to lose a seat or two today. The people have spoken and we all cheerfully accepted it."

Navy Exercise Hits Stride Today

HALIFAX (CP)—A month-long anti-submarine training exercise involving Canadian ships and planes and British and American subs, hits full stride off Bermuda today.

The frigate Penelope and the Royal Navy submarine Alcide sailed from Halifax early last week. The minesweeper New Liskard sailed Thursday to join them in manoeuvres with the U. S. submarine Clobber.

RCAF planes from Greenwood, N.S., and navy craft from Summerside, P.E.I., will fly to Bermuda later.

The Alcide is on loan to the Royal Canadian Navy for training purposes but is manned by Royal Navy personnel.

Christmas Tree Export Prospects

MONCTON (CP)—Export Christmas trees will pass through Moncton by rail from all over the Maritimes at a steady clip until about Dec. 8 when it is expected their total value will have reached about $2,500,000.

A representative of a large Moncton-based Maritime tree shipper said business was expected to hit the same peak as last year despite ravages of the spruce budworm.

DOMESTIC ISSUES

All three parties fought the election on domestic issues. Main aim to power in 1949 after 14 years of Labor rule, is to foster "little capitalists"—the development of small businesses—and cut controls labor promised to introduce "as you earn" taxes and raise family allowances.

Walter Nash, the Labor party leader, blamed Social Credit candidates for his party's defeat. "It is certain the split vote saved the National government," he declared.

Holland commented: "To be frank, I expected to lose a seat or two today. The people have spoken and we all cheerfully accepted it."

Lands At Big Quebec Airport

By TOM McCUSKER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

QUEBEC CITY (CP)—Pierre Mendes-France, dynamic 47-year-old French premier, arrived by air Sunday for a three-day stay in Canada and said "it is like a visit to my own family."

Mendes-France, smiling broadly, spoke briefly in French after disembarking from an Air France Super-Constellation which landed at Ancienne Lorette airport at 2:44 p. m. EST.

"I am happy to meet the French-Canadians," he said. "It is like a visit to my own family. In the next few days I will meet the representatives of your government and your newspaper men and I will outline broadly the policies of my government."

Mendes-France will stop over in Quebec City and Montreal before going to Ottawa for talks with Prime Minister St. Laurent. On Wednesday he leaves for Washington for conferences with President Eisenhower and U. S. government officials.

LIGHT RAIN

It was drizzling slightly as the premier's plane pulled up to a stand decorated with the French tricolor the Union Jack and the Fleur-de-Lis, Quebec's flag.

Hubert Guerin, French ambassador to Canada, climbed aboard and a few minutes later Mendes-France came out. Guerin followed and then came the premier's attractive dark-haired wife wearing a light brown seal coat and holding a brown hat which was caught by a gust of wind and blown away. A newspaper man retrieved it for her and she thanked him, smiling.

A 100-man guard of honor made up of the French-speaking members of the Royal 22nd Regiment stood stiffly at attention and the regiment's scarlet-coated band played "La Marseillaise," the French anthem, twice, once before the
