

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

OCTOBER 4, 1895.

THE COUNTY EXHIBITIONS

At each of the County Exhibitions recently held, there were shown some articles just as good as any sent to the Provincial Exhibition.

The general improvement made apparent is evidently a result, in part, of the emulation promoted by the annually recurring County exhibitions.

NOTE AND COMMENTS.

Premier Blair has precipitated an election upon New Brunswick a year before it was necessary to do so, and according to the St. John Sun "just early enough to make it necessary to use last year's lists and to disfranchise all men under twenty-two years of age."

The price of wheat advanced 3 1/2 in Liverpool on Monday last. So great a rise in a single day bespeaks vigor in the market.

Dr. Robertson, Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the Northwest, said in his address to the Maritime Synod last evening that he has been in the Northwest for the work of the Presbyterian Church for some time.

The London Graphic says that it is essential the number of hereditary peers now in the house of lords should be reduced by applying the elective principle employed in the cases of Scotch and Irish peers.

It appears that a committee of seven commissioners was appointed to look after the exhibits in the shed and only one—and he a Conservative—turned up to perform his duty.

NEWS NOTES.

There was a killing frost on Monday night in many parts of Kentucky, which did great damage to the tobacco crop.

The assessors of Toronto report that the population of the city is 74,300 an increase of 2,955 over the population of last year.

The receipts of the Canada Central Fair, Ottawa, were $21,556.64, as against $13,418.44 in 1894. This looks like prosperity.

The attempt upon the life of the Japanese Premier, Ito, did not get beyond the conspiracy stage. The conspirators are under arrest.

It is announced in Paris that China has accorded full satisfaction to France for the recent attack made upon the French legation in Peking.

Notwithstanding government denials there is a very general idea among politicians here that Premier Greenway will bring on the Manitoba elections at an early date as possible.

Lord Lonsdale's other day addressed a telegraphic message to "His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of Germany." The message was soon returned with the memorandum, "Insufficiently addressed."

Krupp, the cannon king, has set aside 1,000,000 marks as a fund for the benefit of his employees. In addition to this he gave on Sunday 100 marks to each of the 1,420 veterans of the war of 1870 working for him.

It is estimated that Spain is spending $5,000,000 a month in attempting to suppress the Cuban revolutionists. The effort monarchy cannot long stand this drain upon its finances. It would be more economical and satisfactory to arbitrate.

There is strong opposition to Lord Rothschild's scheme to build a colossal synagogue, clergy house and Jewish settlement in Whitechapel, on the ground that that district of London is already congested with Jews.

Lieutenant-Governor Patterson's health is much improved, and he expects to leave Ottawa with his family for Winnipeg next Tuesday. Prior to leaving he will be given a banquet by his friends, irrespective of political proclivities.

A London despatch reports that the prolonged heat and drought which have prevailed throughout England have inflicted a great deal of hardship and damage on agriculturists. The pastures are completely destroyed by the burning rays of the sun and the scarcity of water for cattle threatens a milk famine. The crops of roots are also suffering.

One of the ancient customs connected with the funeral was to place a small looking glass in the coffin of an unmarried female, so that when the last trump sounds she might be able to arrange her tresses. It was the practice for Scandinavian maidens to wear their hair flowing loosely, while the custom wore it bound about the head and generally covered with some form of cap. Hence the unmarried woman was imagined as awakening at the judgment day with more untidy locks than her wedded sisters and more in need of a glass.—Westminster Review.

MR LAURIER AND THE ORANGEMEN

The Patriot says that Mr. Laurier has been misrepresented. It is true, the misrepresentation was that of Mr. Laurier's own friends—his own journalistic organs. It was La Patrie, of Montreal, which said on the 4th September:

"Seeing that the Conservative journals have published fantastic accounts of the discourse pronounced, we give here the exact text of the declaration of Hon. Mr. Laurier:

"I know that I shall be called upon to fulfil this engagement, because the Government itself cannot settle the question. How can you expect that men who are sworn to suppress Catholic influence will re-establish the Catholic schools, which are the source of that influence? Thank God, there is not an Orangeman among us, the Liberals! The day when the people condescend to me the direction of the affairs of the country, I shall have but to appeal to the Christian sentiments of my party to render justice to those to whom justice is due."

It was Le Cultivateur, published by Mr. Tarte, which reported on the 7th September:

"The Liberal chief reiterated, amidst indescribable enthusiasm, his solemn engagement to re-establish the Catholic schools on his arrival in power. The Conservatives were as enthusiastic as the Liberals, and applauded an outburst.

"I know, said Mr. Laurier, that I shall be appealed to fulfil that engagement, because the present Government cannot settle the question. How do you think that men who have taken an oath to suppress Catholic influence can re-establish the Catholic schools which are the source of that influence? Thank God, there are no Orangemen among us, the Liberals! The day when the people shall have confided to me the direction of affairs I shall have but to appeal to the Christian sentiments of my followers to engage them in the rendering of justice to whom justice is due."

THE PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD.

Important Matters Discussed and Disposed Of.

THE QUESTION OF HOME MISSIONS.

End of An Eventful Session.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

The discussion upon the changes in the regulations of the Aged and Infirm Ministers' Bursas past closed by a vote of Synod declining to recommend the proposed alterations.

The discussion on the appointment of a Synodical Evangelist was then resumed. After several spirited speeches on both sides a vote was reached at a quarter of 6 o'clock. The Synod by a good majority rejected the report of the Committee and declined to make such an appointment.

The evening was occupied with Home Missions. Mr. McMillan, Conventor, reported last year as the best in the church's history, both in the work done and in the amount contributed by congregations. Glancing back at the past he stated that three times the amount that was given by the congregations ten years ago was given last year.

Graphic sketches of home mission work and addresses upon the various departments of this branch of activity were given by Rev. A. S. Morton, son of Dr. Morton of Trinidad; J. B. Cropper, Mr. D. McKay and Mr. F. L. Joliffe. If these young men were at all fair specimens of the coming ministers of the Presbyterian Church in these Provinces there will be little fear of the future.

Rev. Mr. Ross, Superintendent of Home Missions in the Presbytery of St. John, gave some interesting particulars of work in that district. The organization of the several districts, the increased efficiency of the work and the large contributions are striking evidence of the wisdom of the appointment of Mr. Ross to that work.

Dr. Robertson, at one time Moderator of the General Assembly of the Church, and the indefatigable superintendent of home mission work in the great Northwest, gave one of his telling speeches. He reviewed the past, spoke of the magnificent progress that had been made in a few years, and without in the slightest degree minimizing the difficulties as indifference, gambling and Sabbath-breaking and all the other forms of wickedness, lifted his audience to a pitch of enthusiasm as he told of the generous response made to the earnest appeals of our missionaries, and of the number of those who gave manifest evidence of the power of the Gospel.

Perhaps the most disappointing part of the Doctor's speech was his reference to the injury caused by the frost to the grain crops of the Northwest. Dr. Robertson will all ways receive just as warm a welcome as he received last night, and the enthusiasm, awakened by his presence does not die out when he leaves, as the liberal contributions for his work abundantly prove.

Business was now rapidly run forward, as the Synod had resolved to sit until the docket was disposed of. Item after item was discussed with celerity, in some cases far too little time being spent over matters. When the clerk announced that the docket was clear, the Moderator in a voice that trembled with emotion, reviewed the session, speaking of the harmony and brotherly feeling which had prevailed, of the manifest tokens of God's favor and blessing which had been bestowed upon the Church during the past year, and of his own high appreciation of the courtesy and forbearance which the members had shown to him. He then called upon Rev. Dr. Gordon to engage in prayer, and afterwards adjourned the Synod, to meet in Picton on the first Tuesday of October, 1896.

We omitted to mention that votes of thanks were passed to the minister, managers and session of St. James and Zion Church for the use of the buildings, to the various steamboat and railway companies for facilities of travel, and to the citizens of Charlottetown for their large and liberal hospitality.

A slight deviation was made from the regular order, in specially acknowledging the services of Mr. W. T. Huggan, Mr. D. Small and Mr. T. C. James.

Thus closed one of the most eventful meetings of the Synod. The reports indicated marked progress in all departments. The discussions were spiteful, but not a single outburst of unpleasing feeling occurred during the whole session. The weather was delightful, and if some of the members suffered from the pangs of seasickness, they were ready to declare that a visit to the Island and the warm welcome which they received more than compensated for it all.

Almost the entire Synod left either by boat or train this morning for their various fields of labor.

Noah was the first man to advertise. He advertised the flood and came through it all right. To be sure he did. Noah knew enough to go in when it rained. Some men don't Noah-nuff, and try to get in after the door is closed. Just so with the SLATER SHOES. We knew a good thing when we saw it—were the first to advertise them—and now, while others are in the storm crying for help, we are selling the Slater $3.00 Shoe for $3.00 and $4.00 ones for $4.00. Nothing slow in our combine. High Grade Shoes and Low Prices go together. A monopoly of this kind stands the test.
