DIED FROM HIS INJURIES. — Alexander Cameron of Murray Harbor, P. E. I., who was so shockingly injured at the Exchange street station of the M. C. R. R., Tuesday morning, was unable to stand the effects of the amputation of his right arm, and died at 8.30 this morning, at the York Street House. The remains will be taken home to Prince Edward Island for burial, leaving by Friday morning's train.—Bangor Commercial, 3rd.

IT has been found that after the proposed division of the fishery bounty of $150,000, voted last year, was made, that a sufficient balance remains on hand to increase the bounty to fishermen in boats to $5 per man for 1882, and the bounty to boat tonnage in proportion. An Order-in-Council on the 4th is said to have been passed, making this increase. Thus boat fishermen, instead of receiving $2.50, as expected, will get double the amount.

THE Postmaster General, has we learn, transferred Mr James A. Carman from the Prince Edward Island Postal division to that of Manitoba. Mr. Carman entered the Postal Service in New Brunswick in 1872, and was transferred to this Island in 1875 with the status of a 2nd class Railway Mail Clerk, being the first Postal Car Clerk who ran on this road. Owing to ill health he was transferred, in 1881, from the Railway Mail branch to the inside service in the City office, where he filled varied duties until his transfer. His experience in the various departments, both of the inside and Railway mail service, will now be of great value to him in that new Province, where he will be found a valuable officer. He was very obliging in all his official intercourse with the public. Mrs. Carman left this morning to join him on his way to their new home. They carry with them many good wishes for their welfare and happiness.

YESTERDAY the Militia of the City turned out to their annual Church parade. About one hundred and fifty men, consisting of No. 1 Batt. Artillery under Capt. Passmore; No 2 Batt. under Capt. F. Moore; Engineers under Lieut. Macdougall; No 3 Co. under Capt. D. Stewart; No 4 Co. under Major Mabon, the whole under command of Lieut. Colonel Beer, and headed by the Band of 82nd Battalion, marched from the Drill Shed to the Methodist Baick Church, where they occupied the centre aisle. Any eulogy on the appearance of the men is rendered unnecessary by the reputation they already sustain. We were pleased to see some country volunteers in the procession, viz., those belonging to No. 4 Co. commanded by Major Mabon. The men were well looked after by Mr. Justice Young, who invited them to dinner. Mr. Burwash's preached an appropriate sermon. Having taken for his text, "Ephraim being armed and carrying bows turned back in the day of battle," the preacher said: "There were many lessons to be learned from the failures and defects of men, as well as from their successes and triumphs. They were not there to learn from him their military duties, for he did not propose to teach them that, but he would point them to their spiritual armor, and give them directions concerning their spiritual conflict, in which, as Christian soldiers, they were engaged. The Rev gentleman then proceeded to show how there was a great battle being continually waged in this life, the battle of right against wrong, of good against evil, and that sooner or later the one would overcome the other. His sermon was, indeed, an eloquent one, and his illustrations, chiefly drawn from historic battlefields, were much to the point. The men listened with the most orderly and reverent attention, and joined heartily with the splendid choir in singing the different hymns.

Liabilities estimated at $200,000 to $250,000. One hundred and forty men are thrown out of employment. The cause of the failure is attributed to the tightness of the money market and the failure of the Pittsburg Iron Manufacturing Co.

Roger Amirault, the French Canadian who has been arrested at Digby, N. S., on suspicion of having murdered Mrs. Etta Carlton, at Watertown, Mass., in March last, is the same man who was seen on the train between New Brunswick and Bangor, Me., by a personal friend, who denied his identity when spoken to. Although Amirault has his moustache shaven off this man positively identified him. Amirault went through to St. John and there took the steamer for Digby, N. S., where he arrived ten days after the murder. He was arrested there a few days since at the request of Boston officers, to await extradition. He had previously been employed at various places in the vicinity of Watertown. He disappeared shortly after the murder. He tells conflicting stories of his whereabouts at the time and of his travels since.

A printer named Gibney, with Eugene Kingston, was arraigned in Dublin on a charge of conspiracy to murder Pool, the Fenian centre, who turned informer. Devine, who was arrested at the time of the affray when Detective Cox was murdered, swore he was a Fenian. He stated that several Fenians, including Sullivan, the auctioneer, arrested as a suspect, and one Boland, of Manchester, condemned Pool to death, and ordered Kingston to execute the sentence. He swore that the society of which the prisoners were members decided to murder detective Cox and Judge Lawson. The society also sentenced Jenkinson, director of the Irish criminal investigation department, and Mollon, chief of detectives, to death. It plotted to destroy by dynamite the house in which the Crown witnesses lodged, and murdered informers Kenny and Baily. The prisoners were remanded for a week.

At Lillie Bridge grounds on Monday, April 16, a contest for the professional eight miles, walking contest of England came off. As will be remembered, this contest was to have been decided on Monday, April 9, but owing to the unruly behavior of the spectators, who broke into the enclosure at Bow Grounds, London, the referee declared it no race, and the men, John Hibberd, of Bethnal Green; H. Griffin, of London; H. Thacker, of Henley-on-Thames; and W. Raby, of Eiland, Yorkshire, agreed to meet again the following Monday at the Lillie Bridge grounds, with the stipulation that the enclosure should be kept free of all but officials and members of the press, and that no caution should be allowed in case of unfair walking. The race was for the eight miles' championship, and $200 to first man, and $50 to second. The men all turned up. The track was first-class. From the very commencement the race appeared to be between Hibberd and Raby, who quickly drew away from the others, walking in rare form, while Thatcher soon began to go in a doubtful manner, and shortly after the completion of the sixth mile had to give up under orders of the referee. At the same time Hibberd went a trifle doubtful, but he let himself down again, and not only managed to win, but cut the English record at five, six, seven and eight miles. The times speak for themselves, the leader being given:—Hibberd, one mile, 6 mins. 57 secs.; two miles 14 mins. 14 secs.; three miles, 21 mins. 32 secs.; four miles, Raby, 28 mins. 55 secs.; five miles, Hibbers, 36 mins. 14 sec.; six miles, Hibberd, 43 mins. 40 secs.; seven miles, 51 mins, 14 secs; eight miles, 58 mins. 44 secs.; Raby, eight miles, 58 mins. 57 secs.
