

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

OCTOBER 10, 1896.

WINTER MAIL SERVICE.

We give the Hon Mr. Davies credit for the promptness and energy he is displaying in respect to the winter mail service between this province and the mainland.

THE WHEAT BOOM.

The rise in wheat is one bright spot in a generally dull and gloomy commercial situation. It proceeds from a demand in Great Britain and Europe caused by a shortage of the wheat crop of Russia, India and the Argentine Republic.

MUTUAL IMPROVEMENT.

This is the season for the organization or re-organization of literary, musical, debating and other mutual improvement societies. We hope that these societies will be sufficiently plentiful in Charlottetown during the ensuing fall and winter.

REPORTS FROM TURKEY.

The independent states that letters from Constantinople show that there is conclusive proof that the late massacre were carefully planned. In some quarters Armenian houses were carefully singled out, and marked with red paint, so as to guide the mob in its looting.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Mail and Empire: A proposed expenditure of $45,000,000, a deficit of $5,000,000, and a new loan of $5,000,000, are nice beginnings of the reign of economy.

The Mail and Empire remarks that with Parliament of their hands the Ministers will now be able to proceed more vigorously with the operation of the gull lotteries.

Mr. David Mills expressed the opinion that the estimates could be reduced by about $4,000,000. Instead of a reduction under the L. Bernis there has been a large addition to the estimates.

According to a despatch, more or less reliable, some Toronto lawyers are working for the removal of Conservative office-holders and their replacement by Liberals, the consideration being commission on the salary of the office.

The Toronto Globe continues to demand that the Manitoba school question is already settled. While it is true that Attorney-General Sifton is about to enter the Dominion Cabinet as a result of the negotiation to this end, the reliability of this declaration may well be doubted.

On the school ordinance clause establishing separate schools, Mr. Reid, of Prince Albert, moved a few days ago that no person should be assessed to support separate schools without his consent.

The New York Herald publishes a Washington despatch saying there is a well defined belief in diplomatic circles there that as a result of Joseph Chamberlain's visit to America some definite understanding has been reached between him and Secretary Olney in regard to a final settlement of the long pending Venezuela boundary dispute.

The Queen and the Government, two hundred miles from the nearest port, but the independent and semi-independent tribes living in the fastnesses of the mountains and forests, practically inaccessible to European troops, have it all their own way and defy their French masters to suppress them.

The following cases were disposed of by Mr. H. J. Palmer, Stipendiary Magistrate for Queens' County, during the past few days:

The Queen vs. John McKenna, Patrick Hand, Thomas Murray and James Mooney - action for causing a disturbance on the Southport ferry on the evening of one of the Exhibition days. Murray and Hand were tried. The former was discharged, and the latter was fined $2 or 20 days.

The Queen on the prosecution of Herbert J. Carver vs. Mary Myers. Action of assault and battery. The evidence showed that Mrs. Myers struck Carver on the mouth with the back of her hand. A fine of $1 and costs was imposed.

The Queen on the prosecution of James Vaucher vs. Alexander McLeod and Fredk. Ross. Action of malicious injuries to property. The summons against Ross was dismissed for want of evidence, and the case against McLeod was adjourned until Wednesday next.

Buy men's clothing at J. B. Macdonald & Co's.

The literary and artistic world will greatly regret the death of George DuMaurier.

The annual report of the Grand Trunk Railway, published in London, shows a net revenue deficiency of $28,000.

The Australian Assembly has passed the second reading of the bill establishing female suffrage and "one man one vote."

The house and outbuildings of Doc Bent at Amherst, were destroyed by fire early on Thursday morning. Bent narrowly escaped with his life.

The returns issued by the British Board of Trade for September show an increase in imports of $2,496,000, and an increase in exports of $340,000 during that month, as compared with those for September, 1895.

The report of the condition of the British crops up to the first of October shows that the cereals have been somewhat damaged by rain, but their root and grass harvests have been improved.

A despatch to the New York World from San Francisco says: Captain William Olsen, owner of the schooner Rebecca, has received a letter reporting the total destruction by lightning of Atlanta, a little port on the western coast of Mexico.

The Republicans made large gains in the town elections in Connecticut, held recently. Of the 163 towns voting, 120 had been heard from at latest accounts, and the returns show that fifteen more towns have abandoned the Democratic party.

The firm of John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, has purchased the entire business of the late firm of Hilton, Hughes & Co. The transaction includes the purchase of all the real estate of the original firm of A. T. Stewart & Co., consisting of the store at Broadway and Tenth Street, the stable and outfit of the delivery service and all the merchandise.

A despatch to the London Daily News from Vienna says that the Russian Minister at Seoul, Corea, has been instructed to inform the King of Corea that Russia has no idea of concluding a treaty with Japan for a joint protectorate over his Kingdom, but that Russia considers Corea as a part of Siberia, and that the Korean question is closed.

Florida, appears in its State election to have gone Democratic by about the usual good majority. Georgia, also, has apparently stood by its old faith. Neither sound money preaching nor the diversion caused by the Populists are likely, therefore, to move these states from the column in which they usually stand in Presidential elections.

General Trochu's death removes another of the prominent actors in the Franco-German war of twenty-five years ago. It came to the front later than most of the greater French generals who figured in the events of that memorable time, and survived most of them. He defended Paris, and probably did all that a soldier could to keep the Germans out. It was his fate to surrender the city, but the circumstances involved no dishonor so far as he was concerned, and his country can afford to honor in death one who served it with high ability in life.

A letter from Madagascar via Kingston, Jamaica, says: Except where the French garrisons are quartered, the island is in a perfect state of anarchy, and foreigners who have gone up the country from Majunga are having a serious time of it. Sixteen Europeans and three Americans were killed between June and July, and since that time the road has been completely closed. In reality the French conquest is only official. They have secured the Hoava Queen and the Government, two hundred miles from the nearest port, but the independent and semi-independent tribes living in the fastnesses of the mountains and forests, practically inaccessible to European troops, have it all their own way and defy their French masters to suppress them.

SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER

THE WINTER MAIL SERVICE.

A Steamer Purchased for Service at the Capes.

Ottawa, Oct. 10. The Minister of Marine and Fisheries has just purchased the steel screw steamer Petrel, of Kingston, belonging to the Collins Bay R. & F. Co., for the ice boat service between Cape Tormentine, N. B., and Cape Traverse, P. E. I. The vessel is 200 tons register, 122 feet long, 26 feet beam and 9 1/2 in depth. She has fair accommodation, for passengers, and will carry on her deck a couple of iceboats, so that in case of detention by pack ice these can be resorted to. As there is no pier at Cape Traverse, the Petrel will have to take her chances of lying alongside or being docked in the board ice.

Capitan McElhinney, of the Marine Department, goes to Collins Bay immediately to take the vessel down.

Football in New Brunswick. St. John's, Oct. 10. The first New Brunswick League football match was played yesterday between the St. John and Fredericton teams, and resulted in a victory for the visitors by a score of 3 to 0.
