MONTAGUE W. I.

The December meeting of the Montague Womens Institute was held last week at the home of Mrs. Lester MacLeod, with the president, Mrs. A. D. MacLure presiding.

The meeting opened with the singing of the institute ode, with Mrs. Howard Vickerson at the piano. Roll call was answered by sixteen members. In the absence of the secretary, the minutes of the last meeting were read by Miss Eileen MacKenzie, and approved as read.

A sum of money was voted to pay the expenses arising from the blood donor clinic which was held in the beaver hall recently. Two members of the institute represented the members at the clinic.

Mrs. J. C. MacLure, as lunch convener, and Mrs. Lorne Wigninton as registrar, $5.00 was voted towards the T. B. League, and $10.00 was donated to the King's County Hospital campaign fund.

The Red Cross convener, Mrs. William MacLure, reported having sent to headquarters all finished work, and having ordered knitting and sewing. The school committee reported having interviewed the teachers in regard to purchasing books for the school library.

A letter from the P. E. I. women's institutes provincial executive was read concerning the high electricity rates for halls, churches and schools. The matter of having a fire bell in the school was discussed, and it was also suggested that fire drill be held more often.

Mrs. Lester MacLeod was appointed on the program committee for January, and Miss Shirley Jenkins and Miss Evelyn Underhay for February.

At the close of the meeting the members enjoyed a program, convened by the president, which included an amusing contest, and a reading "Pot Luck With His Lordship." Little Dianne MacLeod, daughter of the hostess, delighted the members with several piano selections. Dianne also assisted Mrs. MacLeod in serving a delicious lunch at the close of the program.

The WEEK at S. D. U.

Once again the College on the Hill has become a beehive of activity as students returned last Tuesday to register for another term. Once again the silence of the corridors was replaced by the tramping of feet and the echo of voices. One could walk into a room and not be surprised to find fifteen or twenty students discussing the results of the exams, their holiday experiences or anything else which is usually discussed in "bull sessions."

We'll have to start our news for this year where we left off last year. Shortly before we went home the interest of the students was drawn by the basketball finals on the campus. In the intramural league the teams of Grades X and XI, Sophomore, Junior and Senior entered the semi-finals. Seniors won out over Sophomores by a narrow margin, as did Juniors over Grades X and XI. Then Juniors and Seniors met in the finals. Juniors won the championship in two straight games, the scores being 39-29 and 28-22. As can be seen by the scores the play was very even all the way and at times the Seniors were ahead, but then the Juniors determined to retain the championship which they have held for the past two years, always fought back strongly. The Juniors team comprised: Clair Callaghan (captain), John Clarkin, Walter Sonier, Fred Driscoll, Foyd McGaugh, John Mulhally, Regis Duffy and Ray Delage.

The play-offs in the juvenile basketball league furnished keen competition as well. The finalists for College years were Team No. 4 with captain Al MacDonald and Team No. 7 captained by Leonard Shea with the latter winning out in a sudden death game. Team No. 7 was made up of: Leonard Shea (captain), Bill McIsaac, Bill Whelan, Arnold Hickey, Ronnie McIvor, Simon Farmer, Jerome Quinn and Jimmie Johnson, in High School, the finals were played by Team No. 17 and Team No. 16 with No. 17 being the winner. The members of the winning team were: B. Farmer (captain), A. Mullan, A. Seaman, R. Albert, C. Kilbride and B. Cair.

The main topic of discussion among the students since their return is the newly-formed four-team City Hockey League comprising three teams from Charlottetown and the Saints. Looking over the lineups of the other teams, we find that stiff competition will be provided among the players. Numbered among the players we notice former stars of St. Dunstons as well as other capable local hockeyists. Nevertheless, the Saints have been practicing daily in the College rink since they came back and we are confident they will make a good showing against these teams. One thing is certain and that is that this league will provide the Saints with ample practice for intercollegiate play.

The student body extends congratulations to Mr. Brendan O'Grady whose marriage to Miss Leah Brothers was solemnized during the holidays.

Each evening after supper the sons and daughters of St. Dunstons may be seen filing out to the rink to enjoy a skate for an hour or so before study. Music is supplied by records played over the P.A. system with Charlie MacDonald in charge. We even had a couple of skates in the rink before we went home. Usually the weather does not favor us with ice before Christmas. Aquinas Ryan is rink manager this year. He is assisted in his work by the following committee: Leo McGinn, Leonard Leclair, Tom McGaugh, Alfred Rossier, Lloyd Gaudet, Simeon Farmer, Jerome Quinn, Art Pendergast and Floyd McGaugh.

For the most part, the results of the exams seem favorable, and in some cases most favorable. In a few ever-present cases the results indicate that more effort will have to be used in this term. In any case, we at St. Dunstons are looking forward to a successful term academically, athletically and spiritually.

Until Next week, from all of us at S. D. U. to all of you, health and happiness.

Photographer Tells Of Experiences In Korea

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 — (CP) — Officers chased Sgt. Bill Olsen of Vancouver out of the Korean fighting lines. But not for long. He sneaked back in. They offered him a commission. He turned it down.

These are a few of the highlights the army's former photographer in Korea recounted at a press conference today in the Parliament press gallery. Home on rotation leave after a year in Korean hills, he told reporters he would like to go back again and that perhaps it now might be a good time to take up the offer of a commission and become a lieutenant.

Ever since the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry landed in Korea, the 30-year-old, 200-pound photographer spent most of his picture form some of the courage and bravery, chaos, grime and dirt that is to be found in Korea.

Olsen, who learned to snap the shutter during five years of public relations work with the Canadian Navy in the Second World War, does things in a hurry. He decided suddenly to leave the Vancouver Province and join the 25th Brigade, slated for service in Korea. He joined the army one day, was promoted to sergeant the next and sent to Fort Lewis, Wash., the third day to embark with the Patricia's for Korea.

"I didn't even know how to salute like an army sergeant," he recalled. "Officers looked at me kind of funny."

The reason was that as a naval petty officer, Olsen learned to salute with the flat of the hand across the forehead. Army men, when they salute, have the palm of the hand showing.

After he got to Korea there was more trouble. He was ordered not to go forward of fighting echelon. Officers chased him when he showed in the lines with "C" company of the Patricia's.

Sometimes Olsen would carry an American carbine and the officers would mistake him for a fighting man and let him through. But finally they found him in the lines so often that they simply turned their backs.

He took some 2,000 pictures, sent back to Ottawa headquarters for distribution. "One of the best shots was never submitted to the army because it was 'too gruesome.' It was a picture taken of a dead Chinese Communist shot as he was about to toss a grenade. The Red died, clutching the grenade in his hands."

ST. ANDREW'S Y. W. G. — Mrs. Elsie Watterworth was hostess to the members of the Young Women's Guild of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Montague, for their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday evening.

The president, Mrs. Leland Nelson, presided and opened the meeting with the hymn "What A Friend We Have In Jesus." The scripture was read by Mrs. Claude Nicholson and Mrs. Watterworth led in prayer.

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Malcolm MacKenzie, the minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Byron Stewart and approved as read. Roll call was answered by thirteen members and there were three visitors present.

Miss Thelma Larter reported for the visiting committee and Mrs. Watterworth reported for the committee which was appointed to bring material for costumes to be used in the Christmas pageant.

The financial report was read by the treasurer, Miss Larter. One of the guests, Miss Anne MacEachern, was present at the Presbyterian Deaconess training school in Toronto, spoke informally about her work in helping to organize a Sunday school in Humber Summit, near Toronto.

Mrs. Martin Currie, Charlottetown, also spoke briefly. She offered several suggestions for making articles for a bazaar table.

Miss Larter was appointed convener of the work committee for next meeting.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction and a social hour followed featuring a "parcel post" which everyone enjoyed very much. A Christmas contest was won by Mrs. Lorne Johnston and a delicious lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Wellington Campbell and Mrs. Percy Myers.

Rehabilitation Of Disabled Persons Planned

OTTAWA, Jan. 11 — (CP)— A 35-member national advisory committee on the rehabilitation of disabled persons has been established by the Federal Government, it was announced today.

The move was described as the first step in a joint federal-provincial long-range project designed "to replace, preserve and restore the ability of the handicapped individual to work for pay and thus make himself self-supporting."

The committee will be composed of representatives of the Federal and provincial governments, health and welfare voluntary agencies, the medical profession, organized labor, employers, and four members from among persons especially interested in rehabilitation.

Formation of the committee was recommended last February at the first national conference on rehabilitation of the physically handicapped.

In a statement, Labor Minister Gregg said: "The ultimate objective is to make available to all of the estimated 100,000 seriously-disabled persons of working age in Canada, the best treatment obtainable, and the possibility of becoming rehabilitated to the position of being able to earn their own living and contribute their share to the productive capacity of our country."

An interruption in electric power on Tuesday, Jan. 8 at about 5:15 p.m., which continued until 11:25 p.m., caused considerable inconvenience and resulted in various scheduled social activities in the town, having to be postponed.

Again in the early hours of Wednesday, Jan. 9, the power was again disrupted and was not resumed until about 10:15 a.m. The wind and the sleet storm was the cause of the interruptions and the breaks were located along the main Georgetown - Charlottetown highway.

IN MEMORIAM

ELLSWORTH FERGUSON

The death occurred in Murray River on December 12, 1951, in his twenty-ninth year of Mr. Ellsworth Ferguson. His illness was of very short duration and despite all that medical skill and tender nursing could do he passed away on the above date.

Ellsworth was the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Merton Ferguson and was born in White Sands in 1922. Having completed his studies in White Sands school and successfully passing the entrance examinations, he took one year in Prince of Wales College. Then he entered the employment of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Charlottetown in 1940 and later served in the branches at Summerside, Springhill and Saint John.

From the latter branch he heard the call of his country and enlisted voluntarily in the Royal Canadian Navy. In 1946 he was honorably discharged and returned to Murray River where he went into partnership with his father in the Ferguson Meat Market. Many will miss his faithful and upright conduct of business throughout the wide area where he travelled.

But it is in the home where he will be especially missed, by his wife, the former Audrey O'Brien of Saint John, N. B., and his small family, Dianne three years of age and Deborah Lee, one week of age at the time of her father's passing. Also left to mourn besides his parents is one brother, George, in the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Charlottetown.

His funeral which was held on December 15 was conducted by the minister, Rev. D. Wallace MacPherson, from the home and Murray River United Church. Despite the very inclement weather, the church was taxed to its utmost capacity. Rev. Mr. MacPherson brought a message of comfort and hope from the text, "The Lord is gracious and he will not turn his face from us." Hymns sung were "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "Rock of Ages". The choir rendered the selection "Will The Circle Be Unbroken?" Interment took place in Murray Harbour Cemetery.

Card Of Thanks

The family of the late Ellsworth Ferguson wish to thank the nurses and doctors of the Prince Edward Island Hospital, Dr. Bonnell, Misses Flora Stewart, Inez Keepers, Mrs. MacDonald, Mrs. Graham; also neighbors and friends for sending flowers, letters and cards of sympathy and also their many acts of kindness and thoughtfulness.
