ADVERTISING RATES

For small advertisements which are ordered for only one or two weeks the charge is 50 cents per inch for the first insertion, and 20 cents for each continuation. Rate cards are furnished on application at the office. Special contract prices at a reduced rate are quoted for advertisements four inches in size or larger, which are to run for three months or longer.

No special notices inserted unless paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line, and under no circumstances will such paid notices appear in the local column.

Special discounts made on all advertisements connected with Church Fairs, Bazaars, Picnics, etc. No notices will be inserted with the same unless the regular rate of 10 cents per line is paid.

That THE EXAMINER is considered by our Merchants and Manufacturers to be the leading newspaper in P. E. Island, and consequently the most valuable advertising medium through which to make their announcements public, is abundantly proved by the fact that in order to accommodate our advertisers we have been compelled to enlarge the paper to its present size.

THE DAILY EXAMINER is for sale by the following agents :—

A Grand Treat for Subscribers to The Examiner.

(x)

THE GREATEST WORLD'S FAIR BOOK IS READY !

We take pleasure in announcing that we have made arrangements with the publishers of

The Magic City

to supply this celebrated work in Weekly Parts to our subscribers at the very low price of TEN CENTS per number. It will be issued in sixteen consecutive Weekly Parts, each containing sixteen to twenty magnificent Photographic Views and Historical Descriptions of the WORLD'S FAIR and the MIDWAY PLAISANCE, by the famous American Author, MR. J. W. BUEL. The Photographs are the finest that have ever been offered to the public. They constitute a splendid series of

OVER 300 VIEWS

in NATURAL PHOTOGRAPH COLORS, embracing all the wonderful features of the World's Fair and its surroundings, and the famous MIDWAY PLAISANCE, with its curious and interesting character sketches of life in foreign countries and among wild and curious races of people.

IT IS The Greatest,
The Grandest,
The Most Beautiful,
The Only Complete

History of the Fair that has been published. The Photographs, in natural colors, are while the historical descriptions give the work a value beyond all computation. The author spent nearly the whole summer at the Fair, preparing his notes and superintending the work of the corps of artists employed in taking views. These pictures are the finest in existence. They were taken by trained artists of more than national reputation, who knew how to secure the best results and the most favorable points of view Their beauty and splendor will be a surprise to our readers. Nothing equal to them has ever been seen in pictorial representations; and the fact that they were obtained especially for THE MAGIC CITY, and will not be made common by promiscuous publication in other works, adds a hundredfold to their value.

Beautiful as a Dream,

There are other World's Fair Series being issued, cheap, unreliable, garbled affairs, but the price charged for them is no lower than for the magnificent "WHITE CITY" Series. You only need to compare the specimen of "MAGIC CITY" with other books to show you that the "MAGIC CITY" will sweep the field and over-run the business being done by these inferior World's Fair Series in the field now.

The Examiner Always Gets the Best !

Watch Our Advertising Column for the Announcement of the First Grand Portfolio of "THE MAGIC CITY."

THE AMERICAN
$8.00 Typewriter.

This is a well-made, practical machine, writing capitals, small letters, figures, and punctuation marks (71 in all) on full width paper, just like a $100 instrument. It is the first of its kind ever offered at a popular price for which the above claim can be truthfully made. It is not a toy, but a typewriter built for and capable of REAL WORK. While not as rapid as the large machines sometimes become in expert hands, it is still at least as rapid as the pen, and has the advantage of such simplicity that it can be understood and mastered almost at a glance. We cordially commend it to helpful parents and teachers everywhere.

Writes capitals, small letters, figures and marks—71 in all.
Writes just like a $100 machine.
No Shift Keys. No Ribbon. Prints from the type direct.
Prints on flat surface.
Writing always in sight.
Corrections and insertions easily made.
Takes any width of paper or envelope up to 8½ inches.
Easy to understand—learned in 5 minu
Weighs only four pounds—most portable.
Compact, takes up but little room.
Built solid and simple; can't get out of order.
Capital and lower case keyboard ailke—easily mastered.
More "margin play" for the small letters which do most of the work.
Takes good letter-press copies.

Packed securely in handsome case and expressed to any address on receipt of price, $8.00, in registered letter, money order or certified check. We guarantee every machine, and are glad to answer all inquiries for further information as to this machine and also the "Yost."

FLOGGING BRITISH SEAMEN.

How the Cat Was Formerly Used In the English Navy.

The following graphic description of the manner in which the "cat" used to be administered in the royal navy is from the pen of an able seaman:

I now gave a look to the poor fellow who was flogged yesterday. He is a Welshman, aged 20, and came from London to the gold diggings in the Tynemouth, and turned out a very bad fellow, spent his money instead of going to the diggings, and joined the ship as boy just when I did. Well, he has been punished all sorts of ways. He was imprisoned for a month, but still he was abusive to every one—the essence of a blackguard (although well educated and of a good family). He was hated by all on board. At length he attempted to desert, was caught, put in irons—wrists and ankles—and kept lying on the lower deck all night, just below my hammock, swearing awfully.

Yesterday morning, at 6 o'clock, we heard the order, "All hands clear for quarters."

We knew directly the tragedy about to be enacted. I cleaned, went to the cabin and quietly began to write. I saw the marines putting on their cross belts, the officers donning their best uniforms. Presently the captain came into the cabin in full uniform. Then he gave the order. "All hands aft." They all crowded up, the doctor among the rest, all in full uniform and dress swords. The prisoner was brought forward, scowling on all sides. The officers and men removed their caps, and the sentence was read. Then two quartermasters stepped forward and lashed the prisoner's wrists and ankles to an upright gangway ladder. Then he was stripped to the waist, and a canvas cloth tied round his loins to catch the blood from his back. Now the boatswain's mate appeared with the dreaded "cat" in his hand. The handle was about 18 inches long, and the nine tails about two feet long, of whipcord the size of a quill pen.

The mate measured the distance and gave the "cat" a swift swing round his head. The prisoner gave a smothered cry and nine blood red streaks appeared on his back. "One," cried out the master at arms. I turned my head aside, and I saw the chief engineer bury his face in his hands.

"Two, three, four," repeated the loud voice. I dared not look, but I heard the sharp, shrill swish of the "cat," as, in measured time, it fell upon the man's back. His cries now became loud and agonizing.

"Five," said the master at arms.

"Oh, mercy!" replied the bleeding prisoner.

"Six."

"Oh, heaven!"

"Seven."

"Strike my ribs; oh, strike my ribs, let's have a change of position."

"Eight."

"Oh, you brute," cried the prisoner, turning to the captain, who stood looking on at the tragedy with solemn eyes.

"Nine," cried the master at arms.

"Do your duty, sir," said the first lieutenant to the perspiring mate, and the mate stopped for a moment to clean with his fingers the clotted thongs of his "cat."

Then he threw the whole swing of his body into "ten." The Welshman uttered a yell that was heard by the sentry on the forecastle of the flagship, at anchor two miles off.

"Eleven! twelve! Chanter," cried out the lieutenant, and the boatswain's mate of that name took the cat for 12 more—and so on, a fresh mate for every 12, until the whole 48 lashes were delivered, leaving the youth a miserable, bleeding spectacle.—London Tit-Bits.

Chicago Society.

Prince Woikonsky was misinformed by the Chicago lady who told him that the "society" of this city was limited to 80 persons. Probably the statement was not intended to be taken seriously. The society of the town acknowledges as composing its membership every man, woman and child within the city limits, excepting those who are in jail or engaged in unlawful pursuits. We have no Four Hundred; we have no One Hundred and Fifty, we have no Eighty. Any man or any woman who is honest, cleanly and well disposed is a member of Chicago society.

There are, it is true, different circles of society. The Blue Island Avenue Social club, for example, is not largely represented at the Bachelors and Benedicts' balls nor do the Prairie avenue people attend the merrymakings of the Halsted Street Frolicsome Five in any great numbers But the Blue Islanders are as good as the Bachelors and Benedicts, and the Prairie avenue folks do not turn up their noses at the Halsted street people. It is all a question of natural selection and to a limited extent of residence and finances. No "set" or "clique" can arrogate to itself the title of "Chicago society." All "sets" are equal.—Chicago Herald.

Wanted a Bonnet to Match.

Friend—It is costing you more to make over that old dress than it would cost to buy a new one.

Mrs. Managem (a smart woman)—I am not trying to save money. I am trying to make it.

"What?"

"You are not married yet, you know. When my husband sees me in this dress, he'll think it's a new one, and he'll have a regular fit about woman's extravagance, and declare that I'm driving him to wreck and ruin and ought to be ashamed of myself."

"I shouldn't wonder."

"Yes. Then I will tell him that this is an old dress made over, and all these trimmings and furbelows are to cover up stains and tears and threadbare places in the miserable old rag."

"Oh, that's it."

"Yes. And then he'll feel so mean and cheap and disgusting that he'll give me $50 for a new bonnet."—New York Weekly.

Tale of a Comet.

The crew of a man of war once saw a comet and were somewhat surprised and alarmed at its appearance. The hands met and appointed a committee to wait on the commander to ask his opinion of it. They approached him and said:

"We want to ask your opinion, your honor."

"Well, my boys, what is it about?"

"We want to inquire about that thing up there."

"Now, before I answer you, first let me know what you think it is."

"Well, your honor, we have talked it over, and we think it is a star sprung a leak."—Ram's Horn.

Not Possible.

Fat Man (who is in something of a hurry)—I'll give you $5 to get me to the station in three minutes.

Cabman (with provoking slowness)—Well, sorr, you might corrupt me, but you can't bribe that horse.—Exchange.

For Over Fifty Years.

AN OLD AND WELL TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures the colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasnt to the taste. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.—m. w. f. wkly—1 y

THE PROPER CAPER.

Among the new winter fabrics are watered velvets.

Satin and velvet ribbons in two tones are set forth both for millinery and dress uses.

The most fashionable watered silk is the moire Francais, watered only in small lines or waves.

Bouquets of tiny roses are printed in clear or chine style on faille, taffeta and watered silks.

Tulle grecque is a new textile, plain or dotted, that appears prominently among ruches, boas and collarettes.

Short, full black ostrich plumes tipped with white, or vice versa, are seen upon many of the imported autumn hats.

Handsome visiting costumes of finest ladies' cloth in black are trimmed with bands of cream white bengaline or taffeta silk laid under elaborate arabesque passementeries of fine cut jet.

Mousquetaire glace gloves are once again shown, and new lines of Tanie gloves, saddler sewn, are being introduced in shades of green, russet and violet, which colors have never before been brought out in this class of goods.

Some of the stylish cloth jackets are finished with small Eton jacket fronts and full sleeves of velvet. A vivid shade of green cloth trimmed with black braiding and an edge of black fur forms one of the novel coats made by Pingat. The flaring cape collar is likewise adorned.

It is very fashionable to cut the back of the bodice without a single seam, the seaming being done on the glove fitting lining, but as this style tends greatly in appearance to shorten and broaden the figure only women with long, slender waists should select this style of bodice.—New York Post.

WHIP AND SPUR.

The English St. Leger was worth $21,050 this year.

Gil Curry's pacing namesake has won six races in succession.

Kebir, 2:08¼, the Alcazar 4-year-old stallion, weighs 1,400 pounds.

The California race record is 2:08¼, by W. Wood, at Sacramento, Sept. 14.

Horses at the California state fair meeting were started by the tap of the drum.

The Kentucky Association of Trotting Horse Breeders celebrated its twentieth anniversary Aug. 1.

Direct, Directum and Director's Flower bear in form and action the likeness of their sire, Director.

The 40 brood mares from Palo Alto farm sold at Sacramento during the state fair brought on an average $300 each.

A few years ago Prussia issued a decree prohibited betting. Racing languished, and the interdict has been raised.

It is estimated that the horses in the free for all trot, won by Allx at Chicago, scored over 30 miles in the course of the protracted race.

The pacer W. Wood, 2:07, has a capricious appetite. He ate a piece of hale rope some two feet long last year, which caused him to scour badly.

Harry Jones, the Indiana driver, is not yet of age, and in the past two years has driven in 47 races and failed to win a part of the purse but twice.

Rowena, by Amoor, is a game one. After winning two heats better than 2:20, she ran away three miles. She was third in the four following heats and fought in all of them for the lead.

THE MOVING WORLD.

False teeth are now made of paper and seem to be as strong as bone or ivory.

Aluminium plates are used in Germany to engrave and etch upon, and it is spoken of as a probable substitute for zinc and lithographic stones.

An ingenious instrument has been devised for rapidly obtaining the hour angles of the principal stars for the detection of compass errors and for general navigational uses.

An improvement in the manufacture of sheet iron, whereby the sheets are oxidized in the pack while redhot by the penetration of a strong current of steam or water directed against the pack, is new.

A process of forming artificial whalebone from animal hair, consisting in subjecting the hair to a softening bath, then to a bath of acetic acid and finally placing the mass under great pressure, has been invented.

POWDER AND BALL.

The formation in European armies is the two rank line introduced about 70 years ago.

A type of firearm has been invented in England by which compressed gas is utilized instead of powder as a propelling force.

Charles VIII of France was the father of modern artillery. He made the guns lighter and used horses instead of oxen to draw them.

The drill of the Roman soldier was exceedingly severe. It comprised not only the use of weapons, but running, jumping, climbing, wrestling, swimming, both naked and in full armor.

It is 50 years since the Prussian army adopted the present form of helmet, with a spike on top; since then it has been imitated the world over, and our national guard wears the same pattern.

WHITE CITY WAIFS.

Comparatively few children have attended the World's fair, despite the half rate admission.

The Anthropological building at the World's fair contains a composite statue showing the average physical development of 6,000 American college girls.

The Bethlehem Iron works is represented not only by enormous forgings of guns and steamships shafts, but by a model 90 feet high of the 120 ton hammer used in making these tremendous forgings.

Two Kentucky girls are running a booth near the Woman's building at the World's fair, where they receive votes for the most popular American flower. Corn is at present away in the lead, with the sunflower a poor second.

INTERESTING FACTS.

The great Niagara suspension bridge was opened in 1869.

Philadelphia had the first fire insurance company in America.

The largest apes have only 16 ounces of brain; the lowest men have 39.

Frogs, which are a valuable food crop in Belgium, are protected by law in that country.

The mite mentioned in the gospel in connection with the widow's contribution to the treasury was a Greek copper coin weighing 18 grains.

Pond's Extract.

Used alike by the medical profession and the people, it holds a position held by no other medicine in this country, or, perhaps, the world.

Nursing Mothers and delicate children should make free use of Puttner's Emulsion, the best lung healer, strengthner, and flesh productor.

Clergyman, students and overtaxed business men will find a wonderful recuperative agent in Puttner's Emulsion, which contains Phosphorous (brain food) in the most assimilable form.
