Christmas Spent Quietly At S' side

SUMMERSIDE—Summerside residents marked the Christmas holiday in the traditional way with colorful decorations, over-eating of the stuffed turkey or goose, and family reunions. Activity was limited to family gatherings or visits to the homes of relatives and friends on Christmas Day but prior to the celebration many attended candle light services at the various churches or attended Midnight Mass. Police report a fairly active time in checking on various complaints of prowlers but nothing was reported to be stolen as the would-be burglars were scared off. No serious accidents were reported in the town and up to a late hour last evening no one had been hospitalized as the result of a car accident.

Heavy Debts Are Incurred To Finance Big Trade Deficit

By ALAN DONNELLY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP)—Canadians accumulated some heavy short-term debts in other countries this year to help finance a near-record deficit in trade and other international dealings. That fact emerged Tuesday as the bureau of statistics reported a $1,119,000,000 deficit for Canada in trade and other payments during the first nine months of the year. This current deficit was 42 per cent higher than last year and only four per cent below the record for the period set in 1957.

Inflows of long-term capital were sufficient to cover last year's current deficit, the bureau said. But a total $798,000,000 in long-term capital which flowed into the country in the first nine months of this year financed only about 70 per cent of the deficit. The rest was covered by short-term funds.

The following drills: "Come With Joy," "No Room in the Inn," "Christmas," "Don't Forget," "What Can We Do?" "Our Secret," "Star of the East," "The Angel's Message," "The Eternal Light," and "Victory," "Bring a Torch, Janette Isabella" by the aketa COIT group with their leader, Mrs. Lloyd Fraser as organist and closing chorus by the Mission Band.

Mr. Fraser expressed his appreciation to the Sunday School superintendent, Charles J. Fraser and also the following teachers, Mrs. A. E. Ings, Mrs. Keir Clark, Mrs. Duncan McIntyre, Mrs. Archibald Hume, Allan Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. William Bears, Gwendine Clark, Gillian Taylor, Mrs. Ethan Stewart and Mrs. Charles Fraser.

At the close of the program a jovial Santa arrived amid great excitement and treated the children present to candy and apples.

SUMMERSIDE—Prowlers were on the move Christmas Eve in Summerside but apparently were thwarted in their attempts to steal anything by the would-be victims.

Summerside Police received reports from Mrs. Lorne Reid, Church Street; Mrs. Joyce Martin, Second Street, and Mrs. Jack Peters, Market Street regarding prowlers around their homes but they were apparently frightened off before anything was taken from the premises.

SUMMERSIDE—A resident of Summerside, Thomas Peter Gmlikewicz was fined $75 and costs or 15 days when he pleaded guilty before W. Chester S. MacDonald in County Magistrate's Court here Wednesday to unlawfully driving a motor vehicle while his ability was impaired by alcohol.

The accused was found unconscious on the highway at Tryon at approximately 1.45 on the morning of December 18 by Cst. Dunn of the Borden detachment of the RCMP. It was reported that the vehicle the accused was driving left the road and ended up on its hood.

Alberton Legion Visited By Santa

ALBERTON—Santa Claus made his annual visit to the Alberton Legion Home Tuesday afternoon where he was greeted by a happy crowd of over 500 children.

All of them received a generous treat from jolly Saint Nick and the promise of more gifts on Christmas Eve. Unfortunately the large number at the Legion Home made it impossible for Santa to pay his regular call at the Western Hospital.

A committee of Legion assisted Santa by keeping the excited throng moving in an orderly manner. Members of the committee were Maurice Perry Sr.; Herb Leavitt, Kenneth Quigley, Ernest Myers, Frank Weeks, John MacDuff.

Many Attended Midnight Mass

SUMMERSIDE—Large congregations, filling St. Paul's Church to overflowing attended Midnight Mass and masses Christmas morning. The celebrant of the Solemn Midnight Mass was Rev. J.P.E. O'Hahley assisted by Rev. Vincent G. Murnaghan, of St. Dunstan's University, as deacon, Rev. Gerald Steel as sub-deacon and Rev. Emmanuel Richard as master of ceremonies. Beautiful Christmas music was provided by the men's and boys' choirs at the Midnight Mass and by the girl's choir at the morning masses. The sermon at all masses was delivered by Father O'Hahley. Pointing out that Christmas is above all else a religious feast, he said that it's true meaning is epitomized in the words of St. Luke "Today, in the town of David, a Savior has been born to you, who is Christ the Lord. The true Christian, looking above and beyond the toys and tinsel, the holly and the multi-colored lights, recognizes in the Divine Infant wrapped in swaddling clothes the promised Messias, the Prince of Peace, and the Savior of mankind. Little wonder, therefore, that no feast in the liturgical calendar so warms the Christian heart as the feast of Christ's nativity," he said.

Pope Expresses

Continuing a custom he revived last year, he invited diplomats accredited to the Vatican to the midnight Christmas Eve service at which he officiated. This morning he said mass in his private chapel for close associates of his Vatican household.

In his speech from the balcony, the pontiff expressed the wish that the light of Bethlehem illumine all men.

He cited the angels' words to the shepherds on the night that Christ was born: "Do not be afraid, for behold, I bring you good news of great joy which shall be to all people."

WISHES FOR PEACE
He said he wanted again to give his wish for peace. "Peace," he said, "is the gift of heaven, which is offered on earth for the good dispositions of sincere men."

Eisenhower Asks Americans To Aid World's Unfortunate

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked the American people Wednesday night to be generous in helping less fortunate peoples realize "the good life for humanity."

In a Christmas message carried around the world, the president said the help which a prosperous United States can extend is not a matter of charity, but a bulwark for freedom here and everywhere.

"In giving it," he said, "we must be hardheaded but understanding; enlightened in our own interest but sympathetic and generous in the interest of our friends."

Eisenhower's message was the traditional presidential talk at Christmas time, but it gained significance this time because of his just-concluded goodwill journey to three continents.

He made particular mention of that trip's experiences, saying: "I talked with kings and presidents, prime ministers and humble men and women in cottages and mud huts. Their common denominator was their faith that America will help lead the way toward a just peace."

Then, without mentioning Russia by name, he took note of the repeated Russian call for "peaceful coexistence" between the free world and the Communist bloc.

The good life for humanity does not require war between two systems, "nor does it offer merely a bare coexistence as a satisfactory state for mankind."

"After all," he said, "an uneasy coexistence can be as barren and sterile, joyless and stale a life for human beings as the coexistence of climates in a penitentiary."

A clean sweep for a confident father

The youngster with the broom is making a clean path for the curling stone. Maybe he doesn't realize it yet, but his father is guiding him through life on a path as direct and as smooth. Life insurance is a way to meet the future and a way to save. By insuring his son now, this father is encouraging thrift, building an attitude of mind.

Many people who plan their life insurance programme through The Mutual Life of Canada, take out policies at low cost on the lives of their children: policies the children take over when they start earning. It's a good idea. An idea worth discussing with your Mutual Life of Canada representative — soon.
