NOTES AND COMMENTS

—A British consular report on wheat-growing in the Argentine Republic says that wheat can be produced there for 27½ cents a bushel.

—The Globe has really no hope that the Grit Party will succeed in the coming elections. It says:—"Not in a generation has the outlook for strong, safe and progressive government seemed so unpromising as at this moment."

—The election campaign in Antigonish county will be commenced with vigor this week. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper is in the County, and arrangements have been completed for a grand rally on Saturday, to which the Grit candidates will be invited. The prospects of a Conservative victary are excellent.

—Mail and Empire: "The regiment which the late Mr. Mercier led and fed is awaiting the opportunity to invest the federal capital." It may be added that Mr. Mackenzie being dead, there is now no one to lay on his arms day and night guarding the interests of the Federal Treasury.

—Montreal Gazette: Liberal journals were mad at what they called the unconstitutional proposal of the Government to dissolve Parliament a year before its time was up. Now they appear to be as much annoyed that Parliament is not to be dissolved. They evidently have as little hope of profit in a session as they had of gain in a dissolution.

—Alberton has lost one of its oldest and most highly respected residents in the person of Mrs. W. B. Dyer, widow of the late Rev. R. W. Dyer and mother of W. B. Dyer, Esq. Mrs. Dyer had been ill for about five weeks; but her mind was clear and bright till almost the last moment We sympathize with the members of her family, who now mourn their great loss.

—Mr. Muncey, whose death at the advanced age of ninety-five we announce today, was for several years a resident of Charlottetown. Mr. T. C. Muncey, of the Anglo-American Telegraph Company, is one of his sons, and several of his grandchildren live in Summerside. Mr. Muncey was for many years a popular and highly respected officer of Her Majesty's Customs.

—Ottawa Journal: Prince Edward Island shows a considerable deficit in her financial statement for the past year. So has every province in the Dominion save Ontario. They are all Liberal governments, too, except one. How much more forcible would be the diatribes of Laurier, Cartwright, McMillen, Davies, Martin, etc., against extravagance at Ottawa if only their provincial allies would show a little economy.

—Montreal Gazette: In Haldimand it looks for the moment as if the McCarthyites might take up Hon. Dr. Montague's gauntlet from the place where the Liberals are inclined to leave it, and it might not be altogether a bad thing if they did. Haldimand knocked the wind out of the Patron movement last month, and could do the same thing for the McCarthy party this month.

—A message from Souris to Rev. G. M. Campbell announces that the Rev. C. W. Datcher died at Clifton Springs, N. Y., on Monday last, and that his body was comitted to the earth at Barrington, N. S., yesterday. The deceased was one of the best known clergymen of the Methodist Church in the New Brunswick and P. E. Island conference. For several years past he has been stationed at Souris, which place he left last autumn to go to New York for medical treatment. Mrs. Dutcher and family are at Souris. The sympathy of all will go out to them in their bereavement.

—His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Howlan, last evening, gave a second dinner to members of the Legislature and the Press. It is needless to say that the occasion was exceedingly pleasant and profitable. The idea of extending invitations for the "Legislative Dinner" to members of the Fourth Estate, as such, is so far as this Province is concerned, original with Lieutenant Howlan. All personal considerations apart, it is good, we think, to bring together in a social way the representatives of the people and those who take a large part in advising the people.

—Without taking part in the controversy between the rival Anglican theological schools in Ontario, it will be admitted, says the Montreal Gazette, that there is much to support Archbishop Lewis' contention that in Canada there are too many colleges. Great colleges do not necessarily produce broad men, nor are narrow men only turned out of little seminaries; but as a university, to do its best work, should be something more than a schoolroom, so the greater it is in the number of its students and the reputation of its professors, the better work will it do and the better men will it graduate. Not only the Anglican, but most of the other denominations would be benefited, in so far as equipping men for the ministry is concerned, if in each case their scattered colleges could be combined, and the ablest teachers be gathered in one place. In the number of her colleges and universities Canada is remarkably well supplied. She could spare a few if the recompense was greater efficiency for the remainder.

—Mr. B. Russell, Q. C., of Halifax, a strong Liberal, has centributed an article on the Manitoba School case to the Atlantic Monthly, in the course of which he says that,— "If the extreme advocates of the separate school system for Manitoba are wrong in contending that an absolute legal right to perpetuation of such a system has been established by the judgment of the Privy Council, it must also be admitted that their opponents are equally astray in contending that any provincial rights are invaded by the intervention of the Dominion Government and Parliament, should Parliament see fit to take action in the matter. Nothing can be clearer now than the legal proposition that there is no exclusive right in the legislature of Manitoba, or of any other province of the union, to make laws on the subject of education. A right which is said to be exclusive, but which is subject to provisions that establish the Dominion cabinet as a reviewing body and give power to the Dominion Parliament to carry its decisions into effect by legislation is not an exclusive power at all. The Dominion Government when pronouncing its decision on the appeal, and the Dominion Parliament when passing its remedial legislation, are no more invading the rights of a province than when they are passing a bankrupt law or reforming the tariff. They are acting wisely or unwisely it may be, but with perfect authority within the powers that have been conferred upon them by the constitution of the country."

If this view be the correct one, there is no force in the cry that interference on the part of the Government and Parliament of Canada with the educational laws of Manitoba would be in violation of provincial rights.

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.

THURSDAY, April 4.

House met at 3.30.

On motion of Mr. Rogers (Charlottetown) the bill amending the Seduction Act was read a third time and passed.

Hon. Mr. Peters moved that the House go into committee with Mr. Robertson in the chair to consider the following resolution:

"Resolved that it is advisable to introduce a Bill to amend "The Land Purchase Act, 1875" in such a way as to allow the Government of this province to purchase under said Act certain lands in Townships numbers 24 and 33 held by the Trustees of the marriage settlement of Annie Winsloe and William Sydney Smith, and which township lands escaped the operation of The Land Purchase Act, 1875, by a technical error."

Hon. Mr. Peters explained that the estate in question consisted of over 4000 acres containing about 75 farms. The occupants of these farms are anxious to reduce their lands and ask that they be put on the same footing as other farmers throughout the Island. The Act is simply to treat with the landlords in respect to this matter as other owners were treated.

The motion passed, and the House went into committee to consider the resolution, Mr. Robertson in the chair.

Hon. Mr. Farquharson thought the purchase of this estate would only be a matter of justice to the tenants. There may be other estates that the bill will apply to.

Mr. Bell expressed himself as being in sympathy with the bill, but he thought no distinction should be made among the tenants. An Act should be passed to cover similar cases at Augustine Cove and Cape Traverse. The Government has offered to give $3 per acre for the estates there but the owners want $3.90. Thus terms cannot be agreed upon. In his opinion the Government should either purchase on the proprietors terms or they should put a provision in the bill compelling the landlords to submit the matter to arbitration and have terms made in that way.

Hon. Mr. Peters agreed that all the small estates should be bought out, and the Government have done this until there is only one or two left. But these were too small to come under the provisions of the Land Purchase Act. He thought all acts confiscating lands, unless of great public necessity, were wrong in principle. No estate under 500 acres could come under the Land Purchase Act. The estate referred to in the proposed bill escaped by a technicality. But if anything is inserted in the bill beyond that set forth in the Act of 1875, it will be disallowed. He thought that if the suggestion of the hon. member from Cape Traverse were adopted it would endanger the bill.

Mr. Bell did not agree with the Leader respecting the fate that would befall the bill if his suggestion were adopted. However, if he saw any other way to solve the difficulty respecting the estate at Cape Traverse he would not press his suggestion.

Hon Mr. Sinclair thought that to adopt the suggestion of Mr. Bell would be to interfere with the provisions of the Land Purchase Act, and the bill would be disallowed. The Cape Traverse estate is too small to come within the scope of the Land Purchase Act, and it would not be fair to the tenants on the estates at Lots 24 and 33 to risk the vetoing of the bill by adopting the suggestion of the hon. member from Cape Traverse.

The resolution was reported agreed to, and Hon. Mr. Peters submitted a bill in accordance therewith, which was ordered to be read a second time to-morrow.

Hon. Mr. Peters submitted a bill to amend the County Courts Act in the towns of Charlottetown and Summerside, which was ordered to be read a second time to-morrow.

Mr. McKinnon introduced a bill to prevent the spread of black knot in plum and cherry trees, which was ordered to be read a second time to-morrow.

House adjourned until to-morrow forenoon at ten o'clock.

FRIDAY, April 5.

After caucus the House went into committee on the bill submitted by Mr. McKinnon to prevent the spread of black knot in plum and cherry trees. The bill provides that it shall be the duty of every occupant of land, or if the land be unoccupied it shall be the duty of the owner, to cut off and burn all the black-knot found on plum or cherry trees on his land so often each and every year as it shall appear on such trees, and that the ratepayers in each school district, or the school trustees shall appoint inspectors to enforce the law and prosecute offenders.

At 1 o'clock the House took recess.

THE MARKETS.

SPRING trade is opening up with favorable prospects. Oats are now quoted in this city at 37 to 38 cents per bushel potatoes at 27 to 28 cents, and pork at 6 to 6¾ cents per pound. The St. John Sun reports that P. E. Island mess pork is marked up 50 cents, the quotation in that city being $16 to $16.50, with clear pork $18 to $18.50. The Montreal Gazette quotes Canadian short-cut heavy at $16 to $16.50. Chicago quotations are $12.37½ to 12.47½. In Boston cuts and backs are quoted at $15.50; lean ends at $16. The Sioux City Tribune says that shippers now generally report prospects for a small supply of hogs in May and June, the rush to sell during the winter months having disposed of a large number of the available supply. In St. John, oats are quoted at 43 to 44 cents; small lots 45 to 50 cents per bushel; and potatoes per bushel in car lots at $1 to $1.25. Halifax quotations are about the same. In Boston the prices of potatoes are Hebron Aroostook 70c; others, 65c; Rose, Aroostook county, 75c; Burbank, 65 to 68c; White Star, 65 to 70c; Red Dakotas, 65c.

—The Toronto World says: "The Conservative party has stood the loss of Sir John Macdonald, it has stood the loss of Sir John Abbott, it has stood the loss of Sir John Thompson, and it is bigger and stronger than any single man or dozen of men who are in it to-day, and it will, we trust, for many a day be in the same position. Mr. Dalton McCarthy got it into his head that the party could not do without him, or that if he left it and directed his batteries against it that it would come to grief. So far, he has not realized his expectations. The only thing for the Conservative party to do is to close up its ranks, stand by the National Policy and continue the progressive policy which it received from its first and greatest chieftain, Sir John A. Macdonald. But it will not ask anyone to keep step that wishes to fall out of the march.

In a paper recently read before the Asiatic Society in London, Mr R Sewell described some relics of Gautama, or Buddha, now in the Central Museum at Madras. C., and have not been disturbed since.

The comments of the Paris press on Sir Edward Grey's speech are curious and amusing. The Matin says that it is needless to notice the eccentricities or the British; but it notices them all the same and so do the other French papers. In the opinion of the Matin, the only sensible speech in the debate was that of Mr. Labouchere—which is a significant comment on Mr. Labouchere's patriotism. A man is doing poor service to his country when only its opponents speak well of him.

Halifax Herald: While the failure record in Canada has been lowered this year by 35 per cent., in the United States it has been lowered by less than 4½ per cent. The amount of failures in New York city is greater than in all Canada, and exceeds the amount in that city last year by nearly ten per cent. Judged by the failure record as presented by Bradstreet's, Canadian trade seems to be in a healthy condition this year, both when compared with the trade of last year and with the trade of our neighbors.

Bradstreet's failure record for the first quarter of 1895 in Canada and Newfoundland does not compare unfavorably with that of 1894 and 1893 for the same period. The figures are as follows:

	No.	Liabilities.
1895	610	$4,625,753
1894	585	6,512,000
1893	526	4,788,000

The failures are divided among the provinces as follows:

	No.	Assets.	Liabilities.
Ontario	270	$890,677	$2,107,994
Quebec	192	488,350	1,210,932
New Brunswick	24	103,380	192,779
Nova Scotia	33	117,870	245,450
Prince Edward Island	5	35,000	60,200
Manitoba	19	81,146	159,971
Northwest Territory	5	13,800	33,700
British Columbia	33	160,050	242,899
Total Canada.	581	1,890,273	4,253,625
Newfoundland.	29	207,650	372,128

There is ground in the above for the claim, which other observations support, that Canadian trade at the present time is only slow.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

"She looketh well to the ways of her husband, and eateth not the bread of idleness. Give her of the fruit of her hand and let her own works praise her in the gates.—Prov. 31, 12-31."

To the Members of the Legislature of P. E. Island.

HONORABLE GENTLEMEN,—There seems to be a desire on the part of men to make some amend for the injustice that has been done to women in past ages, but a sorry job has been made of it. They call them the angels of the home and their companionship the poetry of life, and say many other pretty things. It is refreshing to turn from such gushing flattery to the Bible description of the excellent woman, as found in this chapter of Proverbs. Please read it through; it will fill you with the most exalted ideas of women's worth. "Give her of the fruit of her hands." This is a command. Have we recognized woman's work as we ought, and given her what she deserves and has justly earned? No, a thousand times no. Woman has been compelled to force her way to positions of public trust in the face of strongest prejudice. She has climbed to high spheres of usefulness in the moral and religious world over almost insurmountable obstacles placed across her path in ignorance and blindness. It is extremely doubtful if men could have overcome similar opposition so successfully. Men have fought her in her struggle for a higher place, and in many cases with great bitterness resisted her just demands for recognition. Yet, in spite of all this, she has advanced step by step, and men have been compelled to yield and admit the fact that they could not monopolize all the positions of trust and usefulness, nor yet those of honor and emolument! And now the struggle is fairly on for giving woman the franchise. Certainly, no one who has studied impartially the events of the last quarter of a century can have any doubt as to the result. Still, men will shut their eyes to all that has transpired and forget how they tought and were beaten, and still stubbornly contend against woman's just demand for the ballot. They seem to court another defeat and humiliation. Nothing is more certain than that women will have the franchise. You talk of giving it to her. Did you ever think that possibly it is not yours to give? When did men assume the right to solely control the public affairs of the nations? Was it back in the dark ages, or was it when the light of popular government first faintly glimmered? When did you get the idea that she had no right to a voice in making laws, every jot and tittle of which she must obey? Where is your authority for first assuming the government without giving her a share? Can you produce it? Honestly, is it not true that this deprivation which she suffers is a relic of barbarism and is but one of the milder indignities that she still endures long after the greater ones have been removed? Some of your great men are so thoughtful as to say that "women should not be burdened with the franchise"! Thanks for this consideration. Yet it is not a great burden for a woman to go a polling booth and give her name (she wouldn't be compelled to undergo the labor of taking off her hat, as men have to do) and make a mark on a slip of paper with a pencil and hand it to the officer. If too feeble to walk you could assist her, for you often assist men who are lame, or who have "indulged" a little too freely, to walk down, or you might take her in your carriage, for you often drive men there who have not interest enough to walk, so that with the help you could easily render the burden could be reduced to a minimum.

FACT FOR CRITICS.

There is a vast field for criticism in current advertising. The field would be more vast if writers and readers took advertising more seriously. It is a subject upon which the highest intelligence needs enlightenment; then will come the higher criticism that the best advertisers, such as use the best English and present truth most accurately, will welcome.

The public appreciate with daily increasing knowledge the truth we have been telling about the quality of our goods, that whatever we advertise is just what it's represented to be, and can be relied on, and when we say we sell at the lowest possible living prices we mean it.
