THE steamer arrived from Pictou this morning at 4 o'clock with mails and passengers. She was detained by the storm at Pictou on Saturday and Sunday. The Western mail arrived at 2.30 this morning. The boat which was detained at Point du Chene by storm on Saturday reached Summerside yesterday morning at 9 o'clock.

THE aroma of the tobacco leaf is so completely conserved in the manufacture of 'Myrtle Navy,' that age has no effect in diminishing it; even after the plug has been kept for years it gives out its full flavor under the combustion in the pipe, mellowed in tone by its age and making the most exquisite smoke which tobacco can be made to give. Age too hardens the surface of the plug, and gives the tobacco when cut that almost granular appearance in which all connoisseurs delight."

RAILWAY FREIGHT TRAFFIC—The opening of the Bridge Railway has had a very stimulating effect on the freight traffic of the eastern section of the Intercolonial Railway and also of the New Brunswick Railway. Yesterday ten cars of mackerel were forwarded to Boston from Port Valgrave, N. S. This trade was formerly done direct between Nova Scotia and Boston by schooner. The local freights coming in over the New Brunswick Railway are also greatly increased, as are indeed the outward freights from St. John. Coal is now shipped through St. John to Maine, as well as to various points along the N. B. R. Very large shipments of smelt have been made from Shediac and the North Shore to Boston this season.—St. John Telegraph.

FRESH FISH—The Boston Herald takes Judge Woodbury to task for his advocacy of the protection of the New England fishermen against foreign competition, which, it says, is contrary to the principles of the Democratic party, which does not believe in the utility of the system of protection. Judge Woodbury is quite as well versed in the principles of the Democratic party as is the American organ of the Canadian fish interest, and needs no instruction on that point. All his life he has been a sound Democrat, and all his life has been the firm friend of the fishing interest. The policy of the Democratic party, like the policy of the founders of the republic, has always been to foster and encourage the fisheries. The Democratic party established the bounty system to encourage the fisheries, and maintained that system as long as it held power. It has never had any other policy in relation to the fisheries. If, at the bidding of the Boston Herald it now sacrifices that interest, it will be untrue to its traditions. Whatever may be its convictions upon the general question of protection of home industries, it cannot afford to let the other industries be protected, and the fisheries heavily taxed to place them to place this great producing interest at the mercy of a foreign power.—Cape Ann Advertiser.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.]

The British Elections.

LONDON, Dec. 4. Latest returns show 313 Liberals, 243 Tories and 70 Parnellites have been elected. Seventy constituencies are yet unheeded from. Of these 22 are English, 11 Welsh, 4 are Scotch and 17 are Irish. A careful estimate of the probable results in the unpolled districts shows that the House of Commons will almost certainly be composed of 331 Liberals, 250 Conservatives and 84 Parnellites. The total Parnellite vote polled in Ireland is 221,881, add the Loyalist vote, including Tories and Liberals, is 121,101. The vote in Ulster was: Parnellites, 42,638; Loyalists, 84,362. In all Ireland, 17 Tories and 69 Parnellites have been elected.

A Terrible Storm.

PANAMA, Dec. 5. A terrible storm, which commenced in Callao Wednesday afternoon and continued with great severity Thursday, did considerable damage to shipping in the harbor. Of the twenty-nine vessels anchored in the harbor, only fifteen can now be seen. Many were sunk with their crews.

What to Read.

However this question is decided, the newspaper cannot be excluded. First of all, every household must take in a local journal, which public spirit and self-interest render alike essential to him. Without it, he is a stranger to all that goes on in his county, and cannot act the part of a good citizen. It is a primary duty, therefore, to subscribe to the local newspaper. But the resident in the country also requires a first-class metropolitan journal, to enable him to keep abreast with what takes place in the larger world beyond his own neighborhood. Such a journal is the Weekly Gazette, of Montreal, which for more than a century has stood the test of public criticism.

In the feature of news it is unsurpassed. All that is of interest in politics, diplomacy, commerce, religion, education, invention, crime, amusement and athletic sports, finds due place in its telegraphic despatches. A large staff of active reporters supply it with city and district news. Events in Europe, the Provinces and in Newfoundland are promptly communicated by resident correspondents, letters from whom keep the readers of the Weekly Gazette informed as to all notable movements in the realms of statecraft, literature, trade and social life. The financial and commercial reports of the Weekly Gazette have long enjoyed the confidence of the public. Its market returns are a necessity to the farmer, and its agricultural department (under a special editor) is a mine of useful information and reasonable suggestions.

The editorials of the Weekly Gazette are marked by temperance of statement, ripe thought, independence and patriotic foresight. As a family paper the Weekly Gazette has been found invaluable. Its entertaining and instructive miscellany is a constant feast for young and old; its literary criticism is characterized by scholarship and good taste, and nothing is admitted to its columns on which the most rigid morality would find reason to frown. Sample copies may be obtained by addressing Richard White, Man. Dir., Gazette Printing Co., Montreal, or better still, order it for a year on trial. The subscription is only $1 per annum.

Paris observers have discovered a new comet; it was also observed at Harvard College University.

Campaign Humor.

The following is a sample of the campaign poetry now doing duty in England:—

The Liberal Leaders.

MR. GLADSTONE. A grand and verbose old man, A sport-as-he-goes old man, A highly sophistical, Non-Atheistical, "Come under my gamp" old man.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN. A monopoly-screw young man, Sick-to-office-like glue young man, Larry Black-abbavit, Swear-to-it-and-brave-it, And "Down with the Lords" young man.

MR. BRIGHT. A later-of-Tories old man, A Parliament-daring young man, A foe of the Factory Act so detractory, Call Tory "liar" old man.

MR. BRADLAUGH. A religious non-swearing young man, A Parliament-daring young man, A much-talked-diagnostic, Fruits philosophical, Can't-take-his-seat young man.

LORD GRANVILLE. A "chill-like and bland" old man, Not a fiery and grand old man, A let-things-triff-any-way, Stand-shall-any-day, "Invisible-socks" old man.

LORD HARTINGTON. A haughty-and-proud young man, To lead-not-allowed young man, A stand-no-rebucker, Heir to a Dukery, Devonshire House young man.

LORD ROSBERY. A House-of-Lords-mending young man, Not much money-spending young man, He once at the Durians, Owned second and third "uns, This "Gladstone-umbrella" young man.

SIR W. HARCOURT. A Daniel-the-prophet young man, A little-come-of-it young man, Historicus-know-all, "I came of blood royal," And user of "we" young man.

LORD DERBY. A Tory-or-Whig old man, A dance-any-jig old man, Not caring a pin, he Gave Bismarck New Guinea, This shifty-around old man.

A POSSIBLE SMALLPOX CASE IN ST. JOHN. Considerable alarm was caused in the city yesterday by the report that a case of smallpox had shown itself in a house on Carmarthen street, at the corner of Leinster street. In order to ascertain the facts, a Telegraph representative called upon Dr. Bayard last evening. He was there informed that Dr. McLaren had reported the case to the Board of Health. Dr. Bayard, yesterday afternoon, visited the patient, who is an employee of the New Brunswick railway. The patient had been vaccinated about a week ago, and has a bad arm as the result. He is also broken out with a light rash, which may or may not be preliminary symptoms of smallpox. Whether it is or not will probably be determined by the progress of the disease to-day. Similar appearances to those presented by the patient have, in rare cases, resulted from vaccination, and it was not thought advisable at this stage to send the patient to the hospital. He has been isolated. Dr. Bayard expressed the opinion that no alarm need be felt, even if the case turns out to be one of smallpox, as the disease would not doubt be confined and speedily stamped out. Over 8,000 persons had already been vaccinated in the city, some 2,000 by the free services of the Board of Health physicians and 6,000 by other physicians in their private practice. The work of vaccinating the remaining population will be speedily done hereafter by house to house vaccination under the government regulations.—St. John Telegraph, Dec. 5th.
