

"Covers Prince Edward Island Like The Dew"

Atlantic Provinces Premier Conference

S. S. B. Aim At Joint Study

H. S. TRUMAN

Harry Truman Is Injured In Home Fall

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Former President Harry Truman fell in a bathtub in his Independence, Mo., home Tuesday and cut his head. He was brought to Research Hospital in Kansas City by ambulance.

The 80-year-old ex-president was carried into the emergency room on a stretcher and given emergency treatment. Bill Wittman, a hospital spokesman, said Truman was conscious.

Mr. Truman told his daughter, Margaret, by telephone from the hospital suite.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

Mr. Truman told her nothing is all right—there's nothing to worry about.

INTERESTING TRIP

Homecoming Queen Cheered In London

LONDON (CP)—A cheering crowd greeted Queen Elizabeth at London airport Tuesday night on her return from her Canadian visit.

As the giant Air Canada DC-3 carrying the Queen touched down on the runway and taxied to the reception dais, the crowd's cheers almost drowned the roar of the engines.

The cheers were renewed and the banners waved excitedly as the Queen, dressed in a mustard-colored woolen suit and matching hat, appeared at the aircraft doorway before being escorted to meet an official reception party.

Smiling, but looking a little tired, the Queen chatted with members of the reception party.

It seemed to be telling her of his admiration for the royal way she carried through the tough schedule. Later, he told a Canadian Press reporter: "She behaved just magnificently. She's a great Queen."

What had been the Queen's last word to him? "She said that she greatly enjoyed the whole trip and she thanked us for inviting her."

There was an air of subdued emotion as the Queen said her goodbyes at the airport. Governor-General Vanier clasped the Queen's hand for a prolonged moment. She spoke to him with seeming affection and she shed a tear.

Prime Minister Pearson smiled appreciatively and seemed to be telling her of his admiration for the royal way she carried through the tough schedule. Later, he told a Canadian Press reporter: "She behaved just magnificently. She's a great Queen."

What had been the Queen's last word to him? "She said that she greatly enjoyed the whole trip and she thanked us for inviting her."

There was an air of subdued emotion as the Queen said her goodbyes at the airport. Governor-General Vanier clasped the Queen's hand for a prolonged moment. She spoke to him with seeming affection and she shed a tear.

Prime Minister Pearson smiled appreciatively and seemed to be telling her of his admiration for the royal way she carried through the tough schedule. Later, he told a Canadian Press reporter: "She behaved just magnificently. She's a great Queen."

What had been the Queen's last word to him? "She said that she greatly enjoyed the whole trip and she thanked us for inviting her."

There was an air of subdued emotion as the Queen said her goodbyes at the airport. Governor-General Vanier clasped the Queen's hand for a prolonged moment. She spoke to him with seeming affection and she shed a tear.

Prime Minister Pearson smiled appreciatively and seemed to be telling her of his admiration for the royal way she carried through the tough schedule. Later, he told a Canadian Press reporter: "She behaved just magnificently. She's a great Queen."

What had been the Queen's last word to him? "She said that she greatly enjoyed the whole trip and she thanked us for inviting her."

There was an air of subdued emotion as the Queen said her goodbyes at the airport. Governor-General Vanier clasped the Queen's hand for a prolonged moment. She spoke to him with seeming affection and she shed a tear.

Prime Minister Pearson smiled appreciatively and seemed to be telling her of his admiration for the royal way she carried through the tough schedule. Later, he told a Canadian Press reporter: "She behaved just magnificently. She's a great Queen."

What had been the Queen's last word to him? "She said that she greatly enjoyed the whole trip and she thanked us for inviting her."

There was an air of subdued emotion as the Queen said her goodbyes at the airport. Governor-General Vanier clasped the Queen's hand for a prolonged moment. She spoke to him with seeming affection and she shed a tear.

Prime Minister Pearson smiled appreciatively and seemed to be telling her of his admiration for the royal way she carried through the tough schedule. Later, he told a Canadian Press reporter: "She behaved just magnificently. She's a great Queen."

What had been the Queen's last word to him? "She said that she greatly enjoyed the whole trip and she thanked us for inviting her."

There was an air of subdued emotion as the Queen said her goodbyes at the airport. Governor-General Vanier clasped the Queen's hand for a prolonged moment. She spoke to him with seeming affection and she shed a tear.

Parliament At A Glance

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
TUESDAY, Oct. 13 1964

The Commons approved amendments broadening the scope of the 1959 Crop Insurance Act.

Approval was unanimous for the change making the federal government responsible for 75 per cent of a province's claims above reserves and premiums collected from farmers.

Agriculture Minister Hays said he hoped this would encourage all provinces to set up broad insurance plans.

The Commons adopted an International Labor Organization convention against discrimination in employment.

The Commons opened debate on a labor code bill that would set a $2.75 minimum wage for 50,000 workers under federal jurisdiction.

Stanley Knowles (NDP—Winnipeg North Centre) suggested the bill be amended to shorten to cope with automation.

The Senate began consideration of a bill to provide $25,000,000 in credit to farm syndicates organized to buy farm machinery.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 14
The Senate meets at 2:30 p.m. to continue consideration of the labor code bill.

The Senate meets at 3 p.m. to continue consideration of the farm syndicate loan fund.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 14
The Senate meets at 2:30 p.m. to continue consideration of the labor code bill.

The Senate meets at 3 p.m. to continue consideration of the farm syndicate loan fund.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 14
The Senate meets at 2:30 p.m. to continue consideration of the labor code bill.

The Senate meets at 3 p.m. to continue consideration of the farm syndicate loan fund.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 14
The Senate meets at 2:30 p.m. to continue consideration of the labor code bill.

The Senate meets at 3 p.m. to continue consideration of the farm syndicate loan fund.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 14
The Senate meets at 2:30 p.m. to continue consideration of the labor code bill.

The Senate meets at 3 p.m. to continue consideration of the farm syndicate loan fund.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 14
The Senate meets at 2:30 p.m. to continue consideration of the labor code bill.

The Senate meets at 3 p.m. to continue consideration of the farm syndicate loan fund.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 14
The Senate meets at 2:30 p.m. to continue consideration of the labor code bill.

The Senate meets at 3 p.m. to continue consideration of the farm syndicate loan fund.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 14
The Senate meets at 2:30 p.m. to continue consideration of the labor code bill.

The Senate meets at 3 p.m. to continue consideration of the farm syndicate loan fund.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 14
The Senate meets at 2:30 p.m. to continue consideration of the labor code bill.

The Senate meets at 3 p.m. to continue consideration of the farm syndicate loan fund.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 14
The Senate meets at 2:30 p.m. to continue consideration of the labor code bill.

PARTING CURTSY

Mrs. Lester B. Pearson, wife of the Prime Minister, curtsies to Queen Elizabeth at Ottawa's Uplands air force base Tuesday as the Queen prepared to depart for her visit to Canada. Mr. Pearson is beside his wife and Governor-General Georges Vanier and Mrs. Vanier are to the right. (CP Wirephoto)

MONTHLY MEETING HELD

Police Brutality Claims Aired At Council Session

Charges of police brutality hung in the air last evening as the monthly meeting of City Council members discussed conduct of certain members of the city police force.

Councillor Frank Zaken launched the debate at the monthly meeting of City Council by stating he had had "more complaints about the police department than about any other department" since he became a councillor last February.

Some of these complaints, he said, concerned alleged beating of persons under arrest by police officers, and failure of police to investigate thoroughly complaints received from citizens.

Citizens had complained to him that the police had been reluctant to investigate complaints received, and when they did, "little if anything was done, depending on the person complaining."

"When I get repeated complaints from fairly reliable citizens, I begin to wonder, at a

Police Brutality Claims Aired At Council Session

When I get complaints concerning the same persons, I begin to wonder," he said, "I begin to wonder."

He said that because of the way in which city court was conducted, "I will never appear in that court again."

Coun. Gillis charged that the city magistrate "does whatever the police tell him," and that he was not sufficiently familiar with laws of criminal evidence to fulfill his duties properly.

"The public feels that the police are running that court," he said.

MONTHLY MEETING HELD

Police Brutality Claims Aired At Council Session

Charges of police brutality hung in the air last evening as the monthly meeting of City Council members discussed conduct of certain members of the city police force.

Councillor Frank Zaken launched the debate at the monthly meeting of City Council by stating he had had "more complaints about the police department than about any other department" since he became a councillor last February.

Some of these complaints, he said, concerned alleged beating of persons under arrest by police officers, and failure of police to investigate thoroughly complaints received from citizens.

Citizens had complained to him that the police had been reluctant to investigate complaints received, and when they did, "little if anything was done, depending on the person complaining."

"When I get repeated complaints from fairly reliable citizens, I begin to wonder, at a

RUSSIANS CLAIM STRIDE TO MOON

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russians said Tuesday the 34-hour space flight of three men in the space ship Vostok laid "a firm foundation for last year's cosmic space." It represented a big stride toward a moon landing.

The world's first flight of a multi-seat space vehicle may have ended Tuesday as the crew planned to return to earth.

The Soviet government newspaper Pravda said, however, that the astronauts asked permission to remain in space another day and were "informed" that they were to remain in space.

Premier Khrushchev's cabinet, the president of the Supreme Soviet, and the Communist party's central committee joined in a statement of praise for the pioneering feat after the successful landing.

United Fund Progress

Category	Percentage
Charlottetown	38
Regional High Districts	41
Alberton	42
Central Queens	43
St. John's	44
Zigzagwood	45
Yvonneville	46
St. John's	47
St. John's	48
St. John's	49
St. John's	50
St. John's	51
St. John's	52
St. John's	53
St. John's	54
St. John's	55
St. John's	56
St. John's	57
St. John's	58
St. John's	59
St. John's	60

New President Named By CPR

MONTREAL (CP)—N. R. Crump, chairman of Canadian Pacific Railway Company, was elected to the additional post of chief executive officer of the firm's board of directors Tuesday.

General Vanier clasped the Queen's hand for a prolonged moment. She spoke to him with seeming affection and she shed a tear.

Prime Minister Pearson smiled appreciatively and

Expected For PC Rally

More than 100 delegates are expected to attend an Atlantic Province seminar sponsored by the Progressive Conservative Party and slated for Charlottetown this weekend.

About 40 delegates are expected from Nova Scotia, 20 from New Brunswick and 40 from Newfoundland.

Sessions will be held at the Basile Theatre Centre, the Atlantic Fathers of Confederation Memorial Buildings.

Purpose of the conference is to bring together a group of students and young working people from all provinces to discuss Canada and Canadian politics, past and present.

First speaker Friday afternoon will be Heath MacFarquhar, M.P. whose topic will be "A History of the Progressive Conservative Party."

Dalton B. Camp, president of the Progressive Conservative Association, is expected to attend the conference.

Expected For PC Rally

More than 100 delegates are expected to attend an Atlantic Province seminar sponsored by the Progressive Conservative Party and slated for Charlottetown this weekend.

About 40 delegates are expected from Nova Scotia, 20 from New Brunswick and 40 from Newfoundland.

Sessions will be held at the Basile Theatre Centre, the Atlantic Fathers of Confederation Memorial Buildings.

Purpose of the conference is to bring together a group of students and young working people from all provinces to discuss Canada and Canadian politics, past and present.

First speaker Friday afternoon will be Heath MacFarquhar, M.P. whose topic will be "A History of the Progressive Conservative Party."

Dalton B. Camp, president of the Progressive Conservative Association, is expected to attend the conference.

Expected For PC Rally

More than 100 delegates are expected to attend an Atlantic Province seminar sponsored by the Progressive Conservative Party and slated for Charlottetown this weekend.

About 40 delegates are expected from Nova Scotia, 20 from New Brunswick and 40 from Newfoundland.

Sessions will be held at the Basile Theatre Centre, the Atlantic Fathers of Confederation Memorial Buildings.

Purpose of the conference is to bring together a group of students and young working people from all provinces to discuss Canada and Canadian politics, past and present.

First speaker Friday afternoon will be Heath MacFarquhar, M.P. whose topic will be "A History of the Progressive Conservative Party."

Dalton B. Camp, president of the Progressive Conservative Association, is expected to attend the conference.

Expected For PC Rally

More than 100 delegates are expected to attend an Atlantic Province seminar sponsored by the Progressive Conservative Party and slated for Charlottetown this weekend.

About 40 delegates are expected from Nova Scotia, 20 from New Brunswick and 40 from Newfoundland.

Sessions will be held at the Basile Theatre Centre, the Atlantic Fathers of Confederation Memorial Buildings.

Purpose of the conference is to bring together a group of students and young working people from all provinces to discuss Canada and Canadian politics, past and present.

First speaker Friday afternoon will be Heath MacFarquhar, M.P. whose topic will be "A History of the Progressive Conservative Party."

Dalton B. Camp, president of the Progressive Conservative Association, is expected to attend the conference.

Expected For PC Rally

More than 100 delegates are expected to attend an Atlantic Province seminar sponsored by the Progressive Conservative Party and slated for Charlottetown this weekend.

About 40 delegates are expected from Nova Scotia, 20 from New Brunswick and 40 from Newfoundland.

Sessions will be held at the Basile Theatre Centre, the Atlantic Fathers of Confederation Memorial Buildings.

Purpose of the conference is to bring together a group of students and young working people from all provinces to discuss Canada and Canadian politics, past and present.

First speaker Friday afternoon will be Heath MacFarquhar, M.P. whose topic will be "A History of the Progressive Conservative Party."

Dalton B. Camp, president of the Progressive Conservative Association, is expected to attend the conference.

Queen Tells Pearson Enjoyed Whole Trip

By JACK BRAYLEY
OTTAWA (CP)—A wistful Queen Elizabeth said Tuesday morning after warm receptions in Charlottetown and Ottawa and some sharp hostility in Quebec.

There was an air of subdued emotion as the Queen said her goodbyes at the airport. Governor-General Vanier clasped the Queen's hand for a prolonged moment. She spoke to him with seeming affection and she shed a tear.

Prime Minister Pearson smiled appreciatively and

Queen Tells Pearson Enjoyed Whole Trip

By JACK BRAYLEY
OTTAWA (CP)—A wistful Queen Elizabeth said Tuesday morning after warm receptions in Charlottetown and Ottawa and some sharp hostility in Quebec.

There was an air of subdued emotion as the Queen said her goodbyes at the airport. Governor-General Vanier clasped the Queen's hand for a prolonged moment. She spoke to him with seeming affection and she shed a tear.

Prime Minister Pearson smiled appreciatively and

Queen Tells Pearson Enjoyed Whole Trip

By JACK BRAYLEY
OTTAWA (CP)—A wistful Queen Elizabeth said Tuesday morning after warm receptions in Charlottetown and Ottawa and some sharp hostility in Quebec.

There was an air of subdued emotion as the Queen said her goodbyes at the airport. Governor-General Vanier clasped the Queen's hand for a prolonged moment. She spoke to him with seeming affection and she shed a tear.

Prime Minister Pearson smiled appreciatively and

Queen Tells Pearson Enjoyed Whole Trip

By JACK BRAYLEY
OTTAWA (CP)—A wistful Queen Elizabeth said Tuesday morning after warm receptions in Charlottetown and Ottawa and some sharp hostility in Quebec.

There was an air of subdued emotion as the Queen said her goodbyes at the airport. Governor-General Vanier clasped the Queen's hand for a prolonged moment. She spoke to him with seeming affection and she shed a tear.

Prime Minister Pearson smiled appreciatively and

Queen Tells Pearson Enjoyed Whole Trip

By JACK BRAYLEY
OTTAWA (CP)—A wistful Queen Elizabeth said Tuesday morning after warm receptions in Charlottetown and Ottawa and some sharp hostility in Quebec.

There was an air of subdued emotion as the Queen said her goodbyes at the airport. Governor-General Vanier clasped the Queen's hand for a prolonged moment. She spoke to him with seeming affection and she shed a tear.

Prime Minister Pearson smiled appreciatively and

Queen Tells Pearson Enjoyed Whole Trip

By JACK BRAYLEY
OTTAWA (CP)—A wistful Queen Elizabeth said Tuesday morning after warm receptions in Charlottetown and Ottawa and some sharp hostility in Quebec.

There was an air of subdued emotion as the Queen said her goodbyes at the airport. Governor-General Vanier clasped the Queen's hand for a prolonged moment. She spoke to him with seeming affection and she shed a tear.

Prime Minister Pearson smiled appreciatively and

Queen Tells Pearson Enjoyed Whole Trip

By JACK BRAYLEY
OTTAWA (CP)—A wistful Queen Elizabeth said Tuesday morning after warm receptions in Charlottetown and Ottawa and some sharp hostility in Quebec.

There was an air of subdued emotion as the Queen said her goodbyes at the airport. Governor-General Vanier clasped the Queen's hand for a prolonged moment. She spoke to him with seeming affection and she shed a tear.

Prime Minister Pearson smiled appreciatively and

Expected For PC Rally

More than 100 delegates are expected to attend an Atlantic Province seminar sponsored by the Progressive Conservative Party and slated for Charlottetown this weekend.

About 40 delegates are expected from Nova Scotia, 20 from New Brunswick and 40 from Newfoundland.

Sessions will be held at the Basile Theatre Centre, the Atlantic Fathers of Confederation Memorial Buildings.

Purpose of the conference is to bring together a group of students and young working people from all provinces to discuss Canada and Canadian politics, past and present.

First speaker Friday afternoon will be Heath MacFarquhar, M.P. whose topic will be "A History of the Progressive Conservative Party."

Dalton B. Camp, president of the Progressive Conservative Association, is expected to attend the conference.

Expected For PC Rally

More than 100 delegates are expected to attend an Atlantic Province seminar sponsored by the Progressive Conservative Party and slated for Charlottetown this weekend.

About 40 delegates are expected from Nova Scotia, 20 from New Brunswick and 40 from Newfoundland.

Sessions will be held at the Basile Theatre Centre, the Atlantic Fathers of Confederation Memorial Buildings.

Purpose of the conference is to bring together a group of students and young working people from all provinces to discuss Canada and Canadian politics, past and present.

First speaker Friday afternoon will be Heath MacFarquhar, M.P. whose topic will be "A History of the Progressive Conservative Party."

Dalton B. Camp, president of the Progressive Conservative Association, is expected to attend the conference.

Expected For PC Rally

More than 100 delegates are expected to attend an Atlantic Province seminar sponsored by the Progressive Conservative Party and slated for Charlottetown this weekend.

About 40 delegates are expected from Nova Scotia, 20 from New Brunswick and 40 from Newfoundland.

Sessions will be held at the Basile Theatre Centre, the Atlantic Fathers of Confederation Memorial Buildings.

Purpose of the conference is to bring together a group of students and young working people from all provinces to discuss Canada and Canadian politics, past and present.

First speaker Friday afternoon will be Heath MacFarquhar, M.P. whose topic will be "A History of the Progressive Conservative Party."

Dalton B. Camp, president of the Progressive Conservative Association, is expected to attend the conference.

Expected For PC Rally

More than 100 delegates are expected to attend an Atlantic Province seminar sponsored by the Progressive Conservative Party and slated for Charlottetown this weekend.

About 40 delegates are expected from Nova Scotia, 20 from New Brunswick and 40 from Newfoundland.

Sessions will be held at the Basile Theatre Centre, the Atlantic Fathers of Confederation Memorial Buildings.

Purpose of the conference is to bring together a group of students and young working people from all provinces to discuss Canada and Canadian politics, past and present.

First speaker Friday afternoon will be Heath MacFarquhar, M.P. whose topic will be "A History of the Progressive Conservative Party."

Dalton B. Camp, president of the Progressive Conservative Association, is expected to attend the conference.

Expected For PC Rally

More than 100 delegates are expected to attend an Atlantic Province seminar sponsored by the Progressive Conservative Party and slated for Charlottetown this weekend.

About 40 delegates are expected from Nova Scotia, 20 from New Brunswick and 40 from Newfoundland.

Sessions will be held at the Basile Theatre Centre, the Atlantic Fathers of Confederation Memorial Buildings.

Purpose of the conference is to bring together a group of students and young working people from all provinces to discuss Canada and Canadian politics, past and present.

First speaker Friday afternoon will be Heath MacFarquhar, M.P. whose topic will be "A History of the Progressive Conservative Party."

Dalton B. Camp, president of the Progressive Conservative Association, is expected to attend the conference.

Expected For PC Rally

More than 100 delegates are expected to attend an Atlantic Province seminar sponsored by the Progressive Conservative Party and slated for Charlottetown this weekend.

About 40 delegates are expected from Nova Scotia, 20 from New Brunswick and 40 from Newfoundland.

Sessions will be held at the Basile Theatre Centre, the Atlantic Fathers of Confederation Memorial Buildings.

Purpose of the conference is to bring together a group of students and young working people from all provinces to discuss Canada and Canadian politics, past and present.

First speaker Friday afternoon will be Heath MacFarquhar, M.P. whose topic will be "A History of the Progressive Conservative Party."

Dalton B. Camp, president of the Progressive Conservative Association, is expected to attend the conference.

Expected For PC Rally

More than 100 delegates are expected to attend an Atlantic Province seminar sponsored by the Progressive Conservative Party and slated for Charlottetown this weekend.

About 40 delegates are expected from Nova Scotia, 20 from New Brunswick and 40 from Newfoundland.

Sessions will be held at the Basile Theatre Centre, the Atlantic Fathers of Confederation Memorial Buildings.

Purpose of the conference is to bring together a group of students and young working people from all provinces to discuss Canada and Canadian politics, past and present.

First speaker Friday afternoon will be Heath MacFarquhar, M.P. whose topic will be "A History of the Progressive Conservative Party."

Dalton B. Camp, president of the Progressive Conservative Association, is expected to attend the conference.

Expected For PC Rally

More than 100 delegates are expected to attend an Atlantic Province seminar sponsored by the Progressive Conservative Party and slated for Charlottetown this weekend.

About 40 delegates are expected from Nova Scotia, 20 from New Brunswick and 40 from Newfoundland.

Sessions will be held at the Basile Theatre Centre, the Atlantic Fathers of Confederation Memorial Buildings.

Purpose of the conference is to bring together a group of students and young working people from all provinces to discuss Canada and Canadian politics, past and present.

First speaker Friday afternoon will be Heath MacFarquhar, M.P. whose topic will be "A History of the Progressive Conservative Party."

Dalton B. Camp, president of the Progressive Conservative Association, is expected to attend the conference.

Expected For PC Rally

More than 100 delegates are expected to attend an Atlantic Province seminar sponsored by the Progressive Conservative Party and slated for Charlottetown this weekend.

About 40 delegates are expected from Nova Scotia, 20 from New Brunswick and 40 from Newfoundland.

Sessions will be held at the Basile Theatre Centre, the Atlantic Fathers of Confederation Memorial Buildings.

Purpose of the conference is to bring together a group of students and young working people from all provinces to discuss Canada and Canadian politics, past and present.

First speaker Friday afternoon will be Heath MacFarquhar, M.P. whose topic will be "A History of the Progressive Conservative Party."

Dalton B. Camp, president of the Progressive Conservative Association, is expected to attend the conference.

Expected For PC Rally