Trout are running in practically all of the salt water rivers in the Province. They have been taken at Cardigan, on both sides of the river, at Montague on either side of the wide stream leading to that busy little town, and here and there within Charlottetown Harbour, notably in the West River. A few have been hooked at China Point, and Vernon River Bridge. Fair catches are reported also from Seal River, east of Cardigan. Reports from Prince County tell of the re-appearance of trout in the many salt water streams west of Summerside. Of course there is nothing surprising in all this since trout have made a habit of ascending the Island's salt water rivers since the memory knew not otherwise.

Out at Beach Grove Inn, the Government is carrying out improvements to the grounds, which will not only beautify the surroundings, but give pleasure to the patients as well. Several acres of thick woodland to the immediate north of the Inn are being thinned out, leaving only the healthier spruce and birch trees standing. When the job is finished, the placing of a few benches here and there, and some pathways, will transform the woods into a park. It's a small thing in its way, this work, but to the patients at Beach Grove it means that someone is thinking of their comfort and well-being, and that, as new improvements are made each year, the Inn will have a park of its own with the western boundary resting on the river's bank. It has beauty of location and the present job is to help to point up nature's work.

IN MEMORIAM

Island Odds and Ends

With a hundred horses stabled at the Charlottetown Exhibition grounds, many more stationed at the Summerside Raceway and a large number working out at Montague, the latter within easy transportation of both Charlottetown and Summerside, it looks like a healthy racing season.

There won't be as much racing as last year, just enough to keep the public appetite whetted for the big finale of the year, Charlottetown's Old Home Week and Provincial Exhibition.

Following the regular service, the Irwin Christian Fellowship Group of which Rev. John T. Irwin is the founder, were joint guests with the Young People's Group to Mr. Irwin at a sing-song and social hour. During this time Mr. Stan Lancaster and Mr. Harvey MacKinnon were heard in very acceptable solo numbers. Accompanist was Miss Wilma Wood of the Y.P.U.

A pleasing feature of the social hour was the presentation to Rev. Mr. Irwin of a beautiful Island scene. The presentation was made by Mr. Allison MacKinnon on behalf of the I.C.F.G. Mr. Irwin was most pleasantly surprised and assured those present that the gift would remain as one of his most treasured keepsakes.

Rev. Mr. Irwin leaves by plane this morning after he has spent the past week as leader of the devotional period at the Maritime Conference of the United Church held at Sackville, N.B.

Guest Preacher At Trinity Church

The guest preacher at Trinity United Church last evening was Rev. Hugh Irwin, B.A., B.D., a brother of Dr. J. K. L. Irwin of this city and of Rev. John T. Irwin, a former minister at Trinity.

Rev. Hugh Irwin is now ministering to that congregation he was a missionary for 13 years in India. Taking as his subject, "Aid Unlimited," the minister delivered a forceful sermon in which he pointed out "that God's help is ever present to them that seek his aid."

To Address Home And School Ass'n

Mrs. J. M. C. Duckworth of Halifax will address a public meeting of the Prince Edward Island Home and School Association in Prince of Wales Auditorium tomorrow evening. In addition to being Parent Education Chairman of the Nova Scotia Home and School organization, Mrs. Duckworth is the newly appointed Canadian Home and School Association National Convener of Parent Education. She has also been a national director of the Canadian Home and School for the past two years.

Mrs. Duckworth is the mother of three children, and holds the position of adviser in Parent Education in the Nova Scotia Department of Education. Before moving to Halifax seven years ago, she was on the Provincial Board of the Quebec Home and School Federation.

At this meeting, a psychiatrist, Dr. A. A. MacVicar, will introduce a one-act parent education play presenting real life situations which confront young mothers in bringing up their families. This play, "Scattered Showers," will be presented by Little Theatre Players under the direction of Miss Hazel Hunter. After the play, the audience will be led in discussion by Mrs. Duckworth, who has had much practical experience in this field.

This play was presented in Toronto before an audience of 900 people, who later were divided into discussion groups—a programme which proved to be most successful.

Mrs. Duckworth will also be the guest speaker at the afternoon business session.

Door prizes were a car blanket, donated by Moore & McLeod's and won by Mrs. Richards; three pairs of silk hose, donated by Prowse Bros., and won by Mr. Maurice Burgoyne, and a turkey dinner won by I. Allan.

The Basilia Youth Club won their choice of either a television set, a deep freeze, 700 gallons of gasoline or a cash equivalent not exceeding $300. Mr. Russell Abbott won a Gruen watch and Mrs. F. Cantwell a bicycle.

Three Drowned
