Water Causes

The total damage cannot be assessed for some time. A reporter's tour through the wing showed some books were damaged. Many were drenched and soggy.
The library contains between 300,000 and 1,000,000 books, periodicals and newspaper files, some of considerable value.
Hours after the blaze, water was a couple of inches deep on a hardwood floor which still creeps from the water damage of 1916. Workmen channelled it outside but still more kept coming down from the hoses up in the dome.
Tarpaulins covered tables and shelves of books.
Three firemen were taken to hospital. None is in serious condition.

some formal link with other states or associations of states in the Pacific.
In our view this would be as valuable as it is inevitable.
Acheson put it this way:
'It is not our purpose to create an elaborate organization. Our action here shall not be subtle, but shall strengthen and support our interest in, and our associations with, other nations of the Pacific area and other nations of the world.
'As we have been comrades in war so also shall we stand together in our determination to prevent war. That is the purpose of the council we are here to organize.'
The U. S. has separate security pacts with the Philippines and Japan. However, Senator Jose Laurel, leader of the Philippine National Party, has assailed the Anzus pact as a modern version of pre-war colonialism.
The three-power treaty does not spell out military obligations. Military experts on the effects of the diplomatic chiefs are expected to work out broad defence strategy and arms commitments.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Mrs. Ernest Harvey who departed this life August 5, 1950.
I think of her and say she is not dead, but sleeps,
And soon she will arise and take us by the hand,
I know she will awake and smile on us, as she did yesterday,
And she will have some gentle word to say, some kindly deed to do,
Or loving thought and word of which her life was wrought.
She is not dead, such souls forever live in boundless measure of the love they give.
Fondly remembered by her husband and family.

Sports Editor Speaks At Rotary

The speaker at Rotary yesterday was Mr. O. H. F. Rodman, associate editor of Hunting and Fishing magazine with headquarters in Boston. No one, he said is an expert fisherman; conditions change, and sometimes one just does not seem able to get a good catch.

Rodman is trying to find out if there are sea bass around the shores of Prince Edward Island and, although, he has not found any, so far, conditions around the mouths of the rivers and bays seem to him to provide a natural habitat for sea bass.
In Massachusetts twenty years ago not much was known of striped or sea bass, both names are used to describe this particular fish. Since the discovery of these game fish it is estimated that over ten million dollars per year are spent by fishermen in that state alone. This includes their equipment, travelling, license fees, room and board, and a multitude of other items purchased by fishermen. There are some of these striped bass along the shores of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

The United States fishermen are looking for new sixteen million there are over fifteen million anglers in the United States which is an increase of five million in the last five years. Mr. Rodman figures this is at a rate of increase of fishermen of twenty seven hundred every day. He praised the boats used by fishermen here for lobster fishing and said they were ideal for sport fishing. He suggested that local anglers in the early spring months when fishing in the sea rivers try a big streamer fly which is what Bass take at that time. He also mentioned that bass are given an exhortation when the water is very rough and sometimes the fish will actually ride the crest of big waves.

Tourist Season

Mr. Rodman figures that the P. E. I. tourist season could possibly be extended quite a lot by getting tourists here early for spring fishing and late in the fall for hunting purposes. He understood quite a number do come here now in the fall months but feels it could be increased not only for shooting but also for general holiday purposes.
Months of September and October are usually very beautiful ones.
He also suggested the possibility of starting some kind of a sport hunting Derby with prizes.

At the close of his talk several questions were asked, a particular one being whether the introduction of bass would spoil our trout fishing. He said the small mouthed black bass would be bad for trout but he did not think the striped or sea bass would do much harm.
Mr. Rodman praised 'the breath-taking beauty of Prince Edward Island' and thanked all those who had aided him so courteously while here.

He was introduced by the day's chairman, Rotarian Arthur Mould, and thanked by co-chairman Rotarian Norman Lowther.

Tribute From Holland

Rotarian S.J. van der Meulen, who is Secretary of the Rotary Club of Drachten, Holland, was welcomed yesterday and he graciously presented to the Charlottetown Rotary Club a very beautiful emblem from his Club in Holland. In recognition of the fact that men from Prince Edward Island in the last war had taken part in the liberation of his part of Holland and he expressed the grateful thanks of his people who he said would always kindly remember these men.

Another special feature yesterday was the peppy song led by Rotarian Walter Cox who was roundly applauded by all present. The meeting was a very large one with only a very small percentage of members absent owing to illness and a large number of visitors present.
George Thompson was welcomed back from England. He spoke briefly and mentioned that in the British Museum there is a copy of the Magna Carta donated by a man named 'Robert Cole' and he wondered if he was related to Rotarian Robert Cotton of Charlottetown who was expressed to Rotarian Simon who had been rushed to the hospital for an appendicitis operation. Rotarian guests present yesterday were Dr. Max MacDormund of Ottawa, R. E. Marshall, Halifax, S. J. van der Meulen, Drachten, Holland, Kenneth A. Parker, Hollville, Rev. Mechanical Street Sweeper To Be Purchased

A new mechanical street sweeper will be purchased by the City following a special meeting of the City Council held yesterday afternoon at City Hall. All of the Councillors were present at the meeting with Councillors Elmer MacDonald, G. R. Keefe and Arthur Gormley opposing the purchase.
Councillor Frank Storey, chairman of the Streets Committee, proposed the purchase and stated that the machine would save the city approximately $13,000 on the last year's figures. He said that the cost last year had been $22,000 of which $13,000 had been spent on manual labor. So far this year the sweeping has been $10,000 and he expected that this would rise to meet last year's total by the end of the season.
After considerable discussion by all Councillors it was decided to authorize the City Clerk to purchase an Elgin sweeper at a cost of $10,419.50.
Mayor J. D. Stewart commented on the great amount of work which had been done in the city this year and reminded the chairmen of the committees that no more money could be spent. However, he said that the contract for street repair would be completed.

Troops On Alert As Electors Vote In South Korea

PUSAN, Korea, Aug. 5 — (Tuesday) — (AP) — Korean troops were put on the alert today to prevent a reported Communist guerrilla plot to disrupt the first popular presidential election in this war-shattered republic.
The polls open at 7 A.M. (6 P.M. E.D.T. Monday).
There are 8218,000 eligible voters. Despite the threat of guerrilla violence, the balloting was expected to be heavy.
Syngman Rhee, 77, first chief executive of the republic, was expected to be re-elected because he is the only one of four candidates widely known.
One of Rhee's opponents is a self-styled former Communist, Cho Bong Am. There are nine candidates for vice-president, none of whom has Rhee's endorsement.
Today's election climaxes prolonged political strife which came to the surface in April when Rhee demanded constitutional changes to provide for popular election of the president. He had been elected by the National Assembly in 1948.
Rhee had the assembly's backing until elections for members of that body in 1950 — shortly before the outbreak of the Korean war — established a majority opposition.

Liner United States Outspeds Elizabeth

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 — (AP) — The liner United States reached New York today 10 hours and 40 minutes ahead of Britain's Queen Elizabeth on their first simultaneous crossing, but nobody said there was a race.
The United States sailed from Le Havre Thursday about half an hour after the Queen Elizabeth left Cherbourg. The American vessel overtook the British ship the next day at Bishop's Rock off the Cornish coast.
The two ships dipped their engines in salute as the United States went by.
'Pleasant voyage,' was flashed to the United States by Commodore George Cove of the Elizabeth. The United States answered 'Thank you.'
'There wasn't any race, we just raced away from her,' said Commodore Harry Manning, skipper of the United States, on his arrival today.
Manning said he never knows and the Elizabeth was making 28 to 29 knots.

Col. G. Elliot Full was elected potato dealer's representative on the P. E. Island Marketing Board, at a well attended meeting held yesterday afternoon in the Agricultural Room of the Vocational School. Mr. J. O. C. Campbell, chairman of the Board, presided.

Red Jet Fighters Jump U.S. Plane Over Yellow Sea

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 — (AP) — Two jet fighters with Chinese Communist markings jumped a United States naval patrol plane over the Yellow Sea last Thursday killing two of the crew but failing to bring the plane down.
Symptoms reported by the sky encounter in a special announcement today.
It said the slow U.S. flying boat returned the fire of the jets, fought them off and then managed to limp back to the west coast of Korea with two crew members dead and two wounded.
The Americans did not claim to have damaged the Red jets, described by the navy as Russian-built Mig-15s. The navy plane was a 200-mile-an-hour Martin Mariner on a routine patrol of the sea between Korea and the Chinese mainland.

Big Uranian Rush On In Saskatchewan

REGINA, Aug. 4 — (CP) — Uranian today brought on Saskatchewan's biggest staking rush. Hundreds of prospectors scampers about the northwest corner of the province as the Saskatchewan Resources Department threw open 20 concessions in the rich Beaver Lodge uranium area. More than 500 claims are expected to be made in the first two days of staking.
One report said that Northern Airways officials would be unable to handle the surge of prospectors unless extra aircraft became available.
Besides outside prospectors, many of the 2,000 inhabitants of the area are expected to be out staking either for themselves or indirectly for companies already holding land in the region.
The concessions cover a major part of the Beaver Lodge field on the north shore of Lake Athabaska. They include areas along the St. Louis and Black Bay faults where many of the major uranium finds have been made.
The concessions were originally granted three years ago to various mining companies and work commitments called for in the contracts have been completed. In accordance with the agreements, the companies have finished their claim-staking on 10 to 30 per cent of the original concession area and the remainder has been opened to the public.
Resources Minister J. H. Brockelbank said that $10,000,000 already has been earmarked for exploration and development work in the region.
The Federal crown corporation, Eldorado Mining and Refining Co. holds large tracts of potential uranium land in the area and is building a mill on the shores of Lake Athabaska where the atomic mineral will be treated from mines already sunk nearby.
To handle the rush of prospectors, Mining Recorder Don Sheppard of the Resources Department was dispatched to Uranium City where he set up temporary offices in tents to register the claims as they came in.
Uranium City is a model mining town planned by the Provincial Government and opened this year on Lake Athabaska.
Each prospectors is allowed 21 claims and under his own name and the others on proxies.

Oppose Shopping In Russian Zone

BERLIN, Aug. 4 — (AP) — The United States commandant said today that shopping in Russian-occupied stores to take advantage of favorable currency exchange rates helps Communism and should be opposed.
Major Gen. Lemuel Mathewson passed this word to his staff without making it a direct order. He said he was tired of running into examples of American wives who return from the Russian sector with goods, such as rugs, china and lace, bought in the ration-free, Communist-controlled stores.
A west mark (about 24 cents) is worth four east marks at the current rate of exchange.

New Science Laboratory For Dominion Experimental Farm

Picture above is the new science services laboratory building now under construction on the Malpeque Road for the Dominion Experimental Farm. It will replace the former laboratory which was destroyed by fire on January 31, 1951.
The new structure is a completely fireproof building of structural slabs with a brick and concrete block face. Inside the walls are 14 inches thick. The windows are of the Sul-Sash type, with double casements, avoiding the necessity for storm sashes in winter. All windows are completely weather stripped. The hallways and stairs are covered with terrazzo tile flooring.
The building when completed, sometime this year, will have three sets of laboratories for the different departments. Each of them will be complete with offices for the heads of the departments, the general staff and the secretarial staff. In addition there will be two libraries, three walk-in refrigerators for the maintain-

Discover Summer Breeding Ground Of Whooping Crane

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Aug. 4 — (CP) — Two United States Field and Wild Life workers today reported discovery of the summer breeding ground of the almost-extinct whooping crane, a mystery that has baffled ornithologists for more than 50 years.
The two workers, Robert Smith of Medford, Ore., and Everett Sutton of Aberdeen, S.D., flew into this Northern Saskatchewan city yesterday after an air tour of Canada's far north.
They spotted two adult cranes in the marshes north of Great Slave Lake, one on July 11, one the next day.
The significance of the discovery, Mr. Smith said, can be gauged by the fact that only a few specimens of this waterfowl remain on the North American continent. About 30 spend their winters on the Texas coast, 3,000 miles from where the birds breed.

Rainmakers Prepare To Go Into Action

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 4 — (AP) — Rainmakers stationed themselves in the hills west of the Connecticut Valley tonight preparing to fire rain-producing crystals into the skies over parched farmlands.
Wallace Howell, who heads the rainmakers, said he has set up five jodizing generators in strategic areas to await 'favorable conditions' which he expects tonight.
A rainmaking firm was brought into Connecticut by farmers in the Connecticut valley area in an effort to save dying tobacco and vegetable crops.
Howell said that to produce rain there must be moisture-bearing clouds overhead.
