—WILL BEGIN—er area, first regularly by the Pacific Clipper ships.

As a result of those trial flights, the ships to be used in regular service were strengthened and altered to increase their capacity. They will be regular flying boats, not of the composite type. It is expected that even bigger ships, along the line of the big clippers, will be ready for Imperial trans-Atlantic service next season.

Meanwhile service across the longer southern route, via the Azores, has developed simultaneously. Pan-American began regular service over the more leisurely route May 29 this year, carrying both Canadian and American Trans-Atlantic airmail for the first time in history.

Two weeks later, Pan-American inaugurated regular service carrying airmail over the northern route, via Botwood, Newfoundland, and Foyles, Ireland. While this short route is admittedly more difficult, big ships are expected to manage it satisfactorily. High altitude flying may prove the answer to the rough winter season there, it is said.

Within another three weeks, Imperial Airways will begin its service over the same northern route alternating on semi-weekly trips with Pan-American.

Jury Orders Youth To Lethal Gas Chamber

PHOENIX, July 18—A stern jury ordered a 21-year-old Robert Burgunder's challenge today and ordered him put to death in the lethal gas chamber for murder.

Without a sign of emotion, Burgunder listened to the verdict, which was the jurors' answer to his assertion that he should be given the death penalty. It is the story of an unidentified "pal" killed two automobile salesmen was untrue.

The jury, which sat through an 18-day trial, rejected his story and the plea of his father, Robert M. Burgunder, Seattle Wash., attorney and associate counsel, that the boy was "born with a defective brain."

The collector's mother, Mrs. Ruth Burgunder of Alhambra, Calif., was on the verge of collapse as she read the verdict. Her father sat light-headed and weary. Both had tried to assume blame for their son's waywardness.

Burgunder, until April 29 a school teacher at Arizona State Teacher College at Tempe, was convicted of the murder of Jack Peterson, Phoenix automobile salesman, still pending against him is a charge of murdering Ellis M. Koury another salesman. Both were shot to death.

On the witness stand, Burgunder blamed the slaying on a companion whom he refused to identify because of a "code of criminals" he said he learned while serving 23 months in a Washington state reformatory for a Seattle drug store holdup.

HOLMAN'S Summerside Firemen

(Continued from page 1) His Worship Mayor Foster said it was a great pleasure to be present to extend a hearty welcome to the visiting firemen who came to the province to assist in carrying out the festivities in connection with the celebration of the 75th anniversary of the meeting in connection with Confederation.

Citizens were justly proud of their fire fighters and he hoped the visiting firemen would accept the hospitality of the townsmen, people which would, he was sure, be freely offered.

In presenting the key of the city to Chief Duffly, President of the Fire Chiefs Association, His Worship said it was the first occasion in many years that the key of the city had been presented to any body of men.

He felt sure the tournament on Wednesday afternoon would be one of the "high lights" of the week and would be a complete success. He hoped their visit would be a pleasant one and was confident local firemen would do everything possible to make it such.

His Worship expressed the hope that most of them would come back to visit the city soon and concluded by again extending a hearty welcome.

COUNCILLOR MCKEE—Councillor J. T. McKee, chairman of the Fire Committee of the City Council said they all enjoyed the pleasure and honor of being present to extend a hearty welcome and greetings to the visiting firemen, and he was sure the local firemen would do everything possible to make their visit a pleasant one.

Before Chief Angus McEachern introduced the speakers "O Canada" was rendered by the League of the Cross Band, the proceedings being brought to a close with the rendering of the National Anthem by the P. E. I. Lighthouse Band.

Bands taking part in this morning's parade were the League of the Cross, P. E. I. Lighthouse, O. A. Pipe Band and P. E. I. Highlanders Pipe Band, each of whom rendered music in turn.

NAZIS EXPRESS

The statement followed day-long conferences of Danzig senators and political leaders who discussed instructions brought back by Albert Forster, Danzig Nazi leader, from his conference with Chancellor Hitler.

This expression of the Nazi attitude coincided with publication of an editorial by the Nazi news paper, the Danzig Post, declaring settlement of the "Danzig and Corridor problems" by negotiation is impossible at the moment.

Brooklyn's major casualty was Whitlow Wyatt, ace hurler who hurt a knee May 31 and was out until June 11. Catcher Babe Phelps also has been on the Dodger Hospital list.

The Cardinals have escaped an epidemic, but when Pepper Martin hurt his wrist on the first road trip it wasn't too soon. At the time he was hitting .358, and he hasn't been in the game since.

of her sister, Mrs. George Annear to be near her brother as the time of the operation. He is doing as well as can be expected.

Just an old fashioned chivvy with the old method of whooping and shouting, drumming and haranguing, and calls "bring out the bride" echoed throughout the district of Lower Montague to commemorate the marriage of Horace Hewett to Winnie McKenzie. Many happy returns were wished on the couple. (Patric Please Copy)

Great Interest In Sickness Services

OTTAWA, July 18—(CP)—Judging by the unprecedented response to the government's current questionnaire on sickness services available to workers throughout Canada, Canadian employers are "keenly alive" to the value of such services, according to a Health Department statement issued today.

Although the questionnaire was sent out to 12,000 employers only a week ago, replies have been pouring into the government in exceptional volume, many accompanied by letters expressing eagerness to obtain any advice the government can give concerning maintenance of their employees' health. Many are indicating a desire to improve their company medical service and sickness provisions, it is reported.

Soviet Youth Stage "Fitness" Parade

(By The Associated Press) MOSCOW, July 18—White Josef Stalin watched atop Lenin's tomb Soviet beauties in blue silk bathing suits and tin hats paraded and Russian troops scouted goose-stepping "Germans" and "Japanese" soldiers in sham battles in Red Square today.

On Russia's physical culture day, when the strength and preparedness of the nation's youth was demonstrated, some 40,000 shapely young men and women marched past Stalin to apply their muscles to the battle. They were selected as the finest representatives of Soviet trade unions, collective farms, the army and navy.

Injury Jinx Hounds Big League Clubs

(By WHITNEY MARTIN) (Associated Press Sports Writer) NEW YORK, July 18—(AP)—Before the season opened there was a hunch that the final ranking of the National League teams might be determined by the size of their hospital bills, and today the suspicion was only lurk-jerked into reality.

Seldom has a season seen such an epidemic of injuries and ailments. The boys obviously are playing for keeps and scarcely a day passed without some player needing a few stitches here or there.

Oddly enough, two of the teams most affected are the two which could hold the title under a little bad luck. The Phillies haven't been hit hard, but it would make little difference because they've already arrived at the top.

The other team, Cincinnati Reds, has had replacements in most spots, and although a little adversity might hinder it, it still could hold the title fairly well.

The Giants started out with Carl Hubbell and Hal Schumacher on the doubtful list. Since then, Schumacher has been crippled, as man has been out with a smashed finger; George Myatt has a bad knee; Harry Manning is a hospital case with an infected knee, Lou Chiozza was chipped away, a broken leg yesterday, Bill Jurgens is out for 10 days for trying to punch a hole in an umpire, and Joe Moore and Bill Lohman have periodic spells with stiff necks.

The Bees, aiming at a first division berth, first lost second baseman Tony Cuccinelli, who was a major calamity in Boston. He was out seven weeks, and now Eddie Miller, brilliant rookie shortstop, is nursing a broken ankle.

The Pirates were hit early and hard. Cy Blanton hurt his throwing arm April 28 and hasn't been worth a dime since. Fricter Russ Bauer's arm has been crippled, as have infielder Pep Young and chucker Jim Tobin and Robert Klinger.

Cobby Hartnett has only 15 able-bodied men on his Chicago Cubs roster. Earl Whitehill has been sent home with a broken thumb, and Dizzy Dean with a gas arm.

Brooklyn's major casualty was Whitlow Wyatt, ace hurler who hurt a knee May 31 and was out until June 11. Catcher Babe Phelps also has been on the Dodger Hospital list.

The Cardinals have escaped an epidemic, but when Pepper Martin hurt his wrist on the first road trip it wasn't too soon. At the time he was hitting .358, and he hasn't been in the game since.

Tough Luck Dogs Canuck Davis Cuppers

HAVANA, July 18—(CP-Hava)—The tough luck dogging the Canadian Davis Cup team, which has lost again today when Phil Pearson cut his racket hand while opening a can of tennis balls.

Pearson's slight casualty added to the worries of the non-playing captain, Robert D. Forster, who is pointing his charges for Friday's opening matches against the Cuban veterans.

Pearson, who with Bill Pedlar is handling the doubles assignment, went on practicing, insisted the slight cut did not affect his game. Forster was none too cheerful, however.

Bruce Hall, confined to a slight case of grippe for the past two days, was discharged after noon and showed up at the courts for a brief workout.

Forster said he intends to watch Hall carefully and will not permit him to play if he shows any sign of weakness. Pearson probably will be named to replace Hall for the singles should the latter be benched, Forster said.

Here is Dr. B. J. Pearce, president of Brennan College, examining a roughly carved stone which he regards as a possible clue to the fate of Virginia Dare, first English child born in America, her parents and other colonists later vanished mysteriously from Roanoke Island, North Carolina in 1581. Signed with the name of Eleanor Dare, mother of Virginia, the Elizabethan inscription relates that 15 of the colonists including Virginia and her father, were slain by Indians and the surviving seven left the island and travelled southwest. The stone was found near Edenton, North Carolina.
