Haying

Photographed at York in Queen's County, this is a typical country scene which has been repeated all over the island during the past few weeks. Hay crops this year have been good although hay-making weather conditions were not ideal at the end of the haying season. Mr. R. C. Parent, Superintendent of the Experimental Farm, said early weather conditions were excellent (as shown above) and that farmers should try to cut hay crops early.—(Photo by Donnelly).

TO THE ELECTORS OF KING'S COUNTY

I wish to extend heartfelt thanks to the large numbers who honored me with their support last Monday. Particularly those who worked so enthusiastically and without remuneration throughout the campaign. I wish also to thank the many Liberal friends for the kindness accorded me and the welcome reception in their homes when I called on them. We take satisfaction in having run our campaign strictly according to the Election Act with not one cent being used for bribery, liquor or hiring of cars. In congratulating Mr. Kickham I hope he may be able to get many of the things needed for King's County which we should rightfully expect.

JOHN A. MacDONALD, Cardigan.

Memorials ARE FOR THE LIVING

FOR THE LIVING, the moral and spiritual influence of an appropriate monument placed in honor of those departed is a source of inspiration through the years. That is why so many family monuments are planned well in advance of need; chosen with care to make sure of the type of design that will best commemorate lives that have been shared. As Master Craftsmen in Vermont Marble, we offer expert counsel and every assistance in selecting the family monument. The high quality, natural crystalline beauty, and century-proven durability of Vermont Marble make the simplest memorial a distinctive tribute. VERE BECK & SON LTD.
