Island Odds And Ends

Looks good to see so many potato-loaded trucks moving through Charlottetown en route to cargo ships on the water front. Every such truck means dollars to our farmers, our merchants, our wage earners. Since farm prices for many other Island products have dropped sharply in some cases—the potato crop will come to the rescue of those farmers who have some to market. Plenty of our farmers have lost money on them in low-price years but it must be admitted that two good years in a row can wipe the slate clean of a lot of debts.

The seasonal wind-up of street repairs in Charlottetown meant loss of employment for a considerable number of men. Fortunately a good proportion of these are finding other work even at this fag end of the year. Those who cannot be given work have filed claims for Unemployment Insurance Benefits.

This has been a busy week for the City's longshoremen. So many men were needed to load cargo on two ships at the Railroad wharf, that the Laborers Union was able to employ all its own members and to provide work for many non-union men. The Union, however, does not have it so good all the time. There are long intervals during the year when water-front activity is spotty. The men are hopeful that the movement of potatoes by water will provide them with sufficient work to make a cheerful Christmas.

Eisenhower's conquest of the traditionally Democratic "Solid South" could only be paralleled in Canada if Mr. Drew were to win more than three-quarters of the Quebec ridings in the Dominion House.

Since the days of Lincoln, being a Democrat in the South has been almost a religious rather than a political faith. What Canadians have to worry about is whether Old Guard Republicanism and its belief in high tariffs, isolationism and other re-actionary policies will re-open, or whether "Ike" and the new guard will shape new aims for the G. O. P.

Its beginning to dawn on Island fans that "Murph" Chamberlain is slowly molding a hustling hockey club, patiently but steadily he is filling the gaps left by the death of Johnny Dutchak, the departure for other towns of Willie Marshall, Red Faver, "Bucko" Trainor, Phil Vitale, Walter Pawlyshin and Ray Fredericks. Chamberlain knows—at least as well as the fans do—that there are still holes to plug and he is working on the problem all the time. With a defence man expected from the Pacific Coast, and the ex-St. John Beaver, Ron Hurst due in town soon, the Islanders will gain strength and there are other deals in the making.

A little stiffening in the defence and a bit more polish in their attacking lines, and the Islanders should have the punch to carry them along near the top of the Big Four.

It seems the Island is headed for a new and unwanted record—a new high in deaths by car accident this year. It would also be interesting to know how many "near misses" occurred during the year due to careless driving.

Not all accidents, of course, are attributable to fast or wild driving—they happen quite often under blameless conditions, because this is an age of increased road traffic and a stepped up tempo of life in general. But a curb on recklessness, would eliminate some of the unnecessary fatalities which have occurred, and folks all over the Province are looking for action from some quarter.

Despite the recognized need for greater national production, the shorter working week idea seems to be gaining ground in Canada. Figures recently released by the Economics and Research branch of the Federal Department of Labor reveal the trend clearly. The figures offer a comparison between 1950 and 1951. In 1950 65 per cent of Canadian workers in manufacturing plants were on the five day week; in 1951 this had increased to 79 per cent. No statistics are yet available for 1952. The survey showed that the percentage of workers on the five day week varied from 81.4 in Ontario and 75.6 in British Columbia to 8.9 in New Brunswick and 2.1 in Prince Edward Island. More than 60 per cent worked a five day week in Manitoba and Quebec, more than 42 per cent in Alberta, about 38 per cent in Saskatchewan and Nova Scotia, and about 15 per cent in Newfoundland.

Office workers in manufacturing also shared in the reduction of working hours. The average working hours in 1951 was found to be 38.6 hours, a decrease of twelve minutes from 1950.

Office workers on a straight five-day week—in manufacturing in 1951 comprised 76 per cent of the national total, as compared to 69 per cent in 1950.

Manslaughter Case Adjourned

The preliminary hearing of John K. MacDonald, Kilmuir, charged with manslaughter in the death of Basil Beaton, was postponed to November 13th yesterday. The hearing was at Georgetown before Stipendiary Magistrate Joseph W. MacDonald. The inquest is scheduled to be held on Monday night at the Legion Hall at Montague.

The case of William MacPherson, charged with intoxication in a public place, at the same time and place as the accident, involving the death of Basil Beaton, was also adjourned till next week.

Two other cases were also heard at Georgetown yesterday. A resident of Rosemeath charged with operating a motor vehicle while his ability was impaired with alcohol was fined $50.00 and costs, and the loss of his license for three months. A resident of Montague, on a charge of hit-and-run, was fined $25.00 and costs on each of two similar charges. Court was resumed at Montague later in the afternoon, where the case of a resident of Rosemeath charged with impersonating an officer was postponed until November 14th.

EGGLINGTON-HOWE BAY W. I.

"The October meeting of Eglington and Howe Bay Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Lorne Dingwell. The meeting was opened by repeating the Creed in unison. Ten members answered roll call and collection amounted to 80 cents.

A motion was made that a bill for Eglington school be paid, and a sale of articles increased the funds $8.00. Mrs. Ernest Underhay invited the members for the November meeting when roll call is to be answered by paying dues. The lunch committee will be Mrs. Chester Burke and Mrs. Russell Mills.

The meeting closed by singing "God Save the Queen", and lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Irene MacKenzie, and a pleasant evening enjoyed.
