Cuba Challenges U.S. On Trade

By MICHAEL LITTLEJOHNS

GENEVA (Reuters) — The chief Cuban delegate has "dared" the United States to explain its economic boycott of Communist Cuba before the United Nations trade and development conference meeting here.

"We ask this conference to take a decision as to the explanation, if the delegation of the United States dares to make an explanation," Cuba's Industries Minister Ernesto Guevara said.

"As far as we are concerned, we maintain our one and only attitude in this respect: We are prepared to enter into a dialogue provided there are no strings attached."

There was no immediate reaction to Guevara's speech from the U.S. delegation.

The bearded Cuban, dressed in olive military fatigues, told the 1,700 delegates Cuba was the "victim" of "all imaginable violations of international law."

Earlier in the day, U.S. State Undersecretary George Ball told the conference the poorer nations could do more to help themselves to prosperity.

Ball said he was referring particularly to the need to create a political climate conducive to foreign private investment in the developing lands.

An American official acknowledged that the statement probably fell short of what many of the representatives of the developing nations expected to hear.

Guevara charged that such UN institutions as the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund were at the "beck and call of North American imperialism."

In another development, Foreign Trade Minister Manubhai Shah of India proposed a major reconstruction of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade rather than the creation of a new international trade organization—a move supported by many developing nations and the Communist bloc.

Eskimos Said Frightened By Discussion Of Transfer

By ALAN DONNELLY

OTTAWA (CP) — Eskimos in Quebec are becoming "frightened and confused" over negotiations to transfer jurisdiction over them from Ottawa to the provincial government, Eugene Rheaume (PC—Northwest Territories) said in the Commons.

He said that Quebec Resources Minister Rene Levesque, who has been pressing to have provincial control over the Eskimos, has shown "unfathomable ignorance" about Eskimos.

Mr. Rheaume quoted Mr. Levesque as opposing a referendum among Eskimos on the transfer issue on grounds they were not far enough advanced to make a decision.

"It's the worst type of hypocrisy," he said. Eskimos in Quebec had had the right to vote in provincial and federal elections for some time. They were an exceptionally intelligent people.

"This kind of attitude, by one of the negotiating ministers, calls into question whether people like this should be entrusted at all with Eskimo affairs."

Mr. Rheaume raised the issue as the Commons debated a government request for a vote of $684,120,260 in funds to cover its operations for April and May, the first two months of the next fiscal year.

The government hopes to have the appropriation passed, together with some $240,885,000 in supplementary estimated for the fiscal year ended March 31, before Parliament adjourns for its Easter recess late today.

Earlier, Immigration Minister Tremblay said his department plans a more intensive publicity campaign to attract more immigrants. Canada needed more people and if 150,000 to 250,000 immigrants entered Canada "I think Canada can expect this number in order to develop."

Last year, immigration totalled 93,151. The minister said there was no target for this year.

Mr. Tremblay said he would be leaving today for Hong Kong in an effort to improve administration of applications from would-be immigrants.

SHARING PROFITS

MEXICO CITY (Reuters)—The Mexican government is launching a profit-sharing plan for some 4,000,000 workers throughout the country. About 80 per cent of the private companies operating in Mexico will be required to share profits with their employees. The first actual profit-sharing—based on a maximum of 20 per cent of total profits—will be based on profits in the 1963 fiscal year.

Opening lead—nine of hearts.

Declarer took advantage of a slip in the defense and brought home a six club contract which appeared doomed from the start.

West led the nine of hearts and East took the trick with the ace and returned the queen. Declarer won with the king, West playing the eight and dummy a spade.

West's play of the eight conformed to the generally accepted convention of playing right down the line after leading the highest card of a worthless three card suit. According to this convention, if West had played the deuce, he would have indicated that his original heart holding was the doubleton 9-2.

West did not know it at the time, but his innocent play of the eight gave declarer the contract. South drew two rounds of trumps and then cashed the A-K-Q of diamonds and ruffed dummy's last diamond.

He next played a club to dummy to draw West's last trump. After cashing another club, on which he discarded a spade, this became the position:

North
♠ Q 9
♣ 9

West
♠ 10 6
♥ 2

East
♠ K J
♥ J

South
♠ A 7
♥ 7

Declarer now led the nine of clubs and East was squeezed. He could not discard a spade because South would throw a heart and make the last two tricks with the A-Q of spades, nor could he discard a heart because South would throw a spade and make the last two tricks with the ace of spades and seven of hearts. So South made six as a result of the squeeze.

But if West had had the eight of hearts at this point, South would have gone down because East could then have discarded the jack of hearts without costing himself a trick.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
