NEW ASSOCIATIVE ENTERPRISE.

We learn that a number of believers in the doctrine of non-resistance... have purchased the estate of Dr. King... and some lands adjoining, at Perth Amboy, N. J.

PROVINCIAL PROGRESS OF THE BARIAN AY.

A few friends who enjoy a higher form of Union in Industry, Education and Social Life than is found in existing society, have associated themselves together...

THE SEVERAL DEPARTMENTS OF THE WORK.

The several departments of the work, arranged as follows: 1. Moral and religious instruction... 2. Intellectual and scientific instruction... 3. Physical and manual instruction...

on will permit; and the hope is, to surround the pupils with an atmosphere of friendly and parental guardianship as well, to a high degree, their health, purity, and energetic growth.

The social advantages of the Union will be great, inasmuch as an ample infusion of capital, and the cooperation of enlightened friends, enable the founders of the Union to carry out the plans...

Without proposing a definite order, or attempting to lay down precise rules, the originators of the Baritan Key Union, assure those who may feel prompted to become stockholders...

THE COUNTY COURTS.

Many of our readers will, perhaps, recollect that when the County Court Bill was submitted to the consideration of the Legislature, the lawyers opposed it in every possible way...

THE DEER-BLOOM'S BEE, THE BEE'S WIFE.

They pursued their prey, never straying from the track of their victim; and, as the weaver hunter... finds that they waited for the evening to seize their prey, and falls a prey to the tireless insect.

THE SKATER AND THE WOLVES.

During the winter of 1844, being engaged in the northern part of Maine, I had much leisure to devote to the wild sports of the country...

an increase of 16,475; the total amount of moneys for which plants were entered, amounted in 1851, to the enormous sum of 21,038,916.

It is our desire to make this movement strong and substantial from the start, and thus to increase its steady progress of expansion.

THE SKATER AND THE WOLVES.

During the winter of 1844, being engaged in the northern part of Maine, I had much leisure to devote to the wild sports of the country...

At one time, by delaying my turning too long, my sanguinary antagonists came so near, that they would break them; and then I should have professed; that would be peers to the fierce denizens of the forest.
