Estimates Fire Loss At $15,000

The fire loss suffered when the barn and poultry of Mr. Anson MacLaughlin, South Milton, burned early yesterday morning was estimated by Mr. MacLaughlin to be approximately $15,000. He said it was only partially covered by insurance.

The fire started shortly before 3 a. m. yesterday and made considerable headway before fire fighters got to the scene. Efforts of the Charlottetown firemen under Captain Gordon Stewart, of the Chemical Hose Company, and the many neighbors who quickly gathered, prevented the blaze from spreading to the nearby cattle barn. Water in the pumper taken from the city ran out and firemen and neighbors then threw snow on the blaze.

Lost in the fire were the large 100 by 30 foot barn housing the poultry as well as approximately 4,000 capons, 2,400 broilers and 700 pullets.

The fire for a time threatened the MacLaughlin home as well, but firefighters covering the residence aided in saving it. Cause of the blaze had not been determined last night.

To Continue New Icing The Puck Rule

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Dec. 20 (CP)—Secretary-manager J. Harper Parry of the Western Canada Junior Hockey League said today the loop will not revert to the old icing-the-puck rule as voted by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association executive.

"I've talked to coaches, managers and referees in every city in the league," Parry said. "They all want to continue with the new rule. Nearly every hockey man in the west wanted to keep the new rule in effect but officials down east wanted the old one and voted that way."

The C. O. A. H. executive voted 13 to 10 in favor of returning to the old rule which allows the puck to be fired into the end zone from just across the centre line. The new rule, put into effect this year in an attempt to eliminate ganking in corners, calls for the puck to be carried or passed over the blue line without reaching the goal line.

Sidewalk Bylaw To Be Enforced

Business firms and householders who have not properly taken care of their sidewalks are due for an unwelcome surprise today. City Police have been ordered to literally "ring doorbells" in the case of all who have not complied with the City Ordinance compelling the occupant of the property to keep the sidewalk in front of it clear.

Questioned last night about the situation Mayor J. D. Stewart said it was simply a case of citizens refusing to accept their civic responsibility. He agreed that all citizens did not have sand or ashes available, but said that salt could be put over the icy surfaces or it could be chopped away.

Many citizens were complaining yesterday about the inability to navigate safely on the sidewalks and it was freely admitted by a number that they would not venture on normal shopping trips to the centre of the city due to the icy conditions.

On Monday evening, December 3, the Darlington W. I. held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Donald MacPherson. The meeting opened with the "Ode" followed by the "Creed." Roll call was answered by eight members and three visitors and one new member was welcomed.

Stalin Vs. Santa Battle Behind Iron Curtain

LONDON, Dec. 20 (Reuters)—A Stalin vs. St. Nicholas battle is being waged behind the Iron Curtain. The forces of the Reds are massed against traditional observance of the Old Gentleman's arrival Christmas eve.

The Communists don't object to Santa Claus in person—the Russians honor him themselves under the name of Grandfather Frost. But they're determined to wipe out or reduce sharply all religious observances.

Russians authorities ignore Christmas and contend there never was a babe in the manger. They concentrate celebrations on the new year, with a mixture of kids' parties and Communist slogans.

Traditions Die Hard Party chiefs try to turn Christmas into a folk festival, but old traditions die hard. Reports indicate that Santa is fighting back.

Predominantly Roman Catholic countries such as Poland, Czechoslovakia and Hungary still want to observe Christmas. So does the Communist-ruled part of Germany.

Since the party has to come to some kind of working agreement with the church in many matters, Christmas celebrations are tolerated in many Iron Curtain countries.

In Russia, Dec. 25 and 26 are ordinary work days. The Orthodox Church celebrates Christmas with a religious festival about 10 days later, since they still work on the old-style calendar.

In Poland, Czechoslovakia and Hungary workers previously have had one or two days off at Christmas. In Poland this year they'll all have to work. But there will be church services Christmas eve and Christmas Day.

One sign of Christmas is the Christmas tree. In Russia it is a "Yolka" or fir tree, which is the symbol for new year children's parties.

In Czechoslovakia city fathers put up a traditional Christmas tree in Prague's old town square Dec. 16. The Lord Mayor made clear this was a "Russian-style" tree and really had nothing to do with Christmas.

"Peace Gnomes" In Eastern Germany party chiefs are encouraging the kids to stage Christmas parades with "peace gnomes" playing leading roles. The "peace gnomes" preach peace the rascous Communist way—as envoys from Moscow and the "peace-loving countries" battling against the witches and devils of the "imperialist" world. The United States Government is chief devil.

Yet East German radio stations have been broadcasting Christmas music for some time—presumably to show these aren't the sole prerogative of non-Communist West Germany.

But, what about "Scrooge"? Charles Dickens is one of the most popular foreign writers in Russia. But his "Christmas Carol," the story of old Scrooge, the miser who became intoxicated with the Christmas spirit and mended his ways, is never mentioned.

Pilot Injured In Crash Dies

CALGARY, Dec. 20 (CP)—FO. Cyril Douglas Wilken, 27, of Sask, died in hospital Wednesday of frostbite and exposure suffered while trapped 40 sub-zero hours in a wrecked R. C. A. F. trainer plane 7,000 feet up a Southern Alberta mountain last week.

Wilken's hands and feet were badly frostbitten. He was ferrying a Harvard aircraft from Trenton, Ont., to Claresholm, Alta., via Calgary when he was caught in a snowstorm last Wednesday. He was unable to land at Calgary, and crashed at the 7,000-foot level of Mount Head, about 40 miles southwest of Calgary.

The crew member aboard the Harvard, Cpl. Clifford Miles Johnson, 32, of Canterbury, N. B., was uninjured.

New Electric Rates Subject Of Protest

Representations against the new rate schedule for the Maritime Electric Company were made yesterday by a delegation from Hunter River and vicinity at a hearing before the Public Utilities Commission.

The six delegates, who were appointed at a meeting recently in Hunter River to wait upon the Commission were Hon. R. R. Begg, K.C., M.L.A., Rev. Howard Christies, Rev. Father J. C. Pitre, Ray Bagnall, Harold Bagnall and Clifford Proude. Chairman of the Commission is Judge C. St. Clair Trainor, and members W. R. Brennan and L. B. MacMillan.

A short brief was read by Rev. Mr. Christie in which comparisons were made with the old rates and the general percentage increases for farms, small businesses and community centres. With reference to the use of electricity by churches, it was pointed out that evening services are held only once a month in many rural churches, and yet the rates for these have been raised by four hundred per cent.

Churches and Halls It was felt that churches and community halls should be given a lower service charge, and while farmers were not vigorously opposed to the increased rates as they affect the farm use of power, they are generally opposed to all raises where they also affect community centres because they have to foot the entire bill, either directly or indirectly.

Protests were also voiced at the size of the increase and why there had not been a flat percentage increase across the board, instead of a large percentage raise to the small consumer while some large users have had their rates cut.

In an explanation of the reasons for the change in structure of the rates, members of the Commission emphasized that they themselves were impartial, as was the expert they had engaged to draught the new structure. The old rate system, they said, was hopelessly outmoded and very unwieldy.

New System Required A new system was required mainly to avoid further demands for power at peak periods, which occur between the hours of 4-8 p.m. in the months November to February inclusive. Where large users have been able to change their own peak periods to differ from those mentioned above, they have been granted a lower rate.

The ultimate objective is to maintain a steady output of power throughout the entire twenty four hours. At the present time, the plant of the company has to have sufficient generating facilities to cope with the four hour peak period. No rate increases have been made since 1938 with the exception of a small raise to cover higher fuel costs in 1947, and members of the Commission said that it was unfortunate that the change in rate structure came at the same time as an increase in rates was put into effect.

One of the main difficulties, they said, was that the average consumer in P.E.I. was such a small consumer and to raise the revenue of the company in order to attract capital for expansion it was unavoidable that the percentage raise for the small consumer would be high. A clearer picture will be obtained in August after the new rates have been in effect for a whole year, they stated.

The wide spacing of consumers in rural areas, with the necessity for separate transformers, resulting in power losses, was mentioned as a reason for the high rate to individual rural consumer. The churches, it was suggested, could obtain some measure of relief by using power on a short term supply contract with a four month minimum.
