Haszard & Moore Souvenir Photographs

Advance orders for photographs of our P. E. Island Transvaal contingent have at last been all filled. Now is the time for those who did not leave orders to obtain these interesting souvenirs.

Everyone should have one. The boys will soon be at the front. They'll probably see considerable fighting, and when they come won't they be heroes. All the stories they will have to tell.

The photos are in two sizes. Both are clear and sharp. One is mounted on a card 14 x 17 inches and makes a splendid picture for framing. The price is $1.00

The other is mounted on a card about 7 x 9 inches—just the thing for the mantelpiece. The price is 35 cents. It will be mailed, post paid to any address.

The day before he left Charlottetown Rev. T. F. Fullerton, the noble chaplain who left home and all its environments to look after the spiritual welfare of the boys sat for a photograph. An excellent likeness was the result. This photograph may be had in three different sizes. Price 30, 40 and 45 cents. Either will be mailed to any address postpaid.

All of the photographs were taken and are being finished by Westlake Bros, Charlottetown. In Charlottetown the photos may be had at THE EXAMINER office, or at Johnson & Johnson's downtown drugstore.

In Summerside, orders for the large group photo may be left at D. K. Currie's Bookstore. All mail orders should be addressed to Robert L. Cotton, P. O. Box 84, Charlottetown.

THE DAILY EXAMINER

NOVEMBER 27, 1899.

THE WAR SITUATION.

Three distinct campaigns are now in progress, and in all there are points of interest. The first includes the besieged British garrisons and camps at Ladysmith, Estcourt and Mooi River. At Ladysmith there are nine thousand British soldiers, at Estcourt, there have been two thousand, and at Mooi River two thousand, while Gen. Clery has about nine thousand who are advancing to the relief of these beleaguered forces. General Joubert has in this vicinity and at his disposal about thirty thousand men; and the danger was that he might fall upon the smaller of the isolated British camps with an overwhelming force and score a triumph before the relieving column could arrive. But this danger has been distinctly lessened by the junction of the scattered British forces at Frere. General Buller was at Pietermaritzburg yesterday, and is, probably, by this time, directing operations in person. It may now be General Joubert's turn to suffer the defeat of a small part of his army by a larger force, and he will certainly be between two fires ere many days. If he does not raise the siege of Ladysmith and retreat, there will be a big, perhaps a decisive battle in that vicinity within a week.

In the second campaign, Lord Methuen is advancing with 13,000 men to relieve Kimberley, where there are two thousand British against five thousand Boers, and Mafeking, where there are one thousand British against four or five thousand Boers. Lord Methuen's forces have captured a second position held by the Boers at Gras Pan, and will probably be at Kimberley tomorrow or Wednesday.

In the third campaign, General Gatacre is advancing from East London to drive the Boers out of Stormsberg and push on to Bloemfontein.

Interest just now centres in the relieving forces. It is probable that Gen Clery has been playing a waiting game; for the longer the bulk of the Boer force can be held in Natal, the easier will be the work of Generals Gatacre and Methuen.

THE ASYLUM ANNEX.

Nothing, practically, can be done towards the building of the superstructure of the "Asylum annex," until next spring. But there are special and particular reasons why the government should, at the present juncture, seem to be doing something about the matter. So we are told that the contract has been let to Messrs Parkman, Crabbe & Jenkins for $27,000. Premier Farquharson has informed The Guardian that—

"Before proceeding in this way the Government offered to settle with Mr. Lowe and pay him for all the material in full at invoice prices; also to pay truckage for placing it there and interest on the money for the time the material remaining on the ground. This he refused to accept, and the Government have letters to prove all these statements."

It is manifest that before the latest development in this matter can be discussed or understood by the people all the correspondence must be published. Will the government publish it? The information so far given to the people—apart from Premier Farquharson's statement—indicates that a high-handed act has been done. But the government could not afford to let the matter rest until the next session of the Legislature; for they will be out of office. So they have over-ridden the Lowe contract and patched up another agreement, although little or nothing can be done towards the erection of the building until after the winter has passed away.

BAREFACED CORRUPTION.

As an example of the barefaced corruption going on in connection with the canvass of Mr. David P. Irving, in Belfast, and Hon. D. A. McKinnon, in Murray Harbour, we give below an exact copy of a "memo" which is being handed around for signature near Montague Cross in the Belfast district. We may add that the organizers of this corrupt proceeding are well known and are high up in the party. For we have the corruption straight in black and white:

"We the undersigned promise to vote for D. P. Irving if work is commenced on the Road known as Bolger's road, before the 13th of December and made passible for winter."

BAD METHODS.

As was expected the Government campaign in the Southern Districts is being conducted on thoroughly mercenary lines. When Sir Louis Davies warned the electors at Pownal that if they did not vote for the Farquharson Government the Southern Railway might be "stopped or hindered," he unblushingly gave the keynote to a performance in which the candidates, road supervisors and party heelers are taking an active part.

The voice of the boodler is being heard all over the Belfast and Murray Harbour districts. The supervisors are bunting up doubtful voters and placing the bait of fat road jobs before them. Party heelers are busy exploiting new road schemes where the road compensation is relied upon to serve the same purpose as was being promoted in buying rights of way for the railway in Lots 48 and 49. We are told that during last week, two new road schemes were being floated in one polling district in Belfast. It is said that Mr. Farquharson returned to Charlottetown on Thursday last with his economical views very materially modified, and it is likely that the supervisors and others entrusted with this branch of the work will be enabled to materially extend their operations for the next two weeks.

To the friends of the Conservative candidate we would say: Do not allow yourselves to depart one iota from clean honest methods on account of the action of your opponents. Your cause is good and the people are with you. We do not believe that all the boodle controlled by the Laurier and Farquharson Governments, combined, and Sir Louis Davies' threats, thrown in, can overcome the repugnance of the people to the misdoings of the Liberal rulers of this Province. But even if it should, unfortunately, prove otherwise it would be worth submitting to temporary defeat in order to gain the opportunity of ripping up, in the election courts, the rotten work now being done in the interest of Messrs McKinnon and Irving. We say in their interest,—but that does not imply that the government candidates are innocent of the corruption going on in their behalf.

A deplorable mistake was made in 1893, by the Conservative party, in not bringing Messrs. Peters, Farquharson and all their associates into the courts to answer for their notorious exploitation of the Provincial treasury for electioneering purposes at that time. Notwithstanding what was said at the time by Conservative speakers and writers about the road boodling employed during that election, it was not until the public accounts came down, some months afterwards, showing the gigantic deficit of $119,000 on the year's transactions, that the full extent of the boodling was realized.

Ex-Premier Hardy, of Ontario, went to North Grey, in 1896, to promote the election of the Hon. Mr. Paterson. Mr. Hardy led off in the saturnalia of corruption inaugurated on that occasion by the Grit party with the infamous declaration that if the electors rejected Mr. Paterson they might expect "cold justice" both from Ottawa and Toronto. Mr. Paterson was elected. But so great was the terror of his party and himself, on the filing of a protest against him, that about half a dozen protests against Conservatives were dropped in order to save him from the ordeal of a judicial investigation. The public conscience was roused by the immorality of Mr. Hardy's threat. His methods were pushed further in regard to the working of the Ontario machine in his interests, with the result that he was forced to retire from public life. Sir Louis Davies' threat at Pownal was every bit as bad as that of Mr. Hardy at Owen Sound. It would be a most interesting subject for investigation in an election court.
