GETTING UNDER WAY

Welcome to and back fellow students. I hope you enjoyed your summer as much as I did. Saying that sarcastically, my vacation was spent in a class-room for the first and second summer session. It was not the weather I missed, as you all know, but freedom from exams and term papers. However, continuing on, we are back for another year of rigorous studying and hopefully more involvement in campus activities.

This year the Student Union, in conjunction with the various university administrative and faculty bodies are pushing for more student participation on recommendatory committees. Not only will students' concerns be voiced, but a feeling of involvement is present. So when openings on committees do come up, invest a little bit of your time to look into the role and responsibilities of the position.

Before I approach the end of my welcome letter, let me make something clear. The Student Union is stressing student and faculty involvement for the ensuing year. Now don't get me wrong by contemplating the 1980-81 year's success is totally up to you.

No, I am saying, if you wish to enjoy yourself, then take some time off from whatever you are doing to visit your Student Union Center at The Barn, to partake in the many S.U. events scheduled, or just applying for a committee position. I guarantee you the benefits will be substantial. In conclusion, drop down to The Barn anytime between 9:00 A.M. and 5:00 P.M. to offer any suggestions, have a coffee and a chat.

Sincerely yours,
Phillip Brown
President
Student Union

TERRY

While many U.P.E.I. Students were watching the telethon for Terry Fox, Lee MacArthur, Frank Martin, Patti Bradley, and Cynthia King knocked on doors asking for donations on behalf of the resident students. Thanks to the generous givers a total of $287.10 was sent to help in research of cancer.

It was a sad but rewarding experience for Terry Fox. His travels ended in Thunder Bay, for the cancer developed in his right leg had spread to his lungs, and he could not go any further. As he stated on the telethon "I'm going to finish my run". On watching fans cried along with him.

The Canadian Cancer Society will surely appreciate U.P.E.I.'s contribution. Many thanks to those who took the time to answer their doors and give generously.
