An Act to amend the Laws Establishing the Salaries payable to the Attorney and Solicitor General.

[Passed April 24, 1868.]

WHEREAS by the Act of the sixteenth Victoria, Chapter three, it is enacted that the salary of two hundred pounds per annum, there by made payable to the Attorney General, shall be in lieu of all fees of office charges, and allowances and emoluments paid or payable by the Government of this Island to the Attorney General and Advocate General, on account of Crown prosecutions, or for opinions, or for putting marginal notes to the Statutes, or for any other miscellaneous services performed by him in his official capacity; and that the said salary should be in addition to the annual salary of one hundred and fifty pounds, payable to the Attorney General under the provisions of the Act passed in the fourteenth year of the reign of Her present Majesty Queen Victoria, intituled "An Act to commute the Crown Revenues of Prince Edward I-land, and to provide for the Civil List thereof, as well as for certain compensations therein mentioned," it being intended that the full salary of the Attorney General should be three hundred and fifty pounds and no more; and by the Act of the twenty-ninth Victoria, Chapter twenty-one, it is enacted that the sum of two hundred pounds per annum, thereby made payable to the Solicitor General for the salary of that office, shall be in lieu of all fees of office, charges, allowances and emoluments, paid or payable by the Government of this Island to the Solicitor General, on account of Crown prosecutions, or for opinions, or for any other miscellaneous services performed by him for the Government in his official capacity; and whereas it is deemed advisable that said Acts should be so explained and amended as to prevent any person holding either of the above offices, recovering from the Government on any account whatsoever, for services performed whether in his strictly official capacity, or in his professional character as a Barrister, Attorney, Solicitor, Proctor, Conveyancer, or Notary Public, any greater amount than the amount of the salary, so as afore
