Weekend To See Golf Start

NOW THAT the warm weather has arrived it seems appropriate that something should be said about the local golf picture. Drive out in the Charlotte Golf Club to find out how many were sleeping and, while we were there, engaged in a conversation with host pro Cecil "Bobby" Dowling, who returned here last Saturday following hospitalization in Saint John, N.B. The usual little pro, always ready to talk on his pet subject, felt the opening club stakes will get the 1962 season underway this weekend. "Bobby" says the course is in the best condition in years for this time of year. He credits course superintendent Johnny MacDonell for the condition of the course and says only his hard work made it possible. He is also looking forward to a bumper year and says 20 applications have been made for membership in the club.

As we were leaving the club we spotted Wiley Page working hard on the ranges with his driver. After a "bulky" comment followed one of his drives he related "only 350 yards, I don't! All them too hard this early in the season."

We also had a visit from Green Gables pro Errol Nicholson, who recently returned from a winter in Florida and he tells us that the Cavendish course is in top condition and that action is underway there Monday.

ERROLL, WHO is in his fourth year at pro Green Gables, spent the winter teaching golf at a driving range in Dunedin, Florida. He had actually gone down to the sunshine country to attend the PGA National Golf Club which he ended up staying there for the winter.

Following his graduation from Mount A last year, Erroll was driven as to how he would like to do as he made this comment of an "experimental year." He thoroughly enjoyed himself and told us he was on hand to see the top pros battle for honors and top money in the Masters and also watched a few of the smaller tourneys. The Cavendish is not uncertain about his plans this fall but is leaving the idea of taking up teaching.

A's Owner Eyes Oil-Rich Texas

KANSAS CITY ATHLETICS owner Charles O. Finley has been in the news several times in recent weeks and speaking at a banquet a couple of weeks ago he told sportsmen that buying a baseball team is the poorest investment a person could make.

This is the voice of experience speaking and now he is trying to move his team to Dallas-Fort Worth. Perhaps he figures he can get some of that $5 million he soaked into the club back fast in the oil-rich state of Texas. Commenting on his troubles with former general manager Frank "Trader" Lane last year before he dumped him, he said he was glad that he had let him go. "I had to get rid of him before he got me", said Finley, and of the present general manager Pat Friday, he said "his easier working with someone who has a lot to learn rather than someone who knows it all."

Stewart, president of the Exhibitors Association, announced yesterday that June 4 has been accepted as benefit night for retarded children. This is a regular care night and the children will be having in advance sale of tickets. This is a worthwhile project and everyone connected with the project should be commended for it.

From The Grab Bag

Manual Youza says Rigan can win the Prekness, the second jewel in the triple crown, today at Pimlico. The fiery little Pennamian indicated that the desire for gold stams has been temporarily by the by. He said Rigan's last race was hurt when he and favored Rigan led out to last shot. Decidedly in the Kentucky Derby.

Along with other abilities Tagemur Johnson is also an author. Some time ago he wrote a book "Seems Out Of Orbit" in which he told how he drew him into the square circle. "I was drawn in writing the same way that others are drawn to acting or painting", he wrote. "The only difference is that the artist has a talent rather than someone who knows it all."

Jimmy Piersall is impressed with the Baltimore Orioles. Piersall was involved in a dispute over the fairness of a ball hit by Carl Robinson on the Orioles and he can't lose, said Piersall following the game. "After that they can't lose."

Life Accomplished Atlanta Softball Meet

The City Softball League held its annual meeting at the Main Ball Room last night but little was decided as only one team from last year's league was officially represented and that team was the Shamrocks with Vern Blanchard, coach of the club last year, in attendance.

A team from Bedford, represented by John Hughes, ran pitcher with the Pirates last year, and Louis Bradley, showed interest in joining the league but a decision will be made at their entry into the league until the next meeting on Thursday, May 24 at the Main Ball Room.

One of the subjects that drew a certain amount of discussion was the idea of having an inter-league schedule with the Prince County Softball League. Sam MacKenzie, president of the League said he had been contacted by a Summerdale representative yesterday who indicated he had no objection to the last night.

A vote of thanks was extended

Plan For Selecting Olympic Team Probable

By STUART LAKE OTTAWA (CP)

A new method of selecting Canada's hockey team for the 1962 Olympics in Canada decides to enter a team—could result from the five-day annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

About 20 delegates will consider two alternatives to the present practice of picking a strong senior club and stocking it with some replacements, when the seasons start here Sunday.

Canada was runner-up to Russia in 1956 and to the United States in 1960. Concern over this showing—in contrast to Canada's almost complete domination of Olympic hockey in previous years—has reflected in the resolution.

The first, submitted by the Alberta association, wants the army to train and control the team. Promising juvenile and senior players would be enlisted in 1962 and would participate already in the service and a full playing schedule would be held before the team leaves for Austria.

Players could be discharged after the 1962 games if they wished. A second suggestion, submitted by Thunder Bay, calls for the use of some replacement teams in a round-robin tourney, the winner to represent Canada.
