FAMILIAR HYMNS.
 "STAND UP, STAND UP, FOR JESUS."

George Duffield.

George Duffield was born in Carlisle, Pa., April 12th, 1817, and at the Union Theological Seminary, New York, in 1840. He was pastor in Brooklyn seven years, and then moved to Bloomfield, N. J., where he remained four years, then to Philadelphia, where he remained ten years, leaving there in 1861, and then moved to Detroit. The loss of his wife at Lansing, Mich., in 1860 affected him so deeply that he resigned his charge and went to live with a brother in Detroit. In 1861 his son, author of "English Hymns," died, and just one year had previously gone the way of all the earth. This accumulation of sorrows seemed greater than his affectionate heart could bear. He bravely but vainly struggled against loneliness and loss. In the summer of '88, while visiting a daughter-in-law at Bloomfield, N. J., his own old pastorate, with a remembrance of approaching death, he wrote to a brother, closing thus:

"And if I may be deemed worthy, I should like the last verse of my hymn, 'Stand up, stand up, for Jesus,' above my resting place."

He died at Bloomfield, July 6, 1888. His remains were taken to Detroit the following day, and laid to rest, reverent hands were

To the Electors of Charlottetown.

GENTLEMEN,—At the request of many of my fellow citizens I place myself in your hands for reelection to the honorable position of Mayor, and respectfully ask for your votes.

Should you again do me the honor to elect me, I shall co-operate in maturing and carrying out all measures having for their object the good of the community as a whole, and, as in the past, my best efforts shall be given to the administration of the affairs of the city.

I refer you to the City Report for my views on taxation, and would only add that I am fully satisfied that the ordinary expenditure of the city can be met by a reduced rate on real estate and personal property, which rate, with the other sources of available income, will yield a sufficient revenue to meet the liberal basis of expenditure of the past year, and that no department of the public service can suffer thereby.

I remain, Gentlemen, Your obedient servant,
 W. E. DAWSON.

To the Electors of Charlottetown;

GENTLEMEN—In compliance with the wishes of a large number of citizens and in response to the numerous signed requisition presented to me, I have decided to nominate for the Mayoralty at the forthcoming Election, and would take this opportunity of expressing my appreciation. If elected, I shall endeavor at all times to act impartially, giving justice to all, favors to none. It shall be my aim to see that the affairs of this City are conducted with the strictest economy, commensurate with its requirements and that the rate of taxation be kept down to the lowest figure consistent therewith.

I shall continue to stand up for the citizens' rights, and to represent the Roadway to Victoria Park and all other questions which may arise. I believe that all laws at present in force, or that may hereafter be enacted, should be faithfully carried out.

I am opposed to the expenditure of public moneys in defiance of the well understood wishes of the people.

As I publicly stated two years ago, I believe that good government in civic affairs can only be assured by having a change in representation from time to time, and having served four years as Councillor, I now respectfully solicit your votes for the office of Mayor.

I remain, Gentlemen, Your Obedient Servant,
 HORACE HASZARD.

To the Electors of Ward Five:

Having been asked by a large number of the electors of your Ward to nominate for the coming Council, I have decided to do so, and now beg to solicit your votes. I shall not be able to see you all, but having many years' experience in the Council, you may depend on me in the future to protect your interests as honestly as I have done in the past. I am Respectfully,
 THOS. MORRIS.

JUMPING CARS IN MOTION.
 The Average Train Performed by the "I haven't much hair on my head," said Supt. Mansfield of the Indianapolis and Vincennes. "I wish that little I have was up in my hair, and I would be quite this of course. Several of us were coming under the Union tracks at No. 20, the fast train of the Indianapolis division, was pulling out of the station, and we were standing. By the time the train reached that point it was going at a lively rate. As the train selected a coach and as the train whirled by caught the iron rod that extends under the side of the car and swung beneath the train in front of the tracks. Like acrobats they turned over the rod and rested their feet on the brakebeam, and as the train rolled away set it down for a short single mistake, a slip of the hand or the failure to place their feet on the brakebeam meant for them a horrible death. I was so frightened at a first sight of the train, that I fairly lost my breath. Experienced railroad men that I am, I would not have attempted such a feat for $10,000."

"It is a common trick," said Frank Lewis, formerly with the Union Pacific Railway Company. "I have had a good deal of experience with tramps, and I have seen them do it many times. Their lives depend on the cars. The old-time tramps used to walk over the country. Up-to-date tramps ride. I have seen them do it many times. The tramps being killed by the cars unless in a week. To become an expert car jumper is one of the requisites of a tramp of the first class."—Indianapolis News.

ANTARCTIC POSSIBILITIES.
 Explorer Borchgrevink Thinks There May be a Future for Commerce There.

The recent Antarctic expedition was a commercial one, and commercially it was a failure, because we did not find the right whale so valuable for its blubber. The Antarctic was fitted out for the hunt of that particular kind of whale; nevertheless I have no doubt that the commercial result of the expedition would have been much better had we worked under more favorable auspices.

I do not by any means consider the fact of our not having met with the right whale in this seas as conclusive proof of their non-existence in the bay of Victoria Land, where Ross saw them in the summer, and return north in the winter. It would seem incredible that a man of Sir James Ross's standing, supported by able scientific assistants and experienced whalers, should have made a grave error when he said that this valuable whale was to be found in large numbers in those southern latitudes.

The difference in the appearance of the blue whale, as we found it there, and the right whale, in the method of spouting, is so strong that the most casual observer could not easily be deceived. Very possibly, had we penetrated farther into the large open bay discovered by Ross in the vicinity of the volcano peaks Erebus and Terror, we too would have found the right whale in great numbers. We saw very many seals, but had not the appliances to take them.

As I remarked at the International Geographical Congress, we found few seals. They increased in number as we worked eastward, and seemed afraid of the land. All of the seals that we met on the shore showed much uneasiness, and especially made for the water, a fact which strengthened my belief in the existence of a large enemy of the seal on the continent. I do not doubt that the seals could be hunted in larger numbers at some places on the bay.

I consider the guano birds which we discovered of great commercial importance, and they ought to be protected by the attention of enterprising business men. The specimen which I brought back with me contains a large percentage of ammonium.

Furthermore, from the analysis of the specimen of rock which I brought back with me, the possible and probable presence of valuable minerals on the continent is proved, although the lava and the volcanic aspect of the coastline do not speak favorably for the presence of heavy metals near the surface.
