ITS DEGRADING INFLUENCE.

The following incident was related by the Rev. W. H. Stone, vicar of St. James', when speaking at the public hall, Beckinham, on the degrading influence which strong drink has upon women. This startling and deplorable incident fully illustrates how low and utterly devoid of all natural feeling the drink curse will bring upon a person.

A child suffering from diphtheria was taken to a hospital, where it was found necessary to perform the operation of tracheotomy. The silver tube was inserted in the child's throat, with satisfactory results, and the doctor had great hopes of the child's recovery.

The mother came to the hospital to see her child, and finding it was getting on so well was profuse in her thanks to the doctors and nurses, but pleaded hard that she might be allowed to take the child home and nurse it herself. The doctor, who was greatly interested in the case, gently requested her to have a little patience, and allow the child to stay about three days longer, when it would be more advanced in its recovery. But the mother was most persistent in her request, until at last the doctor reluctantly gave way, and after giving her very minute instructions, with regard to the treatment of his patient, sent them home, stating he should call himself the next day and see how they were getting on. In accordance with his promise, the next day he went to the house, and was shown into a room almost devoid of furniture, and which he at first thought was empty, until up in a corner he espied a little bed, on approaching which he was distressed to find his little friend.

On making enquiries for the mother, a woman lodging in an upper room, shouted down: "Oh, is it Mrs ——— you want? Why she took that 'ere silver tube out of the child's throat and pawned it for eighteen pence, and is out spending the money in drink." Surely this lamentable incident needs no comment, but should mightily move all to do their utmost to put down this demoralizing and accursed evil.

The will of a Bavarian woman provides that 50,000 francs be expended in the cause of universal peace.

DR. G. C. OSGOOD,

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DRINKING ICE WATER.

That cool, refreshing drinks in warm weether are delicious, is undeniable. That drinking ice water in copious draughts when a person is overheated is injurious not to say dangerous, is also undeniable But that the free drinking of water in some form in hot weather must be avoided, is deniable, and is one of the greatest popular errors extant. When a person is perspiring freely from every pore, a vast amount of water is drawn from the body, which must be re-supplied, or great injury is being done the physical health, and the foundation of some of the worst forms of kidney disease is being slowly but surely laid. So long as the water drank is freely carried through the system, and converted in its passage to the naturally acid reaction of the urine and perspiration, no danger can occur by deposits of urea or lime in the kidneys and bladder, because they remain perfectly in solution, and are carried out of the body instead of remaining in it. Do not drink ice cold water, but pure cool water. If you are attacked with cholera-morbus, summer complaint, diarrhœa or dysentery, do not resort to alcoholic stimulating drinks, but adopt the practice of taking daily, just before retiring, during July and August, one teaspoonful of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment in a little sweetened water, which will prevent all such attacks and ill effects from ice water. The Proprietors, I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., will send their new illustrated book, entitled "Treatment for Diseases," free to any person for the asking. 6i

AN INFANT PHENOMENON.

A real infant phenomenon keeps all the medical men and pedagogues of the good old town of Brunswick in a state of wonder and delight. The little son of a local butcher, a baby just two years old, can read with perfect ease anything written or printed in German or Latin characters. A few weeks ago three Brunswick doctors had the baby introduced to them, at the house of one of the learned gentlemen. The first thing the little one did when brought into the consulting room was to stand on its toes at the table, reading out from the books that were lying about. All that could be ascertained as to the why and wherefore of the uncanny accomplishment is that when the baby was 18 months old, and his grandmother took him out, he always immediately caught sight of the inscriptions over shops, and asked about them as only a small child can ask, till he had fathomed the meaning of the letters. It was the same at home; books and newspapers had greater fascination than lollipops and toys, and whatever the parents playfully told him he remembered, with the result that at the age of 2 years he reads with perfect ease. Apart from his accomplishment in reading, the boy's development is quite normal.—Westminster Gazette.
